Project Athena at MIT, 1988 Inside Multi-Media Case Based Instruction Roger C. Schank, 2012-11-12 The fourth in the Inside series this volume includes four theses completed under the editor's direction at the Institute for the Learning Sciences at Northwestern University This series bridges the gap between Schank's books introducing for a popular audience the theories behind his work in artificial intelligence AI and the many articles and books written by Schank and other AI researchers for their colleagues and students The series will be of interest to graduate students in AI and professionals in other academic fields who seek the retraining necessary to join the AI effort or to understand it at the professional level This volume elaborates the Case Based Teaching Architecture A central tenet of this architecture is the importance of acquiring cases and being able to retrieve and use those cases to solve new problems The theses address the problems of building case bases indexing large amounts of data contained within those case bases and retrieving information on a need to know basis They also reflect the work of researchers at the Institute to design tools that enable software programs to be built more effectively and efficiently

History of Computing in Education J.A.N. Lee, John Impagliazzo, 2006-04-11 This work derives from a conference discussing the history of computing in education This conference is the first of hopefully a series of conferences that will take place within the International Federation for Information Processing IFIP and hence we describe it as the First Conference on the History of Computing in Education HCE1 These proceedings represent a collection of works presented at the HCE1 Conference held in association with the IFIP 2004 World Computer Congress held in Toulouse France Contributions to this volume range from a wide variety of educational perspectives and represent activities from four continents The HCE1 conference represents a joint effort of the IFIP Working Group 9.7 on the History of Computing and the

IFIP Technical Committee 3 on Education The HCE1 Conference brings to light a broad spectrum of issues and spans four continents It illustrates topics in computing education as they occurred in the early days of computing whose ramifications or overtones remain with us today Indeed many of the early challenges remain part of our educational tapestry most likely many will evolve into future challenges Therefore this work provides additional value to the reader as it will reflect in part the future development of computing in education to stimulate new ideas and models in educational development

Fiber Optics Broadband ISDN IGIC, Inc. Staff, 1994 Paradigm Shift Mark Teter, 2006-01-01 Catalogue of Distributed File/Operating Systems Uwe M. Borghoff, 2012-12-06 In general distributed systems can be classified into Distributed File Systems DFS and Distributed Operating Systems DOS The survey which follows distinguishes between DFS approaches in Chapters 2 3 and DOS approaches in Chapters 4 5 Within DFS and DOS I further distinguish traditional and object oriented approaches A traditional approach is one where processes are the active components in the systems and where the name space is hierarchically organized In a centralized environment UNIX would be a good example of a traditional approach On the other hand an object oriented approach deals with objects in which all information is encapsulated Some systems of importance do not fit into the DFS DOS classification I call these systems closely related and put them into Chapter 6 Chapter 7 contains a table of comparison This table gives a lucid overview summarizing the information provided and allowing for quick access The last chapter is added for the sake of completeness It contains very brief descriptions of other related systems These systems are of minor interest or do not provide transparency at all Sometimes I had to assign a system to this chapter simply for lack of adequate information about it
