Sawdust And Tinsel:

Sawdust and tinsel Ingmar Bergman, 2007 Ingmar Bergman Richard Lippe, Robin Wood, 2012-12-15 An expanded version of Robin Wood's influential study of Ingmar Bergman including more recent essays on the director At a time when few reviewers and critics were taking the study of film seriously Robin Wood released a careful and thoroughly cinematic commentary on Ingmar Bergman's films that demonstrated the potential of film analysis in a nascent scholarly field The original Ingmar Bergman influenced a generation of film scholars and cineastes after its publication in 1969 and remains one of the most important volumes on the director This new edition of Ingmar Bergman edited by film scholar Barry Keith Grant contains all of Wood's original text plus four later pieces on the director by Wood that were intended for a new volume that was not completed before Wood's death in 2010 In analyzing a selection of Bergman's films Wood makes a compelling case for the logic of the filmmaker's development while still respecting and indicating the distinctiveness of his individual films Wood's emphasis on questions of value What makes a work important How does it address our lives informed his entire career and serve as the basis for many of these chapters In the added material for this new edition Wood considers three important films Bergman made after the book was first published Cries and Whispers Fanny and Alexander and From the Life of the Marionettes and also includes significant reassessment of Persona These pieces provocatively suggest the more political directions Wood might have taken had he been able to produce Ingmar Bergman Revisited as he had planned to do before his death In its day Ingmar Bergman was one of the most important volumes on the Swedish director published in English and it remains compelling today despite the multitude of books to appear on the director since Film scholars and fans of Bergman's work will enjoy this updated volume Ingmar Bergman Birgitta Steene, 2005 Exhaustive compendium by one of the world's foremost experts on the Swedish master covers Bergman's life his cultural background his entire artistic career and extensive annotated bibliographies of interviews and critical writings on Bergman Ingmar Bergman Erik Hedling, 2021-09-14 This unique collection focuses on the work of legendary Swedish filmmaker Ingmar Bergman Written in the wake of the centenary of Bergman's birth in 2018 the volume aims to combine new approaches to Bergman's films and writings with more traditional analyses Established themes such as Bergman's interest in philosophy and psychology are addressed but also less familiar topics notably his relationship with Hollywood and his elaborate use of film music and autobiographical writing that characterised his later work There are new analyses of aspects of Bergman's most famous films including Smiles of a Summer Night and Fanny and Alexander but also insightful readings of lesser known works such as Saraband and Sawdust and Tinsel Ingmar Bergman Geoffrey Macnab, 2009-06-17 Ingmar Bergman was the last and arguably the greatest of the old style European auteurs and his influence across all areas of contemporary cinema has continued to be considerable since his death in July 2007 Drawing on interviews with collaborators and original research this book puts Bergman's career into the context of his life and offers a new and revealing portrait of this great filmmaker

Geoffrey Macnab explores the often painfully autobiographical nature of his work while also looking in detail at Bergman as a craftsman. He considers Bergman's working relationship with his actors especially the actresses he helped make into international stars, his passion for theatre, literature and classical music and his obsession with death and cruelty. The book traces his traumatic childhood, asking how his experiences growing up as the son of a strict Lutheran pastor fed into his later writing and filmmaking. It also looks at his political life, chronicling his teenage flirtation with Nazism, his bitter spat in the mid 70s with the Swedish authorities over his tax affairs and his often vexed relationship with his fellow Swedes. Geoffrey Macnab also considers how Bergman's work was financed and distributed, his relationship with US agents and how close he came to working in Hollywood. When I was 10 years old I received my first rattling film projector with its chimney and lamp which went round and round and round. I found it both mystifying and fascinating. Ingmar Bergman God and the Devil Peter Cowie, 2023-10-31 Peter Cowie's book chronicles the life and the 60 year film and stage career of Bergman as he wrestles with themes of love, sex and betrayal, with the figure of Death hovering overhead. Blending biographical information with critical comment, Cowie presents a man whose life and work were intimately fused. Bergman's films stand alone as beacons in film history. Paisley Livingston, 2019-06-30 Through close readings of Bergman's famous and lesser known films as well as through study of his early stage productions, untranslated essays, interviews and scripts, Paisley Livingston elucidates Bergman's rigorous critique of the violence, persecution and deceit in modern culture. Bergman's focal point is the dilemma of the artist in society, the nature and value of his exchanges with the public. He envisions modern art in terms of its relation to a moribund tradition in its dependence on destructive and sterile ritual patterns art has lost the power to influence the development of our lives. Bergman criticizes the vestiges of cult values in both popular and elite forms of art, from the idolatry of the star system to the aggressive primitivism of certain avant garde experiments. Linking his innovations in film form to an investigation of the processes of social interaction, Bergman is able to confront the artist's relation to both the order and the disorder of culture.

