Benedek,Samantha A. Huettner,2019-08-23 Some of the statistics are well known if still jarring One of two marriages contracted will end in divorce More than a million children each year experience their parents divorce Other figures are less publicized Diagnosable psychological problems occur in 30% 40% percent of individuals whose parents divorce a rate three times higher than that for individuals whose families remain together Divorce and Co-parenting explores the impact of divorce on adolescents and young adults drawing on anecdotes from the authors own medical and law practices to illustrate how parents decision making can powerfully impact their children's well being before during and after a divorce even into adulthood This volume a revised edition of How to Help Your Children Overcome Your Divorce originally published in the 1990s is updated to reflect significant changes in family dynamics technology and social media and the matrimonial legal landscape over the past 30 years This guide offers new methods of alternative dispute resolution including mediation arbitration collaborative law and parenting coordinators as it addresses a wide variety of family situations such as the following Uninvolved or absent noncustodial parents Parents with mental illness Incarcerated parents LGBTQ parents or children Sexually or physically abused children Although written to be a multidisciplinary resource for professionals in many settings among them psychiatrists social workers pediatricians and attorneys Divorce and Co Parenting is written in an accessible easily digestible style This makes the book applicable for parents grandparents teachers and even adolescents looking for practical information on mitigating the effects of divorce on the family Helping Your Kids Cope with Divorce the Sandcastles Way M. Gary Neuman, Patricia Romanowski, 1999-07-27

Divorce is painful and confusing Perhaps now more than ever you want to give your child all the love support and guidance he or she needs but everything seems harder and more complicated Helping Your Kids Cope with Divorce the Sandcastles Way can help Based on Gary Neuman's phenomenally successful Sandcastles program which has helped more than fifty thousand children cope with divorce this warm empathetic guide shows you How to build a co parenting relationship even when you think you can't When you or your child should see a therapist Age appropriate scripts for addressing sensitive issues What to do when a parent moves away How to stop fighting with your ex spouse How to navigate the emotional turmoil of custody and visitation How to help your child deal with change How to cope with kids common fears about separation How to introduce significant others into the family and help your child cope with a new stepfamily More than a hundred pieces of artwork from children of divorce will help you appreciate how kids perceive the experience Dozens of special activities and fun exercises will help you communicate and get closer to your child This guide shows you that divorce need not be an inevitable blot on children's lives but an opportunity for them to grow and strengthen the bonds with their parents

Revisiting Mister Rogers' Neighborhood Kathy Merlock Jackson, Steven M. Emmanuel, 2016-02-08 During its 33 season run Mister Rogers Neighborhood 1968-2001 left an indelible mark on millions of children and their caregivers Perhaps no series in the history of children's television has done more to develop the identity and ethics of the child More than a decade after Fred Rogers' death he continues to attract an audience online Yet despite the show's lasting impact it has been largely ignored by scholars This collection of new essays focuses on Rogers' contributions to children's lives to the media and to American culture at large The contributors discuss his stance on the individual and the perception of self his ideas about meaningful participation in a community and his use of television Clearly Mr Rogers' ideas still strongly resonate

Mom in Daycareland Carlota Lindsay, Marshall Lindsay, 2002-04-15 Letter to the Reader Mom in Daycareland is about children but it is addressed both to parents and to providers of child care in the hope that these pages will help them understand each other's needs and the stresses they experience in their respective childrearing and caregiving activities For the children's sake they must see each other not as antagonists but as partners in this most important of all careers molding the future of the human race Today the need for child care is more widely accepted by the general public than it was years ago We used to think that children should be reared at home and that a mother's job was to take care of them Now all this has changed Early every morning millions of mothers and fathers drive their children to child care providers and leave them there most often without feeling uneasy or guilty What has happened to cause this shift in our attitudes Why have we given up ideas that once seemed sacred and replaced them with a pragmatic way of doing things that would have made our grandmothers frown The authors remember a time when it was expected that Dad would go off to work every morning leaving Mom and the kids at home He had a job outside the home and brought back the paycheck she did the housework and cooking took care of the children Only occasionally were the children entrusted to someone else as when the parents went to a dinner party or a movie and had a local high school student over to sit or drove the kids to Grandmas for the night There were exceptions of course but this was the accepted pattern Today that pattern while still prevalent in some families is rare The social and economic realities of our country have changed radically and the structure of family life has had to adapt There are several reasons for the shift and others will undoubtedly surface at a later date but what seems to be the most important among them are the following Firstly to make ends meet todays parents are obliged more and more to share the burden of earning the wages Both Mom and Dad need full time work if the family is to survive financially or if it is to satisfy the standard of living they are used to In the meantime who takes care of the children while both are at work Secondly another reason that helps explain why Mom works even when there is no pressing financial need for her to do so is the realization that women have an equal right to achieve their potentialities in the world of the professions and of labor Finally and perhaps most importantly an ever increasing number of households are managed by single parents When Mom or Dad is the only provider in the family no one is going to suggest that she or he stay home and watch the children That single job is essential to the survival of a family in an already precarious financial bind Even when the children are sick the single parent has to report to work in order to keep that precious job For these and other reasons the need for child care is a simple reality in our present society and the trend is likely to continue In most communities throughout the country groups of interested people argue that the availability of child care services is insufficient to meet current needs let alone the demands of a growing population We would like to talk about ourselves briefly as authors Both of us have had life careers in higher education In 1980 we devoted ourselves to child care and started a proprietary child care center in the Northwest It began small and then in time grew to a size of 35 preschoolers From the beginning Carlota operated the center from 6 30 a m to 6 00 p m as director teacher public relations person cook and janitor only recently has she begun coming home in the late afternoon Marshall was frequently teacher maintenance person and accountant It was difficult yet rewarding work and it taught us many things The purp New York Magazine ,1981-02-16 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Bowker's Complete Video Directory ,2000 Mister Rogers Talks with
