Modern Movements In European Philosophy Phenomenology Critical Theory Structuralism:

Modern Movements in European Philosophy Richard Kearney, 1996 Modern Movements in European Philosophy Richard Kearney, 1986 Modern Movements in European Philosophy Richard Kearney, 1995-01-15 In this now classic textbook Richard Kearney surveys the work of nineteen of this century's most influential European thinkers The second edition has a new chapter devoted to Julia Kristeva whose work in the fields of semiotics and psychoanalytic theory has made a significant contribution to recent continental thought Life with Durham Cathedral Arran J. Calvert, 2023-01-13 An ethnographic account of daily life in Durham Cathedral this book examines the processes of negotiation and change between a community and their cathedral Focusing on the role of sound light time space building and dwelling the author argues that Durham Cathedral is much more than just a backdrop to everyday life Rather through the constant processes of negotiation and change it is a fully engaged participant in the daily lives of those who use Durham Cathedral As such it is not a place in which life happens but a place with which life happens Images on the Page Sanda Miller, 2021-08-26 Fashion imagery has existed for hundreds of years and yet the methods used by scholars to understand it have remained mostly historical and descriptive The belief informing these approaches may be that fashion imagery is designed for one purpose to depict a garment and how to wear it In this interdisciplinary book Sanda Miller suggests a radical alternative to these well practiced approaches proposing that fashion imagery has stories to tell and meanings to uncover The methodology she has developed is an iconography of fashion imagery based on the same theory which has been key to the History of Art for centuries Applying Panofsky's theory of iconography to illustrations from books magazines and fashion plates as well as fashion photography and even live fashion events Miller uncovers three levels of meaning descriptive secondary or conventional and tertiary or symbolic In doing so she answers questions such as who is the model what did people wear and why and how did people live She proves that fashion imagery far from being purely descriptive is ripe with meaning and can be used to shed light on society class culture and the history of dress Language and Emotion. Volume 1 Gesine Lenore Schiewer, Jeanette Altarriba, Bee Chin Ng, 2022-11-07 The Handbook consists of four major sections Each section is introduced by a main article Theories of Emotion General Aspects Perspectives in Communication Theory Semiotics and Linguistics Perspectives on Language and Emotion in Cultural Studies Interdisciplinary and Applied Perspectives The first section presents interdisciplinary emotion theories relevant for the field of language and communication research including the history of emotion research The second section focuses on the full range of emotion related aspects in linguistics semiotics and communication theories The next section focuses on cultural studies and language and emotion emotions in arts and literature as well as research on emotion in literary studies and media and emotion The final section covers different domains social practices and applications such as society policy diplomacy economics and business communication religion and emotional language the domain of affective computing in human machine interaction and language and emotion research for language education Overall this Handbook represents a comprehensive overview in a rich diverse compendium never before published in this particular domain

What Is Cultural Translation? Sarah Maitland, 2017-02-09

What Is Cultural Translation In this book Sarah Maitland uncovers processes of negotiation and adaptation closely associated with the translation of languages behind the cultural phenomena of everyday life For globalized societies confronted increasingly with the presence of difference in all its forms translation has become both a metaphor for thoughtful encounter and a touchstone act for what we see do and say and who we are Drawing on examples from across cultural domains theatre film TV and literature this work illuminates the elusive concept of cultural translation Focusing on the built environment current affairs international relations and online media this book arrives at a view of translation in its broadest sense It is a means for decoding how we shape the cultural realm and serves as a vehicle for new ways of seeing and being that question the received ideas that structure the communities in which we live Written in a clear and engaging style this is the first book length study of cultural translation It builds a powerful case for expanding the remit of translation to cover the experience of living and working in a globalized multicultural world and is of interest to all involved in the academic study of representation and contestation in contemporary cultural practice

The Manager's Tale Patrick Reedy, 2016-03-03

What does being a manager mean to those who do managerial work and why has becoming a manager become so attractive for so many people How does pursuing a managerial career fit with the wider project of constructing a life and a sense of self This illuminating and thoughtful book answers these questions by considering the extended life histories of ten managers allowing their own voices to be heard The Manager's Tale uses the ideas of Heidegger Sartre and Ricoeur to show that who a person is can be seen as a narrative accomplishment a result of the stories we tell ourselves and others Within this framework the manager's stories are revealed highlighting the complex ways in which dominant expectations of what it means to be a successful individual in the modern world influences what sort of person we strive to be

