Lived to Tell: Three Generations of Dreams and Reality

Elizabeth Wright, 2020-03-24 In Romania times were tough back in 1919 As Cecilia and her husband a preacher went through many unwanted and unexpected trials and tribulations Cecilia ended up having to drop out of seminary school which devastated her Cecilia being a mother to many children also had plenty of dreams Those dreams helped and showed her how to cope and what to expect in the future Patricia one of their daughters had her own problems Patricia also was blessed with dreams that not only came true but they also encouraged her to live and to not give up There came a point in time when both Cecilia and Patricia thought that they were going to die With their faith in God they managed to still keep a smile on their faces and to keep their heads up Take a look inside to see what happened back in the day This book is just the beginning of their story This story was translated from the Romanian language into English

Barry, 1895

The Church in Mission Bertil Ekström, 2016-06-01 Foundations and Global Case Studies What does it mean today to be a church totally committed to the gospel and fully engaged in God's mission What major religious and sociological trends in our world are affecting the role of the global church and local churches How must we understand and be prepared to face these trends How do we define church in the twenty first century being faithful to the Scriptures and at the same time relevant to a generation that does not believe in the institutional church anymore What are some good models of missional churches in different regions of the world that will encourage and inspire those who long to see a church making difference in society and in the world These are some of the issues that the book you are holding in your hands addresses There are certainly no final answers and magical forms rather we present a broad and deep discussion on how the gospel should be lived out by Jesus followers in our time and through our communities Questions are raised and analyzed both from the perspective of a local church as well as from a global and general understanding of the Christian church Some of our examples will focus more on local realities others more on global challenges The first part of the book is dedicated to a biblical and theological reflection on gospel church and mission It includes Old and New Testament studies on the theological implications of being church based on the biblical narrative The second part deals with a variety of contemporary missiological issues related to the broader theme of church and mission Different perspectives from current discussions and dialogues around the globe are included covering both ideological reflections and practical aspects of being a mission shaped church The third part presents regional and national case studies that show the enormous creativity in church planting and engagement of local communities in their own societies Models applied in the secularized Europe are contrasted to ways of functioning as church in fast growing congregations in the global South The Mission Field ,1885 Annual Report - American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions,1877
