The European Model of Agriculture Michael Cardwell, 2004 Michael Cardwell's study assesses whether the EU can create a new legislative framework that is feasible and which will placate the WTO and its drive towards world domination

The Common Agricultural Policy Grace Skogstad, Amy Verdun, 2013-09-13 The Common Agricultural Policy CAP is a unique agricultural policy worldwide For many years its status as the only common European Community EC policy governed by EC institutions put it at the heart of European integration Today the CAP is not the only common European Union EU policy Even while it remains the sole instance of a regionally integrated agricultural policy the CAP no longer embodies the same degree of cross national harmonization of agricultural policy among EC EU member states that it once did The CAP has undergone policy reforms in the past two decades and these reforms have spawned a host of questions What has caused the CAP to reform How path breaking are CAP reforms Are they consistent with founding CAP goals or do they encompass new ideas about agriculture's place in the economy and society And what are the consequences of agricultural policy reforms for European farmers consumers and taxpayers for European public goods such as environmental sustainability and preservation of rural communities and landscapes and for third parties outside the EU including the WTO This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of European Integration

The Common Agricultural Policy and Organic Farming Kenneth Lynggaard, 2006 The Common Agricultural Policy and Organic Farming covers how ideational change came about to enhance the understanding of change within the Common Agricultural Policy CAP and to plan and implement change in European agriculture policy The contents cover institutional change within the CAP and focus on the institutional construction policy concerned with organic farming

Elgar Encyclopedia of European Union Public Policy Paolo R. Graziano, Jale Tosun, 2022-12-13 A holistic and extensive exploration of both the dynamic and incremental changes in EU public policy and the decision processes surrounding them this Elgar Encyclopedia is the definitive reference work in the field of EU public policy Lobbying the European Union David Coen, Jeremy Richardson, 2009-06-04 It is universally accepted that there has been a huge growth in EU lobbying over the past few decades There is now a dense EU interest group system This entirely new volume inspired by Mazey Richardson's 1993 book Lobbying in the European Community seeks to understand the role of interest groups in the policy process from agenda setting to implementation Specifically the book is interested in observing how interest groups organise to influence the EU institutions and how they select different coalitions along the policy process and in different policy domains In looking at 20 years of change the book captures processes of institutional and actor learning professionalisation of lobbying and the possible emergence of a distinct EU public policy style More specifically from the actors perspective the editors are interested in assessing how the rise of direct lobbying and the emergence of fluid issue based coalitions has changed the logic of collective action and what is the potential impact of venue shopping on reputation and influence From an institutional perspective the contributors explore resource and legitimacy demands and the practical impact of consultation processes on the emergence of a distinct EU lobbying relationship It will be essential reading for academics and practitioners alike

Transatlantic Environment and Energy Politics Stacy D VanDeveer, Mr Henrik Selin, Professor Miranda A Schreurs, 2013-03-28 Environmental and energy policies have become increasingly significant in European and North American politics This fascinating book uses a wide range of case studies that embrace climate change product standards chemical regulations renewable energy policies food safety and genetically modified organisms to examine areas of conflict and cooperation in the transatlantic relationship While there are many areas where the European Union and the United States are following divergent policy paths there are also many signs that a more cooperative transatlantic relationship could emerge in the future Transatlantic Environment and Energy Politics is highly relevant to understanding how the European Union and North America can cooperate more effectively in meeting today's many global environmental and energy policy challenges It is essential reading for all advanced students and scholars The European Union and Global Governance

Dr Jens-Uwe Wunderlich, David J. Bailey, 2010-12-14 The European Union and Global Governance A Handbook aims to analyse contemporary debates in European Studies in order to provide lessons for the development design and normative evaluation of global governance It brings together scholars of European studies and international relations where much of the literature on regional and global governance is located thereby providing interdisciplinary lessons from the study of European Union and its governance that can be used to re-evaluate processes of global governance Each chapter examines methodological theoretical or empirical discussions within European studies in order to draw insights for current developments in global governance Energy, Environment and Geopolitics in Eurasia Norman A. Graham, Şuhnaz Yılmaz, 2023-12-22 This book advances our understanding of security and its intricate interactions with geopolitics and the environment in Eurasia Norman A Graham and Yilmaz Yilmaz focus on Eurasia where the energy water food nexus has emerged as a vital aspect of political economy and increasingly as a decisive factor for human security As clearly revealed during the Russian invasion of Ukraine this nexus rests on a precarious balance Graham and Yilmaz argue that Central Eurasia is currently Running on Empty and highlight the key environmental challenges including water quantity and quality and food security The authors draw on their extensive fieldwork in countries including Azerbaijan China Georgia Kazakhstan the Russian Federation Turkey and Uzbekistan to assess the interests and impact of pivotal actors and evaluate the competition and complementarities of these actors regarding water energy food security and foreign policy imperatives They also examine the broader interaction and implications of security at multiple levels by analyzing the local national and international factors in light of geopolitical and environmental challenges Taking a novel and highly interdisciplinary approach this book will be an important resource for students and scholars of energy and food security political economy international conflict and cooperation and natural resource politics

Multifunctional Agriculture G. A. Wilson, 2007 In a time of great agricultural and rural change the notion of multifunctionality has remained under theorized and poorly linked to the debates in the social sciences This book analyses the extent to which the proposed transition towards post productivist agriculture holds up to scientific scrutiny and proposes a new transition theory

