Mockers And Mocked Comparative Perspectives On Differentiation Convergence And Diversity In Higher Education:

The Mockers and Mocked, 1996 Non-University Higher Education in Europe James S. Taylor, José Brites Ferreira, Maria de Lourdes Machado, Rui Santiago, 2008-06-01 Today a substantial portion of higher education is provided outside of the traditional universities in non university institutions with a multitude of varied characteristics In recent decades higher education systems have been subjected to many changes and reforms throughout the world One of the most important was undoubtedly the expansion of higher education in the second half of the last century from an elite system to one for the masses While institutions of higher learning have been in existence for approximately 1 000 years this exponential growth has been much more recent This movement toward mass higher education has created substantial national impacts on the development of the systems of higher education While common denominators of change and adaptation can be identified globally there remain important differences from country to country There are many factors challenging higher education today and in the foreseeable future In one form or another these issues and trends can be seen in higher education systems throughout the world They include chronic underfunding marketisation and competition alternative providers massification internationalisation governance leadership strategic management accountability accreditation and social relevance Another key factor for many countries especially in Europe and the focus of this book is the current and future status of the higher education systems that differentiate the university and non university sectors

Changing Relationships Between Higher Education and the State Mary Henkel, Brenda Little, 1999 Examining the patterns of change in relationships between higher education systems and the state throughout Europe the contributors explore the main theoretical and policy options available to policymakers and the issues they raise for governments institutions and academics The book covers the following themes the funding of higher education the impacts of quality assurance and evaluation higher education and graduate employment managing diversity in higher education systems the impact of change on the internal structures of higher education institutions Changing Relationships Between Higher Education and the State provides both descriptive models of the relationships and authoritative and incisive analysis of the politics economics and organisation of advanced learning in Europe today High Participation Systems of Higher Education Brendan Cantwell, Simon Marginson, Anna Smolentseva, 2018-10-18 Higher Education has become a central institution of society building individual knowledge skills agency and relational social networks at unprecedented depth and scale Within a generation there has been an extraordinary global expansion of Higher Education in every region in all but the poorest countries outstripping economic growth and deriving primarily from familial aspirations for betterment By focusing on the systems and countries that have already achieved near universal participation High Participation Systems of Higher Education explores this remarkable transformation The world enrolment ratio now rising by 10 per cent every decade is approaching 40 per cent mostly in degree granting institutions including three quarters of young people in North America and Europe Higher Education systems in the one in three countries that enrol more than 50 per cent are here classified as high participation systems Part I of the book measures maps and explains the growth of participation and the implications for society and Higher Education itself Drawing on a wide range of literature and data the chapters theorize the changes in governance institutional diversity and stratification in Higher Education systems and the subsequent effects in educational and social equity The theoretical propositions regarding high participation Higher Education developed in these chapters are then tested in the country case studies in Part II presenting a comprehensive enquiry into the nature of the emerging high participation society

Differentiating the Higher Education System of Ethiopia Adula Bekele Hunde, Ephrem Tekle Yacob, Genene Abebe Tadesse, Kiros Guesh, Mekasha Kassaye Gobaw, Nigussie Dechassa, Tesfaye Muhiye Endris, Tesfaye Negewo, Yemataw Wondie, 2023-01-04 The Government of the Federal Democratic Republic of Ethiopia commissioned a national study to review the overall education system of Ethiopia in 2016 that resulted in the Education and Training Roadmap outlining the unwavering commitment towards transformative changes in the national education system Among the various areas identified in the Roadmap for further intervention and urgent policy shift was the dire need to differentiate the public universities which for ages have stagnated from disciplinary and mission redundancy and transform them to vibrant 21st century dynamic universities endowed with missions commensurate with the critical needs of the country Quality

