Savage Mind:

The Savage Mind Claude Lvi-strauss,1966 Discusses the significance of totemism among primitive peoples and its interpretation by anthropologists and philosophies The Savage Mind Claude Lévi-Strauss,1968 The Domestication of the Savage Mind Jack Goody,1977-11-24 Professor Goody s research in West Africa resulted in finding an alternative way of thinking about traditional societies Mind ,1877 A quarterly review of philosophy The Savage Mind Claude Levi-Strauss,2013 Sartre, Imagination and Dialectical Reason Austin Hayden Smidt,2019-06-28 There are perpetual debates about the extent of freedom in politics Are we free to choose Are we overdetermined by our material conditions Some hybrid between the two What is more how are we to comprehend ourselves as creators of history if freedom itself is a problematic concept And what would it mean if self comprehension were foreclosed by this problematic In this text Austin Hayden Smidt analyzes an oft overlooked text by Jean Paul Sartre in order to ground a logical framework for exploring this paradox In Critique of Dialectical Reason Sartre sought to develop an historical and structural heuristic one that would enable future theorists and activists alike to assess the pressing problems facing the various milieux of capitalist life Through this heuristic his intent was to develop an orientation enabling humans to transform their world in their perpetual creation of themselves and vice versa However the stylistic difficulties of the text as well as a general agreement among previous interpreters has prevented the richness of the investigation from taking root This book sets a new course and invites further collaboration as together we create society as a work of art Theory of the Moral Life John Dewey,1996 Culture in Mind Bradd Shore,1998-10-29 Despite the recognized importance of cultural diversity in understanding the modern world the emerging science of cognitive psychology has relied far more on experimental psychology neurobiology and computer science than on cultural anthropology for its models of how we think In this exciting new book anthropologist Bradd Shore has created the first study linking multi culturalism to cognitive psychology exploring the complex relationship between culture in public institutions and in mental representations In so doing he answers in a completely new way the age old question of whether humans are basically the same psychologically independent of cultures or basically diverse because of cultural differences The first half of the book emphasizes cultural models from Australian Aboriginal rituals and Samoan comedy skits to more familiar terrain including a study of baseball as a cultural model for Americans Along the way the author sheds new and novel light on many familiar institutions from educational curricula and shopping malls to modular furniture and cyberpunk fiction These observations are then linked to theoretical developments in linguistics semiotics and neuroscience creating a bold new approach to understanding the role of culture in everyday meaning making The author argues that culture must be considered an intrinsic component of the human mind to a degree that most psychologists and even many anthropologists have not recognized This new position of cultural models will make absorbing reading for psychologists anthropologists linguists and philosophers and to anyone interested in the issues of cultural diversity

If Not Critical Eric Griffiths,2018-03-16 Eric Griffiths delivered hundreds of lectures at the Faculty of English in Cambridge yet his lectures were never turned into books If Not Critical brings together ten lectures published here for the first time that offer a representative selection of Dr Griffiths original fully argued and richly exemplified contributions to literary criticism and literary history Crammed into his writing are decades of reading in several languages and across most genres and literary periods In these lectures he pursues the blind spots not only of other people s arguments but of the whole business of criticism in general with what he calls its over concentration on a narrow range of examples such over concentration warps our thinking Implicit and explicit throughout his work is the argument that an appropriately wide range of instances is essential to making progress in conceptualisation that what we need in order to do better thinking is a keener attention to a greater variety of examples Such examples include in these lectures the works of Shakespeare Dante Kafka Beckett Racine Rabelais T S Eliot and Jonathan Swift Code Bernard Dionysius Geoghegan,2022-12-09 In Code Bernard Dionysius Geoghegan reconstructs how Progressive Era technocracy as well as crises of industrial democracy and colonialism shaped early accounts of cybernetics and digital media by theorists including Norbert Wiener Warren Weaver Margaret Mead Gregory Bateson Claude Lévi Strauss Roman Jakobson Jacques Lacan Roland Barthes and Luce Irigaray His analysis casts light on how media practical research forged common epistemic cause in programs that stretched from 1930s interwar computing at MIT and eugenics to the proliferation of seminars and laboratories in 1960s Paris This mobilization ushered forth new fields of study such as structural anthropology family therapy and literary semiology while forming enduring intellectual affinities between the humanities and informatics With Code Geoghegan offers a new history of French theory and the digital humanities as transcontinental and political endeavors linking interwar colonial ethnography in Dutch Bali to French sciences in the throes of Cold War era decolonization and modernization "Women and Things, 1750-1950 " Maureen Daly Goggin,2017-07-05 In contrast to much current scholarship on women and material culture which focuses primarily on women as consumers this essay collection provides case studies of women who produced material objects The essays collected here make an original contribution to material culture studies by focusing on women s social practices in relation to material culture The essays as a whole are concerned with women's complex and active engagement with material culture in the various stages of the material object's life cycle from design and production to consumption use and redeployment Also theorized and described are the ways in which women engaged in meaning making identity formation and commemoration through their manipulation of materials and techniques ranging from taxidermy and shell work to collecting autographs and making scrapbooks This volume takes as its object of investigation the overlooked and often despised categories of women's decorative and craft activities as sites of important cultural and social work This volume is interdisciplinary with essays by art historians social historians literary critics rhetoricians and museum curators The scope of the volume is international with essays on eighteenth century German silhouettes Australian aboriginal ritual practices Brittany mourning rites and Soviet era recipes that provide a comparative framework for the majority of essays which focus on British and North American women who lived and worked in the long nineteenth century This volume will appeal to a broad range of students and scholars in women's history art history cultural studies museum studies anthropology cultural and social history literature rhetoric and material culture studies John Dewey and Daoist Thought Jim

