Craig, 2016-05-18 This book is a survey of the life writings by and about Canadian missionaries at home and abroad over the last one hundred and thirty years A general missionary history of Canada appears first to introduce separate chapters on the forms and themes of this body of literature The critical problems presented by writing that has resisted modern and post modern developments are discussed Partial and fictional life writing as well as marginal forms are also explored The book concludes with general statements about the whole of this literature and its effects The first attempt at a comprehensive bibliography of Canadian missionary life writing is appended In the New Hebrides John Inglis, 1887 Mission Life in Cree-Ojibwe Country Elizabeth Bingham Young, E. Ryerson Young, 2014-12-28 In May of 1868 Elizabeth Bingham Young and her new husband Egerton Ryerson Young began a long journey from Hamilton Ontario to the Methodist mission of Rossville For the next eight years Elizabeth supported her husband's work at two mission houses Norway House and then Berens River Unprepared for the difficult conditions and the eight months long winter and unimpressed with eating fish twenty one times a week the young Upper Canada wife rose to the challenge In these remote outposts she gave birth to three children acted as a nurse and doctor and applied both perseverance and determination to learning Cree while also coping with poverty and short supplies within her community Her account of mission life as seen through the eyes of a woman is the first of its kind to be archived and now to appear in print Accompanying Elizabeth's memoir and offering a counterpoint to it are the reminiscences of her eldest son Eddie Born at Norway House in 1869 and nursed by a Cree woman from infancy Eddie was immersed in local Cree and Ojibwe life culture and language in many ways exemplifying the process of reverse acculturation often in evidence among the children of missionaries Like those of his mother Eddie's memories capture the sensory and emotional texture of mission life providing a portrait that is startling in its immediacy Skillfully woven together
