Mississippi Possum:

Mississippi Possum Miska Miles, 1965 A fearful young possum flees when the Mississippi River overflows The Mississippi Encyclopedia Ted Ownby, Charles Reagan Wilson, Ann J. Abadie, Odie Lindsey, James G. Thomas Jr., 2017-05-25 Recipient of the 2018 Special Achievement Award from the Mississippi Institute of Arts and Letters and Recipient of a 2018 Heritage Award for Education from the Mississippi Heritage Trust The perfect book for every Mississippian who cares about the state this is a mammoth collaboration in which thirty subject editors suggested topics over seven hundred scholars wrote entries and countless individuals made suggestions The volume will appeal to anyone who wants to know more about Mississippi and the people who call it home The book will be especially helpful to students teachers and scholars researching writing about or otherwise discovering the state past and present The volume contains entries on every county every governor and numerous musicians writers artists and activists Each entry provides an authoritative but accessible introduction to the topic discussed The Mississippi Encyclopedia also features long essays on agriculture archaeology the civil rights movement the Civil War drama education the environment ethnicity fiction folklife foodways geography industry and industrial workers law medicine music myths and representations Native Americans nonfiction poetry politics and government the press religion social and economic history sports and visual art It includes solid clear information in a single volume offering with clarity and scholarship a breadth of topics unavailable anywhere else This book also includes many surprises readers can only find by browsing Fiddle Tunes from Mississippi Harry Bolick, Tony Russell, 2021-09-30 In 2015 University Press of Mississippi published Mississippi Fiddle Tunes and Songs from the 1930s by Harry Bolick and Stephen T Austin to critical acclaim and commercial success Roughly half of Mississippi's rich old time fiddle tradition was documented in that volume and Harry Bolick has spent the intervening years working on this book its sequel Beginning with Tony Russell's original mid 1970s fieldwork as a reference and later working with Russell Bolick located and transcribed all of the Mississippi 78 rpm string band recordings Some of the recording artists like the Leake County Revelers Hoyt Ming and His Pep Steppers and Narmour collectors field recordings and the musicians own home tape and disc recordings Taken together these two volumes represent a delightfully comprehensive survey of Mississippi's fiddle tunes American Roadkill Don H. Corrigan, 2021-10-25 Slaughtered along our highways roadkill may be observed regularly but aren't likely to be given much thought Research scientists animal rights activists roadkill artists writers ethicists and lyricists however are increasingly sounding the alarm They report that we are killing the very animals we love and are driving many of them to the brink of extinction Detailing the death and destruction of mammals reptiles amphibians and insect pollinators this study examines the ways in which we are thus jeopardizing our own futures Beginning in the Model T era biologists counted the common carnage of the time cottontails woodchucks and squirrels mostly That record keeping continues today Beyond the bleak statistics zoologists are rerouting migratory paths of animals and are advocating for cat and dog companions This book illuminates both our successes and failures in keeping animals out of harm's way and what those efforts reflect about ourselves and our capacity to care enough to alter the road ahead The Possum Hunter S. Earl Wilson III, 2019-02-08 This is a tale of life defining everything that we are and hope to become such as finding love education success and security by overcoming adversities to find happiness It begins with simple people who find love in the remote areas of Mississippi while hunting raccoons together They are simple people with simple lives doing simple things We all lust we hunger we suffer we enjoy At times we are deceived Sometimes we learn the truth that is often concealed but is revealed to us by someone of higher intellect We love we play we fight and we rescue and are rescued Regardless of others opinions we eat what we like We hunt even if it is nothing more than a bargain at a store We are all victims of in flagrante delicto the act of doing something wrong especially like having illicit sex You will perhaps find your own self while reading this story

Traditional Anglo-American Folk Music Norm Cohen, 2015-12-22 Originally published in 1994 Filling a gap in the sound recordings of traditional Anglo American folk music this volume covers both vocal and instrumental material from the 1920s to the 1990s The listings have also been limited to performers native to the tradition rather than revival performers The album selection is grouped into field recordings and commercial pre 1942 recordings with subdivisions into individual recordings or anthologies The discography not only reflects its author's in depth knowledge of Anglo American folk music's historical development but charts a valuable step forward in the evaluation as well as select listing of available sound recordings Country Nick Tosches, 1996-08-22 Celebrating the dark origins of our most American music Country reveals a wild shadowland of history that encompasses blackface minstrels and yodeling cowboys honky tonk hell and rockabilly heaven medieval myth and musical miscegenation sex drugs murder and rays of fierce illumination on Elvis Jerry Lee Lewis and others famous and forgotten whose demonology is America's own Profusely and superbly illustrated Country stands as one of the most brilliant explorations of American musical culture ever written Mississippi John Hurt Philip R. Ratcliffe, 2011-06-06 Winner Best History 2012 Association for Recorded Sound Collections Award for Excellence in Historical Recorded Sound Research When Mississippi John Hurt 1892-1966 was rediscovered by blues revivalists in 1963 his musicianship and recordings transformed popular notions of prewar country blues At seventy one he moved to Washington D C from Avalon Mississippi and became a live wire connection to a powerful authentic past His intricate and lively style made him the most sought after musician among the many talents the revival brought to light Mississippi John Hurt provides this legendary creator's life story for the first time Biographer Philip Ratcliffe traces Hurt's roots to the moment his mother Mary Jane McCain and his father Isom Hurt were freed from slavery Anecdotes from Hurt's childhood and teenage years include the destiny making moment when his mother purchased his first guitar for 1.50 when he was only nine years old Stories from his neighbors and friends from both of his wives and from his extended family round out the community picture of Avalon US census records Hurt's first marriage record in 1916 images of his first autographed LP record and excerpts from personal letters written in his own hand provide treasures for fans Ratcliffe details Hurt's musical influences and the origins of his style and repertoire The author also relates numerous stories from the time of his success drawing on published sources and many hours of interviews with people who knew Hurt well including the late Jerry Ricks Pat Sky Stefan Grossman and Max Ochs Dick Spottswood and the late Mike Stewart In addition some of the last photographs taken of the legendary musician are featured for the first time in Mississippi John Hurt

Description and analysis of a folk tradition that long has been a rite of passage for children and adolescents. In-depth discussion of 19 songs, brief mention of 1,400 others, 65 historic photographs. American Epic Bernard MacMahon, Allison McGourty, Elijah Wald, 2017-05-02. In the 1920s, as radio took over the pop music business, record companies were forced to leave their studios in major cities in search of new styles and markets. The recordings they made of the ethnic groups of America helped democratize the nation and gave a voice to all its people: a woman picking cotton in Mississippi, a coal miner in Virginia, or a tobacco farmer in Tennessee could have his or her thoughts and feelings heard on records played in living rooms across the country. These records blended the intertwining strands of Europe, Africa, the Pacific Islands, and the Americas and formed the bedrock for modern music as we know it. Today, virtually no documentation of these extraordinary events survives, and nearly 90 percent of the music masters have been destroyed. Bernard MacMahon and Allison McGourty spent years traveling around the U.S. on a mission to rescue this history, interviewing hundreds of families and scouring attics and basements, collecting vintage film footage and hundreds of photographs that haven't been seen in nearly a century. This written account continues the journey of the PBS television series and features additional stories, photographs, and artwork. It also contains contributions from many of the musicians who participated, including Taj Mahal, Nas, Willie Nelson, and Steve Martin, plus a behind-the-scenes look at the incredible adventure across America in search of these recordings and eyewitness accounts.