Have You Seen? David Thomson, 2008 Including masterpieces, oddities, guilty pleasures and classics with just a few disasters. Cover Sonatas, Screams, and Silence Alexis Luko, 2015-08-11 Sonatas, Screams and Silence: Music and Sound in the Films of Ingmar Bergman is the first musical examination of Bergman's style as an auteur filmmaker. It provides a comprehensive examination of all three aspects: music, sound effects, and voice of Bergman's signature soundtrack style. Through examinations of Bergman's biographical links to music, the role of music, sound effects, silence, and voice, and Bergman's working methods with sound technicians, mixers, and editors, this book argues that Bergman's soundtracks are as superbly developed as his psychological narratives and breathtaking cinematography. Interdisciplinary in nature, this book bridges the fields of music, sound, and film. Lance Comfort Brian McFarlane, 2019-01-04 In the years between 1941 and 1965, Lance Comfort made some of the most entertaining films in Britain. There was the striking success of his second feature as director, Hatter's Castle (1941), and when he returned to this melodramatic vein in 1945, he made a series of highly proficient and enjoyable studies in obsession, including Bedelia (1946) with Margaret Lockwood as a murderess, and Temptation Harbour (1947) starring Robert Newton as a decent man in the grip of erotic attraction. Comfort's career has never been charted in full: that is, from the apprenticeship in the 1930s through the melodramas of the 1940s to the often rewarding co-features of the following two decades. His is in many ways a prototypical career in British cinema: his very attractive body of work has been marginalised by critical focus on a few giant figures. This is a book that will appeal to all students and researchers in British cinema, as well as to anyone with an interest in British films and why they were the way they were in their most productive period. Cultural Specificity in Indonesian Film David Hanan, 2017-02-16 This book explores ways in which diverse regional cultures in Indonesia and their histories have been expressed in film since the early 1950s. It also explores underlying cultural dominants within the new nation established at the end of 1949, with the achievement of independence from Dutch colonialism. It sees these dominants, for example, forms of group body language and forms of consultation, not simply as a product of the nation but as related to unique and long-standing formations and traditions in the numerous societies in the Indonesian archipelago on which the nation is based Nevertheless the book is not concerned only with past traditions but explores ways in which Indonesian filmmakers have addressed critically distinctive aspects of their traditional societies in their feature films including at times the social position of women linking past to the present where relevant in dynamic ways

Self-Projection Linda Haverty Rugg, 2014-03-01 In 1957 a decade before Roland Barthes announced the death of the author François Truffaut called for a new era in which films would resemble the person who made them and be even more personal than an autobiographical novel More than five decades on it seems that Barthes has won the argument when it comes to most film critics The cinematic author we are told has been dead for a long time Yet Linda Haverty Rugg contends not only that the art cinema auteur never died but that the films of some of the most important auteurs are intensely if complexly related to the lives and self images of their directors Self Projection explores how nondocumentary narrative art films create alternative forms of collaborative self representation and selfhood The book examines the work of celebrated directors who plant autobiographical traces in their films including Truffaut Bergman Fellini Tarkovsky Herzog Allen Almodóvar and von Trier It is not simply that these directors and many others like them make autobiographical references or occasionally appear in their films but that they tie their films to their life stories and communicate that link to their audiences Projecting a new kind of selfhood these directors encourage identifications between themselves and their work even as they disavow such connections And because of the collaborative and technological nature of filmmaking the director's self projection involves actors audience and the machines and institution of the cinema as well Lively and accessible Self Projection sheds new light on the films of these iconic directors and on art cinema in general ultimately showing how film can transform not only the autobiographical act but what it means to have a self A