Behuniak,2019-07-24 Proposes an intra cultural philosophy based on John Dewey's cultural turn and promotes Daoist thought as a resource that can help to reconstruct outmoded assumptions that continue to shape how we currently think In this timely and original work Dewey's late period cultural turn is recovered and intra cultural philosophy proposed as its next logical step a step beyond what is commonly known as comparative philosophy The first of two volumes John Dewey and Daoist Thought argues that early Chinese thought is poised to join forces with Dewey in meeting our most urgent cultural needs namely helping us to correct our outdated Greek medieval assumptions especially where these result in pre Darwinian inferences about the world Relying on the latest research in both Chinese and American philosophies Jim Behuniak establishes specific philosophical relationships between Dewey's ideas and early Daoist thought suggesting how together they can assist us in getting our thinking back in gear with the world as it is currently known through the biological physical and cognitive sciences Topics covered include the organization of organic form teleology cosmology knowledge the body and technology thus engaging Dewey with themes generally associated with Daoist thought Volume one works to establish Chinese natural philosophy as an empirical framework in which to consider cultural level phenomena in volume two Moving beyond the limits of comparative philosophy Behuniak's intra cultural approach refuses to separate past and present or to separate various philosophical traditions into self enclosed compartments Such an approach has been a long time coming Like a good Platonic dialogue these volumes place important traditions into conversations that enhance thinking about today's issues In terms of depth and thoroughness the scope of learning in both American and Chinese philosophies is breathtaking Raymond Boisvert Professor Emeritus of Philosophy Siena College Writing Between the Lines Douglas Flemons,2001-12 An accessible guide for writers in the social sciences Author Douglas Flemons walks readers through the process of researching organizing creating and editing papers theses and dissertations The guiding premise here is that keeping track of relationships between words sentences and paragraphs will enable writers to compose clear thoughtful aesthetic prose

Value Theory in Philosophy and Social Science (RLE Social Theory) James B. Wilbur, 2014-08-13 The annual Conferences on Value Inquiry bring together philosophers scientists and humanists to discuss the many facets of the problem of value in the experience of the individual and in contemporary society One of the criteria in choosing papers for the Conference is the ability to stimulate discussion and clarification The papers in the present volumes show deep concern with the problems and responsibilities in making choices of value

Interrogating the Language of "Self" and "Other" in the History of Modern Christian Mission Man-Hei Yip, 2020-08-05 This book offers a critical analysis of the use of language in mission studies Language and Christian missionary activity intersect in complicated ways to objectify the other in cross cultural situations Rethinking missiological language is both urgent and necessary to subvert narratives that continue to fetishize the other as cultural stereotypes The project takes a step forward to reconceptualize otherness as gift and such an affirmation should create a pathway for human flourishing and furthermore open new avenues for missiological exploration to address issues arising from a world dominated by bigoted discourses lies and hate speech

Culture. A Philosophical Perspective Martine Lejeune, 2016-12-12 This book attempts to grant a clear insight into the problem of culture Thinking about culture we are faced with the inevitable and apparently insuperable problem of how to study culture in the absence of a consensual definition of this notion For several reasons the anthropologists Claude Lévi Strauss and Clifford Geertz provide an ideal starting point for tackling this issue Firstly both graduated in philosophy before turning to anthropology Secondly the linguistic model based approach they initiated is founded on the general belief that language is a feature which all men have in common And thirdly when taken together the conclusions reached by Lévi Strauss and Geertz which contradict one another yield a clear view on the conceptual complexity of culture