Unravelling desertification M. Juntti, 2023-08-28 This book analyses processes of desertification from a social science perspective and unravels the policy related to drivers of desertification Desertification is addressed both as a concept surrounded by a multitude of different discourses and as a tangible unsustainable process that is connected to a complex set of policies and changing land management practices The focus is on Southern Europe where desertification has been a long standing problem in many areas and where in some places the loss of productive capacity has worsened considerably over the last few decades By focusing on four specific case study areas in Portugal Spain Italy and Greece the scope of the book will cover the human dimension of desertification exploring in particular how the framework of existing policies has affected land management decisions and desertification processes The emphasis will be on how policies may have contributed to desertification alleviation and mitigation as well as to a worsening of desertification processes By using an actor network approach the book specifically investigates the importance of networks of actors that shape the nature and direction of policies that affect desertification processes In this sense this book aims at providing a first glance into the complex policy economic and socio cultural networks that operate at the local regional and national levels in areas of Southern Europe affected by desertification and to analyse how these networks hinder or promote the implementation of policies aimed at alleviating the threat of desertification With its broad remit this exciting book will appeal to many different audiences not only including academics and students of various disciplines but also practitioners at the local regional Mediterranean and international e.g. EU spatial levels in a variety of fields such as environmental and agricultural policy making agricultural extension services farming organisations environmental NGOs media representatives and many other environmental stakeholder groups

Agriculture and International Trade Michael Cardwell, Margaret R. Grossman, C. P. Rodgers, 2003 The World Trade Organization WTO Agreement on Agriculture has had a fundamental impact on agricultural policy worldwide The new WTO agreements will cover agriculture sanitary and phytosanitary measures technical barriers to trade and trade in intellectual property rights This book addresses the interface between the law of international agricultural trade the emerging legal and economic order for agricultural trade under the auspices of the WTO and its impact on agricultural policy reform both in the European Union and the USA With contributions from leading authorities in the appropriate areas

The Perfect Storm Johan F. M. Swinnen, 2008

Societal Actors in European Integration Jan-Henrik Meyer, 2013-02-21 Contributors to this volume outline how societal actors have been closely involved in European integration from the founding of the EU to the Maastricht Treaty Based on newly accessible sources the authors discuss the participation of political parties business groups and civil society organizations in European polity building and policy making

Sustainable Livelihoods in Kalahari Environments Deborah Sporton, David S. G. Thomas, 2002 This edited collection provides a comprehensive overview of the dynamics of contemporary natural resource based livelihoods and implications for their sustainability in the context of the Kalahari environment of southern Africa a region subject to marked spatial and temporal natural variability Each chapter is written by an active Kalahari researcher and addresses from an environmental or a social perspective the implications of different policies for rural livelihoods and coping strategies In each chapter one or more of the key tenets of environment policy and structural land use change provides the central element around which the sustainable livelihoods theme is considered Although the focus of the book is the Kalahari introductory and concluding chapters in turn contextualise the research and discuss key enviro development issues which resonate across the individual chapters with relevance for wider global debates

Territory, Identity and Spatial Planning Mark Tewdwr-Jones, Philip Allmendinger, 2006-09-27 This book provides a multi disciplinary study of territory identity and space in a devolved UK through the lens of spatial planning It draws together leading internationally renowned researchers from a variety of disciplines to address the implications of devolution upon spatial planning and the rescaling of UK politics Each contributor offers a different perspective on the core issues in planning today in the context of New Labour s regional project particularly the government s concern with business competitiveness and key themes are illustrated with important case studies throughout

Qualities of food Mark Harvey, Andrew McMeekin, Alan Warde, 2018-07-30 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license In this book the complexity and the significance of the foods we eat are analysed from a variety of perspectives by sociologists economists geographers and anthropologists Chapters address a number of intriguing questions how do people make judgments about taste How do such judgments come to be shared by groups of people what social and organisational processes result in foods being certified as of decent or proper quality How has dissatisfaction with the food system been expressed What alternatives are thought to be possible The multi disciplinary analysis of this book explores many different answers to such questions The first part of the book focuses on theoretical and conceptual issues the second part considers processes of formal and informal regulation while the third part examines social and political responses to industrialised food production and mass consumption Qualities of food will be of interest to researchers and students in all the social science disciplines that are concerned with food whether marketing sociology cultural studies anthropology human nutrition or economics The Mystery of Rationality Gérald

Bronner, Francesco Di Iorio, 2018-07-12 This book contributes to the developing dialogue between cognitive science and social sciences It focuses on a central issue in both fields i e the nature and the limitations of the rationality of beliefs and action The development of cognitive science is one of the most important and fascinating intellectual advances of recent decades and social scientists are paying increasing attention to the findings of this new branch of science that forces us to consider many classical issues related to epistemology and philosophy of action in a new light Analysis of the concept of rationality is a leitmotiv in the history of the social sciences and has involved endless disputes Since it is difficult to give a precise definition of this concept and there is a lack of agreement about its meaning it is possible to say that there is a mystery of rationality What is it to be rational Is rationality merely instrumental or does it also involve the endorsement of values i e the choice of goals Should we consider rationality to be a normative principle or a descriptive one Can rationality be only Cartesian or can it also be argumentative Is rationality a conscious skill or a partly tacit one This book which has been written by an outstanding collection of authors including both philosophers and social scientists tries to make a useful contribution to the debates on these problems and shed some light on the mystery of rationality The target audience primarily comprises researchers and experts in the field
