The Transformation of Missions in the Twenty-First Century Carrie A. Miles,2025-08-21 Drawing on interviews with founders of independent missions field work in Africa India and Haiti and her experience as director of an independent mission Carrie A Miles explores the challenges and strengths of missions built on interpersonal relationships and spiritual capital This book examines the rise of a new movement within Global Christianity the independent mission Once death defying residential lifelong commitments undertaken and supported by career professionals a growing number of international missions are now small agencies operating without institutional support and undertaken by volunteers who travel occasionally to the mission field but who live and work at home Focusing on the importance of culturally respectful collaborations with national partners this book also deals with the harm caused by missionaries who do not share that orientation In a compelling example Miles recounts her discovery that early missionaries to East Africa taught that God cursed humankind in Creation Making no attempt to understand the meaning of curses in traditional religions however the missionaries created a devastating syncretism that persists to this day The Transformation of Missions in the Twenty First Century Cross Cultural Partnership without Syncretism argues that in requiring cross cultural awareness to operate the constraints of working independently are also its strengths and discussion questions Reach and Teach: Steve Curtis, 2016-08-30 Many churches are involved in short term mission trips. Most of these trips however are focused on economic or social development projects coupled with relational evangelism. Not many are focused on discipleship or more specifically training indigenous pastors in the essential doctrines of the faith so that they can in turn disciple their church. In fact reproducible models for in depth theological education during short term missions are rare. As a missionary presently ministering in a number of underdeveloped nations Steve Curtis has witnessed the need for and potential benefit of such models. The reality is that there are countless pastors throughout the majority world who have had little to no formal training in Bible or doctrine. This book suggests a practical way that churches can use their short term missions program together with their adult discipleship program to help meet this critical global need.

Invitation to World Missions Timothy C. Tennent, 2010 A primary resource introducing missions for the passionate follower of Christ Interdenominational Faith Missions in Africa Klaus Fiedler, 2018-03-13 It was not the European and American churches which evangelised Africa but the mission societies. The missions from the Great Awakening such as the London Missionary Society and Church Missionary Society or the Holy Ghost Fathers and the White Fathers which started the process of Sub Saharan Africa becoming a Christian continent are well known and documented. Less known and less documented are the interdenominational faith missions which began in 1873 with the aim of visiting the still unreached areas of Africa. North Africa, the Sudan Belt and the Congo Basin. Missions such as the Africa Inland Mission or Sudan Interior Mission gave birth to some of the big churches like ECWA in Nigeria and Africa Inland Church in Kenya. It is the aim of this book to describe faith missions and their theology and to present an overview of the early development of faith missions insofar as they touched Africa.

A Study of the Emergence and Early Development of Selected Protestant Chinese Churches in the Philippines Jean Uy Uayan, 2017-06-30 Dr Jean Uayan comprehensively weaves the story of six Protestant Chinese churches in the Philippines into the local history of their individual settings in this important study. Uncovering new insight and historical information from extensive primary and secondary sources Uayan presents a rich and previously unacknowledged heritage and support from four American mission organisations during the US occupation from 1898-1946. The seeds sown amongst Chinese communities across the Philippines resulted in indigenous churches that took differing journeys to full independence and now are also bearing fruit in missionary activity in South Fujian China. This book is an important contribution towards a global church history acknowledging the work of the Holy Spirit establishing and building up the church of Jesus Christ among the nations.
