Mit Liv Som Barnesoldat I Uganda:

Mit liv som barnesoldat i Uganda China Keitetsi, 2002 African Women Writing Resistance Jennifer Browdy de Hernandez, Pauline Dongala, Omotayo Jolaosho, Anne Serafin, 2010-08-19 African Women Writing Resistance is the first transnational anthology to focus on women's strategies of resistance to the challenges they face in Africa today. The anthology brings together personal narratives, testimony, interviews, short stories, poetry, performance scripts, folktales, and lyrics. Thematically organized, it presents women's writing on such issues as intertribal and interethnic conflicts, the degradation of the environment, polygamy, domestic abuse, the controversial traditional practice of female genital cutting, Sharia law, intergenerational tensions, and emigration and exile. Contributors include internationally recognized authors and activists such as Wangari Maathai and Nawal El Saadawi, as well as a host of vibrant new voices from all over the African continent and from the African diaspora. Interdisciplinary in scope, this collection provides an excellent introduction to contemporary African women's literature and highlights social issues that are particular to Africa but are also of worldwide concern. It is an essential reference for students of African studies, world literature, anthropology, cultural studies, postcolonial studies, and women's studies. A Choice Outstanding Academic Book, Outstanding Book selected by the Public Library Association, Best Books for High Schools, Best Books for Special Interests, and Best Books for Professional Use selected by the American Association of School Libraries.

War Isn't Hell, It's Entertainment Fabian Virchow, Debra White-Stanley, 2009-02-27 Real war is a cruel theater of death, yet it is also an exciting narrative exploited for national political and commercial purposes and turned into numerous films, television shows, computer games, news stories, and reenactment plays. These essays examine the relationship between war, visual media, and entertainment from a number of academic perspectives. Key topics include how war is used as an imaginary site to stage dramas, how boundaries between war, media, and entertainment dissolve as new media alters the formal qualities of representation, how entertainment is used to engage audiences, and what effect products of war and entertainment have on consumers of popular culture.

Writing That Breaks Stones Joya Uraizee, 2020-10-01 Writing That Breaks Stones: African Child Soldier Narratives is a critical examination of six memoirs and six novels written by and about young adults from Africa who were once child soldiers. It analyzes not only how such narratives document the human rights violations experienced by these former child soldiers but also how they connect and disconnect from their readers in the global public sphere. It draws on existing literary scholarship about novels and memoirs as well as on the fieldwork conducted by social scientists about African children in combat situations. Writing That Breaks Stones groups the twelve narratives into categories and analyzes each segment, comparing individually written memoirs with those written collaboratively and novels whose narratives are fragmented with those that depict surreal landscapes of misery. It concludes that the memoirs focus on a lone individual's struggles in a hostile environment and use repetition, logical contradictions, narrative breaks, and reversals of binaries in order to tell their stories.

By contrast the novels use narrative ambiguity circularity fragmentation and notions of dystopia in ways that call attention to the child soldiers communities and environments All twelve narratives depict the child soldier s agency and culpability somewhat ambiguously effectively reflecting the ethical dilemmas of African children in combat Children at Work Anne Kielland,Maurizia C. Child Victim Soldier Dunson, Donald H.,2014-04-10 he rebel group in Uganda known as the Lords Resistance Army has abducted children boys and girls to serve as soldiers and to provide sexual services Torn from their families in the dead of night and forced to carry out terrible acts including murdering family members and other children they bear terrifying scars on their bodies minds and souls Fr Dunson lets their stories be heard often in their own voices telling of their hurts and needs but also of their hopes for the future His text accompanied by powerful photographs also reflects on the presence of evil in the world and the need for healing First Kill Your Family Peter H Eichstaedt,2009-02 Told through the voices of those who have suffered this illuminating expose examines how a forgotten region of one of Africa's most promising nations Uganda dubbed the pearl of Africa by Winston Churchill has been systematically destroyed by a bloody senseless and seemingly endless war that has gone largely unnoticed by the rest of the world For the past 20 years the Lord's Resistance Army has ravaged northern Uganda and has been led by the reclusive Joseph Kony a former witch doctor and self-professed spirit medium Through the large scale abduction and manipulation of children Kony transformed his army into an efficient killing machine that has murdered nearly 100 000 and displaced two million people Kony utilized the society's pervasive belief in witchcraft to instill cultlike convictions in his fighters This insightful analysis delves into the war's foundations and argues that much like Rwanda's genocide international intervention is needed to stop Africa's virulent cycle of violence