Vagabond Journey Around the World Harry Alverson Franck, 1910 Ingmar Bergman Marc Gervais, 1999 Ingmar Bergman has long been revered as a master craftsman of cinema whose works are intensely revealing of himself while resonating powerfully with his audience This book explores how Bergman achieves this cinematic magic through specific choices in the use of film language and the texturing and structuring of his images sounds and rhythms Wild

Strawberries Philip French, Kersti French, 2019-07-25 Wild Strawberries 1958 is probably Ingmar Bergman's most personal film and one which explores his relation to the history of Swedish cinema Philip and Kersti French give a detailed account of Bergman's powerful and intense direction of the film They set the film firmly in the context of Swedish life and culture The authors also trace connections with the plays of August Strindberg and the paintings of Edvard Munch and Carl Larsson

Ingmar Bergman Jerry Vermilye, 2015-09-02 He always is very very close to the camera and he is terribly inspiring I don't know what his magic is but it is something that makes you want to give everything you have He has respect for actors and for everybody A bad director very often doesn't have that respect Liv Ullmann's words about Ingmar Bergman hint at the consummate director he was one who knew the business the strengths and weaknesses of actors and crews the arrangement of the set the framing of the camera and all other particulars of the fine art of directing This work presents Bergman s life and work beginning with his youth in Uppsala Sweden and covering his formative years his development as an artist and his career as a world renowned director A brief synopsis for each of Bergman s films is provided with such information as producer screenwriter cinematographer editor art director music sound credits running time casts Bergman s own comments and the reactions of critics

Desire and Consent in Representations of Adolescent Sexuality with Adults Maureen Turim,Diane Waldman,2023-10-02 This book presents an innovative comparative view of how the issue of adolescent sexuality and consent is differently treated in various media Analyzing teenage sexual encounters with adults across a variety of media including films television novels and podcasts the volume takes a positive stance on the expression of teenage sexuality while remaining sensitive to the power of adults to abuse and manipulate The anthology treats these representations as negotiations between conflicting forces desire sexual self knowledge unequal power and the law the latter both actual legal statutes and internalized law in the philosophical and psychoanalytic sense Questions of unequal power inherent in such relations are theorized The authors examine variations of this configuration of sexual relations between teenagers and adults from different perspectives to consider how various forms of expression rework it formally These essays are attuned to both nuances of presentation and contexts of reception and they consider how aesthetics play a role Contributing to the general debate about the ways that societies construct and regulate adolescent sexuality this book will be of great interest to scholars and students of media studies cultural studies film studies television studies sociology and gender studies

The Big Top on the Big Screen Teresa Cutler-Broyles,2020-01-10 Circuses and film are a natural pairing and the new essays making up this volume begin the exploration of how these two forms of entertainment have often worked together to create a spectacle of onscreen alchemy The films discussed herein are an eclectic group ranging from early silent comedies to animated 21st century examples in which circuses serve as liminal or carnivalesque spaces wherein characters and by extension audience members can confront issues as far reaching as labor relations sensuality identity ethics and more The circus as discussed in these essays encompasses the big top the midway the sideshow and the freak show it becomes backdrop character catalyst and setting and it is welcoming malicious or terrifying Circus performers are family friends foe or all of the above And film is the medium that brings it all together This volume starts the conversation about how circuses and film can combine to form productive exciting spaces where almost anything can happen

Screening the Face P. Coates,2012-05-11 Coates presents the face in film as a place where transformations begin reflecting both the experience of modernity and such influential myths as that of Medusa This is exemplified by a wide range of European and American films including Ingmar Bergman s Persona