Is Law Computable? Simon Deakin, Christopher Markou, 2020-11-26 What does computable law mean for the autonomy authority and legitimacy of the legal system Are we witnessing a shift from Rule of Law to a new Rule of Technology Should we even build these things in the first place This unique volume collects original papers by a group of leading international scholars to address some of the fascinating questions raised by the encroachment of Artificial Intelligence AI into more aspects of legal process administration and culture Weighing near term benefits against the longer term and potentially path dependent implications of replacing human legal authority with computational systems this volume pushes back against the more uncritical accounts of AI in law and the eagerness of scholars governments and LegalTech developers to overlook the more fundamental and perhaps bigger picture ramifications of computable law With contributions by Simon Deakin Christopher Markou Mireille Hildebrandt Roger Brownsword Sylvie Delacroix Lyria Bennet Moses Ryan Abbott Jennifer Cobbe Lily Hands John Morison Alex Sarch and Dilan Thampapillai as well as a foreword from Frank Pasquale

Lars von Trier's Cinema Rebecca Ver Straten-McSparran, 2021-11-11 This book offers a bold and dynamic examination of Lars von Trier's cinema by interweaving philosophy and theology with close attention to aesthetics through style and narrative It explores the prophetic voice of von Trier's films juxtaposing them with Ezekiel's prophecy and Ricoeur's symbols of evil myth and hermeneutics of revelation The films of Lars von Trier are categorized as extreme cinema inducing trauma and emotional rupture rarely paralleled while challenging audiences to respond in new ways This volume argues that the spiritual biblical content of the films holds a key to understanding von Trier's oeuvre of excess Spiritual conflict is the mechanism that unpacks the films notorious excess with explosive centrifugal force By confronting the spectator with spiritual conflict through evil von Trier's films truthfully and prophetically expose the spectator's complicity in personal and structural evil forcing self examination through theological themes analogous to the prophetic voice of the transgressive Hebrew prophet Ezekiel his prophecy and its form of delivery Placed in context with the prophetic voices of Dante Milton Dostoyevsky O'Connor and Tarkovsky this volume offers a theoretical framework beyond von Trier It will be of great interest to scholars in film studies film and philosophy film and theology

Embodiment, Relation, Community Garnet C. Butchart, 2019-05-31 In this volume Garnet C Butchart shows how human communication can be understood as embodied relations and not merely as a mechanical process of transmission Expanding on contemporary philosophies of speech and language self and other and community and immunity this book challenges many common assumptions constructs and problems of communication theory while offering compelling new resources for future study Human communication has long been characterized as a problem of transmitting information or the outward sharing of inner thought through mediated channels of exchange Butchart questions that model and the various theories to which it gives rise Drawing from the work of Giorgio Agamben Roberto Esposito Jean Luc Nancy and Jacques Lacan thinkers who along with Martin Heidegger and Michel Foucault have critiqued the modern notion of a rational subject Butchart shows that the subject is shaped by language rather than preformed and that humans embody and not just use the signs and contexts of interaction that form what he calls a communication community Accessibly written and engagingly researched Embodiment Relation Community is relevant for researchers and advanced students of communication cultural studies translation and rhetorical studies especially those who work with a humanistic or interpretive paradigm

Sense of the Possible L. Callid Keefe-Perry, 2023-03-16 Sense of the Possible is for those interested in learning about the intersection of Christian theology and imagination Written from the assumption that imagination is deeply connected to the Christian work for liberation and human flourishing this book is an energizing introduction to the ways in which theologians have thought about the powerful human capacity to envision a future that has not yet come Containing perspectives from scripture theology philosophy and congregational studies this text is an excellent way to explore how it is that imagination can be part of a faithful Christian life Each chapter comes with recommended readings and discussion questions that can be used in churches or classrooms

The Dialectics of Creation Martin G. Poulson, 2014-03-13 This book investigates the philosophical components of Christian faith in creation by analyzing the distinction and the relation between creation and its Creator The writings of Edward Schillebeeckx and David Burrell supply a terminology of distinction and relation that shapes the discourse following in the footsteps of Aquinas Poulson elucidates the relational dialectic in the thought of Schillebeeckx as a way of thinking about the Creation and offers a helpful comparison with the thought of David Burrell Relational dialectic is an organizing principle not only of Schillebeeckx's account of creation but of his philosophical theology more generally It can operate as a hermeneutic for his material on praxis and humanism in a way that resolves some problems noted by other Schillebeeckx scholars Poulson's interpretation of Schillebeeckx enriches current approaches to this thinker and offers a significant contribution to thinking on the doctrine of Creation and issues surrounding the ontological distinction which is of major concern in philosophical theology today