Assurance in Higher Education Maria João Rosa, A. Amaral, 2014-02-27 This book weighs up the consequences of introducing Quality Enhancement and Risk Management as new dimensions in Higher Education quality control on a global scale The authors include Chief Executive Officers of Quality Agencies policy analysts and leading scholars in Quality Evaluation and Comparative Higher Education policy analysis Globalization And Reform In Higher Education Eggins, Heather, 2003-12-01 This book charts the key issues that are involved in reforming higher education to meet new global challenges It draws on a team of distinguished international researchers from North America Africa Australia and Europe who consider particular topics the reform of governance and finance the funding of higher education managerialism accreditation and quality assurance the use of performance indicators faculty roles and rewards and the cultural social and ethical dimensions of change University Research Management Developing Research in New Institutions

OECD, 2005-09-27 This study examines the processes and strategies being devised by new Higher Education Institutions HEIs to grow research The Palgrave International Handbook of Higher Education Policy and Governance Jeroen Huisman, Harry de Boer, David D. Dill, Manuel Souto-Otero, 2016-04-29 This state of the art reference collection addresses the major themes theories and key concepts related to higher education policy and governance on an international scale in one accessible volume Mapping the field and showcasing current research and theorizations from diverse perspectives and authoritative scholars this essential guide will assist readers in navigating the myriad concepts and themes involved in higher education policy and governance research and practice Split into two sections the first explores a range of policy concepts theories and methods including governance models policy instruments institutionalism and organizational change new public management and multi level governance The second section addresses salient themes such as institutional governance funding quality employability accountability university rankings widening participation gender inequalities technology student involvement and the role of higher education in society Global in its perspective and definitive in content this one stop volume will be an indispensable reference resource for a wide range of academics students and researchers in the fields of education education policy sociology social and public policy political science and for leadership

Higher Education, Research, and Knowledge in the Asia-Pacific Region V. Meek, C. Suwanwela, 2007-01-08 One of the first books to focus on different national perspectives of knowledge production and research in higher education in the Asia Pacific region it compares contrasts and critically analyzes how policy in Asia Pacific countries is furthering a supportive or non supportive environment for the promotion of research within higher education

The University in the Age of Globalization W. Bienkowski, J. Brada, G. Stanley, 2012-07-06 An informed discussion of the global education market analysing the rankings system and the determinants which help universities to advance The authors examine possible improvements in the promotion and commercialization of university research and the role of universities in the social and economic development of transition economies

The Future of the Post-Massified University at the Crossroads Jung Cheol Shin, Ulrich Teichler, 2013-11-22 The modern university started as an innovative model a research driven teaching and service model in the 19th century but the contemporary university is in a crisis of identity The major challenge is how to harmonize different missions e g teaching research and service The triple function has become questionable and research now dominates the other two functions in contemporary higher education This book takes a step towards further academic and policy discussions on the restructuring the triple functions of university and designing the future of the post massified university

