historical reference detailing RAF Bomber Command s extensive campaign of strategic bombings across occupied Europe

The Royal Air Force Bomber Command's strategic bombing campaign started on the first day of the Second World War and ended five and a half years later with the final victory in Europe. It was a campaign of such enormous scale that historians have only recently begun to piece together the finer details of the individual raids. Aviation historian Martin Middlebrook and his research colleague Chris Everitt were the first to compile a complete review of all the raids and their background stories. The Bomber Command War Diaries not only documents every Bomber Command operation but also details their effects on the ground drawing on local archives from Germany, Italy and the occupied countries. It is a groundbreaking work on historical research bringing together the two sides of Bomber Command's war. This edition includes retrospective observations and a new appendix.

It's all well written and well illustrated with 208 black and white photos and two black and white maps. Historical Miniatures Gaming Society. HMS Formidable was a British aircraft carrier during the Second World War. One of four Illustrious class carriers, Formidable was an armored carrier able to withstand air attacks, guarding its precious aircraft hangar with an armor-plated flight deck. As well as its squadrons of fighters and torpedo bombers, Formidable was armed with sixteen 4.5 inch dual purpose guns mounted in eight turrets. When action stations sounded in one of these turrets, sweating in the tropical heat due to heavy asbestos anti-flash gear, lifting shells from the hoist to the gunner while frantically turning the air into a plum pudding of smoke and flame to smash the enemy kamikaze from the sky was the author's grandfather Arthur Flint. Illustrated with almost 200 contemporary photographs throughout, Formidable is a memorial to the voyages and service of Arthur Flint and his shipmates during the war from the Battle of Matapan, the landings in North Africa, Sicily and Salerno to the arctic hunt for Tirpitz before Formidable steamed east to Sydney in 1945 and joined the British Pacific Fleet fighting alongside the Americans at Okinawa and the final assault against Japan.

In Fifteenth Air Force against the Axis, Combat Missions over Europe during World War II, Kevin A. Mahoney provides a detailed combat history of the crucial role played by this air force from November 1943 through May 1945. Presented by month in chronological order, Mahoney describes all the major bombing and fighter missions carried out by this air force within a strategic context. Each chapter includes an introduction describing developments in the evolution of the strategic air campaign against the Germans, highlights the purpose and importance of the month's operations, and reviews the Luftwaffe's resistance and changes in tactics and important developments in the Fifteenth Air Force's organization. Each monthly narrative further explores most missions, detailing the number of aircraft lost during these missions. Losses are based on an exhaustively researched database compiled by Mahoney that contains details of almost 3,000 aircraft. Target damage is mentioned while enemy opposition is also described for each mission. Appendices include four short essays on bombing operations planning and flying of missions tactics and techniques bomb types and bombing accuracy tactics employed by fighter escort in aerial combat and strafing combat crews and their aircraft including a comparison of American fighters and bombers the training of the crews and their combat tours and the Fifteenth Air Force command structure including the use of intelligence photo and weather reconnaissance and the considerable effect of weather on Fifteenth Air Force operations This work of military history is ideal for students and scholars of the air war in Europe
