Mystical Science of the Soul Jessica A. Boon, 2012-01-01 Ultimately I propose that considering internalization as embodiment is a critical methodological shift in understanding mystical methods in general and especially for probing recollection mysticism in depth The inner man as opposed to the outer man is a Pauline and Lutheran commonplace that is too frequently taken out of context leading historians of the Renaissance in general and of Spanish Renaissance religion in particular to value references to internal or mental methods of spirituality as an improvement over external or bodily rituals This book takes its cue from the recent cognitive turn in medieval studies that complicates studies of the body in religion by focusing on the embodied aspects of cognition claiming a continuum between body and soul rather than a hierarchy I argue that medieval theories of cognition made the divorce of the body from the soul impossible for a Galenic doctor even one who spoke of the body and the world with contempt and by implication impossible for his Castilian audience Without serious consideration of Laredo's reliance on an embodied soul rather than on a body-soul dualism therefore no proper assessment of the unitive stage of recogimiento can be made Introduction p 67 The Atlantis: a register of literature and science

Nonfiction Readers , EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE Raymundo Ramirez, 2021-09-03 Did you know that human beings are 100% emotional Who or what produces these emotions In the past it was believed that the heart was responsible for these stimuli Neuroscience studies have shown that neurons in the brain are responsible for creating emotions To hear a child cry or to see an old man laugh is an outpouring of emotions to listen to a dog bark to see a mother's concern for a child in danger to hear a little bird sing on a tree branch to see an employee whistle in the aisles of a warehouse to hear a woman cry in the emergency room or to witness the birth of a child all these actions are expressions of emotions that to some extent affect and move the person who is feeling them and even people around them these emotions send different emotional messages such as fear sadness anger pain loneliness joy satisfaction happiness etc What would happen if we could control the negative emotions that affect us daily We can do it so we get to be emotionally balanced people As a result we would be likely to be happier      Actas del VII Congreso Internacional de “Sinestesia: Ciencia y Arte”.