The Research Mission of the University, 2009-01-01 This volume presents recent scholarship on the changing research mission of the university and on the implications of these changes for the university itself As these papers make clear the leading nations increasingly view the research mission of the university as a principal component of national innovation policies The papers therefore examine the current preoccupation of higher education policy with concentrating knowledge production to enhance national innovation and competitiveness and with assessing research The authors explore how this new policy emphasis has influenced research funding mechanisms research evaluation initiatives designed to encourage university knowledge transfer and reforms of doctoral education The papers analyse the impact of these reforms and the response of universities to the changing policy environment The volume has a strong comparative focus drawing on research from a range of European countries as well as from Australia and the United States It combines papers from some of the leading scholars in research in higher education together with papers from younger scholars in the field This is the first volume in a new series which will publish selected papers from the annual conferences of the Consortium of Higher Education Researchers CHER The volume will be of particular interest to researchers in the field of higher education to those who occupy leadership roles in higher education institutions and to those involved in the development of higher education policy at national and international levels Government Institutions: Effects, Changes and Normative Foundations Hendrik Wagenaar, 2012-12-06 Research on government institutions is one of the most exciting intellectual areas in political science and policy studies today Increasingly it is recognized by scholars in these fields that effective and legitimate policies depend on the design and maintenance of complex institutional arrangements This book brings together some of the leading scholars in institutional research in The Netherlands Their work addresses such perennially difficult questions in institutional research such as How do we understand institutional change How do we measure the effects of institutions on societal sectors and public policy How do the normative foundations of government institutions influence their functioning What are the principles of effective and legitimate institutional design Through analysis of well researched examples ranging from the fabled Dutch poldermodel through the transformation of the welfare state through privatizations of the Dutch telecommunications industry to the work of welfare officials these authors demonstrate the interpenetration of normative empirical and design issues in institutional theory The book is intended for scholars and graduate students in political science public policy public administration and law Quality Assurance in Higher Education Don F. Westerheijden, Bjorn Stensaker, Maria Joao Rosa, 2007-09-04 By bringing together leading experts on quality assurance in higher education from seven countries from Europe the USA and South Africa this volume intends to go several steps further than most publications on quality assurance First it brings together views from micro to macro levels in the multi actor space showing how quality assurance impacts the higher education system throughout Second it links quality assurance solidly to issues of regulation translation rather than mechanical implementation and transformation instead of being only focused on quality assurance as a single policy instrument Third it uses this broad range of research insights to criticize current practices explaining for instance why sometimes people have difficulty in tracing any concrete effects of all initiatives taken in this area Finally the book offers proposals for better focusing quality assurance in the future to address institutional challenges better The general purpose of the book then is to give an engaged academic reflection on how quality assurance is embedded in higher education and in a dynamic way to assess its impacts and potential improvements Higher Education and the Common Good Simon Marginson, 2016-12-19 In the last half century higher education has moved from the fringe to the centre of society and accumulated a long list of functions In the English speaking world Europe and much of East Asia more than two thirds of all school students enter tertiary education Bulging at the seams universities are meant to be fountains of new knowledge engines of prosperity and innovation drivers of regional growth skilled migration and global competitiveness and makers of equality of opportunity Yet universities cannot drive prosperity on their own and they can do little to stop rising income inequality which is shaped by taxation policy and income determination in the workplace. Worse, the growing emphasis on the private benefits of higher education without regard for its public benefits has positioned the higher education sector as elite forming as a maker of social inequality rather than a corrective to it. In the English speaking countries in which government sees itself as servant of high capitalism, official policy models higher education as a market and has narrowed its purpose to the enhancement of individual earnings and employability partly to justify the ever rising tuition fees. Higher education systems have become intensely competitive and increasingly stratified with value concentrated at the top. In this quasi aristocratic economics of education, mass institutions are losing social value and the collective public benefits of universities are unmonitored, underfunded and ignored. In short, governments expect both too much and too little of higher education and its contribution to the common good is being eroded. Yet this sector can play a key role in rebuilding social solidarity and mobility in fractured societies.

The University and the Economy Aldo Geuna, Federica Rossi, 2015-02-27. This book provides readers with an in depth understanding of the many ways in which universities contribute to economic development and growth. It demonstrates the causal interactions between universities' activities and economic outcomes and presents Theory and Method in Higher Education Research Jeroen Huisman, Malcolm Tight, 2016-10-31. This volume of Theory and Method in Higher Education Research contains contemporary contributions to international debates regarding the application and development of theory and methodology in researching higher education.

Handbook on Local Governance in China Ceren Ergenc, David S.G. Goodman, 2023-09-06. Demonstrating the crucial importance of local governance in China's development and international relations, this topical Handbook combines theoretical approaches with novel methodological tools to understand state-society relations at the local level.

The Institutional Basis of Higher Education Research Stefanie Schwarz, Ulrich Teichler, 2007-05-08. In the US, the university administration runs its own office of institutional research in order to base its decisions on systematic information. Furthermore, higher education research can rely on a relatively stable academic basis if study programmes on higher education exist. Again, this is most frequently the case in the United States. Finally, governments and other macro-societal actors sometimes have their own offices or institutes of policy research and prepare the policies of the actors they report to. In addition, research on higher education can be institutionalized in a variety of ways. Often, research institutes on higher education are quite visible. They were established as specialized research units within or outside institutions of higher education, but no common institutional basis can be observed for this type of institution across the countries. Third, the major themes of research on higher education also differ between countries. It has frequently been said that in European countries it was more prone to analyse macro-societal issues of higher education, whereas in the US it tended to study the inner life of higher education institutions' students and the teaching and learning processes.
