students with an interest in industrial engineering With respect to methodology the book covers 1 problem structuring methods 2 methods for ranking multi dimensional deterministic outcomes including multiattribute value theory the analytic hierarchy process the Technique for Order Preference by Similarity to Ideal Solution TOPSIS and outranking techniques 3 goal programming 4 methods for describing preference structures over single and multi dimensional probabilistic outcomes e g utility functions 5 decision trees and influence diagrams 6 methods for determining input probability distributions for decision trees influence diagrams and general simulation models and 7 the use of simulation modeling for decision analysis This textbook also offers Easy to follow descriptions of how to apply a wide variety of MCDA techniques Specific examples involving multiple objectives and or uncertainty risk of interest to industrial engineers A section on outranking techniques this group of techniques which is popular in Europe is very rarely mentioned as a methodology for MCDA in the United States A chapter on simulation as a useful tool for MCDA including ranking selection procedures Such material is rarely covered in courses in decision analysis Both material review questions and problems at the end of each chapter Solutions to the exercises are found in the Solutions Manual which will be provided along with PowerPoint slides for each chapter The methodologies are demonstrated through the use of applications of interest to industrial engineers including those involving product mix optimization supplier selection distribution center location and transportation planning resource allocation and scheduling of a medical clinic staffing of a call center quality control project management production and inventory control and so on Specifically industrial engineering problems are structured as classical problems in multiple criteria decision analysis and the relevant methodologies are demonstrated

Engineering Complex Phenotypes in Industrial Strains Ranjan Patnaik, 2012-09-19 This book highlights current trends and developments in the area of engineering strains The book details the current and future tools used in the production of bulk chemicals and biofuels from renewable biomass using green technologies Complex phenotypes are traits in a microbe that requires multiple genetic changes to be modulated simultaneously in the microorganism s DNA Knowing what those genetic changes are for a given trait and how to make those changes in the most efficient way forms the motivation behind writing this book This book explains the newer tools to develop and enable engineered strains at time scales much faster than the natural evolution process so that we can increase a cells production of a certain substance increase process productivity and extend metabolic capability This book provides a one stop platform of reference for practicing researchers in the field of industrial biotechnology This book also explains that the commercial success of a process that uses microbial catalysts over platforms that use chemical catalysts and fossil fuels depends on the time it takes to engineer these microbes to perform the desired reaction under harsh manufacturing conditions and at rates that meets the criteria for economic feasibility