Transforming Practice Elaine

Graham,2002-03-21 Concentrated Creation Rhona Lewis,2023-01-26 This book widens the understanding of salvation from a narrow focus on the crucifixion of Jesus Christ to one which is inseparable from creation theology In this analysis of the Thomist and Irenaean sources of Edward Schillebeeckx s creation faith God s absolute saving presence to humanity is found to be intrinsic to his creative action This becomes most explicit in God s humanity in the life death and resurrection of Jesus Christ Lewis argues that Jesus is both God s invitation to humanity and is himself the perfect human response to God Because of this Jesus followers are called to be engaged in God s saving action by working to remove suffering from people and to build a better world in which all may flourish Schillebeeckx s theology is sometimes thought to divide into two disconnected halves a pre and post Vatican II version The way in which Schillebeeckx s Christological soteriology has developed over his theological career before and after Vatican II is here examined using the Annales model of continuity and change This book finds that Schillebeeckx both breaks with the language of Chalcedon while remaining adamantly faithful to the truth which it expresses The final chapters discover how Schillebeeckx s ideas and methods are crucially relevant in an analysis of contemporary social suffering in Ciudad Ju rez by Nancy Pineda Madrid and in the project of the Catholic Dialogue School in Flanders by Lieven Boeve A History of the Irish Novel Derek Hand,2011-03-10 Derek Hand s A History of the Irish Novel is a major work of criticism on some of the greatest and most globally recognisable writers of the novel form Writers such as Laurence Sterne James Joyce Elizabeth Bowen Samuel Beckett and John McGahern have demonstrated the extraordinary intellectual range thematic complexity and stylistic innovation of Irish fiction Derek Hand provides a remarkably detailed picture of the Irish novel s emergence in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries He shows the story of the genre is the story of Ireland s troubled relationship to modernisation The first critical synthesis of the Irish novel from the seventeenth century to the present day this is a major book for the field and the first to thematically theoretically and contextually chart its development It is an essential entertaining and highly original guide to the history of the Irish novel Dictionary of Visual Discourse Barry Sandywell,2016-04-22 This substantial and ambitious dictionary explores the languages and cultures of visual studies It provides the basis for understanding the foundations and motivations of current theoretical and academic discourse as well as the different forms of visual culture that have come to organize everyday life The book is firmly placed in the context of the visual turn in contemporary thought It has been designed as an interdisciplinary or transdisciplinary introduction to the vocabularies and grammars of visuality that inform thinking in the arts and humanities today It also offers insight into the philosophical frameworks which underpin the field of visual culture A central theme that runs throughout the entries is the task of moving away from a narrow understanding of visuality inherited from traditional philosophy toward a richer cultural and multi sensorial philosophy of concrete experience The dictionary incorporates intertextual links that encourage readers to explore connections between major themes theories and key figures in the field In addition the author s introduction provides a comprehensive and critical introduction which documents the significance of the visual turn in contemporary theory and culture. It is accompanied by an extensive bibliography and further reading list. As both a substantive academic contribution to this growing field and a useful reference tool, this book offers a theoretical introduction to the many languages of visual discourse. It will be essential reading for graduate students and scholars in visual studies, the sociology of visual culture, cultural and media studies, philosophy, art history, and theory, design, film, and communication studies.

Architecture, Ethics, and the Personhood of Place Gregory Caicco, 2007. Architecture and environmental design are among the last professional fields to develop a sustained and nuanced discussion concerning ethics. Hemmed in by politics and powerful clients on one side and the often unscrupulous practices of the construction industry on the other, environmental designers have been traditionally reluctant to address ethical issues head on. And yet the rapid urbanization of the world's population continues to swell into new megacities, each less healthy, welcoming, secure, or environmentally sustainable than the next. Green, carbon-reduced, and sustainable building practices are important ways architects have recently responded to the symptoms of the crisis, but are these efforts really addressing the core issues? Taking the Dine Navajo Hogan Song, a song used to protect and nourish the personhood of newly constructed dwellings as their inspiration, the architects, philosophers, poets, and other contemporary scholars contributing to this volume demonstrate that a deeper, more radical change in our relationship to the built world needs to occur. While offering a careful critique of modernist, corporate, or techno-enthralled design practices, these essays investigate an alternative relational ecology whose wisdom draws from ancient and often marginalized voices, if not the whisperings of the earth itself. Contributors include Richard Kearney, Alberto Perez Gomez, Juhani Pallasmaa, Karsten Harries, Edward Casey, Susan Stewart, David Abram, Stacy Alaimo, Jace and Laura Weaver, Philip Sheldrake, and Sebnem Yucel Young.
