Losing Generations Adolescents In High Risk Settings:

Losing Generations National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Panel on High-Risk Youth, 1995-02-01 At least 7 million young Americans fully one quarter of adolescents 10 to 17 years old may be at risk of failing to achieve productive adult lives They use drugs engage in unprotected sex drop out of school and sometimes commit crimes effectively closing the door to their own futures And the costs to society are enormous school and social services are overwhelmed and our nation faces the future with a diminished citizenry This penetrating book argues that the problems of troubled youth cannot be separated from the settings in which those youths live settings that have deteriorated significantly in the past two decades A distinguished panel examines what works and what does not in the effort to support and nurture adolescents and offers models for successful programs This volume presents an eye opening look at what millions of the nation's youths confront every day of their lives addressing How the decline in economic security for young working parents affects their children's life chances How dramatic changes in household structure and the possibilities of family and community violence threaten adolescents development How the decline of neighborhoods robs children of a safe environment How adolescents health needs go unmet in the current system Losing Generations turns the spotlight on those institutions youths need the health care system schools the criminal justice and the child welfare and foster home systems and how they are functioning Difficult issues are addressed with study results and insightful analyses access of poor youths to health insurance coverage inequities in school funding how child welfare agencies provide for adolescents in their care and the high percentage of young black men in the criminal justice system

Losing generations adolescents in high-risk settings, 1993 Improving Intergroup Relations Among Youth Institute of Medicine, National Research Council, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Children, Youth, and Families, Forum on Adolescence, 2000-01-01 On November 9 10 1998 the Forum on Adolescence of the Board on Children Youth and Families a cross cutting initiative of the Institute of Medicine and the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences convened a workshop entitled Research to Improve Intergroup Relations Among Youth Held at the request of the Carnegie Corporation of New York this workshop considered selected findings of 16 research projects that have focused on intergroup relations among children and adolescents all 16 received funding from Carnegie Corporation of New York for their work on this issue The funding of these projects was part of a larger research initiative supported by Carnegie Corporation of New York that sought to update and expand the knowledge sources and dynamics of racial and ethnic prejudice among youth identifying approaches to foster intergroup understanding Improving Intergroup Relations Among Youth is the summary of the workshop which provided an opportunity to learn about the work and preliminary findings of the 16 projects This report reviews the knowledge base regarding the effectiveness of interventions designed to promote peaceful respectful relations among youth of different ethnic groups

Risks and Opportunities National Research Council and Institute of Medicine, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Institute of Medicine, Forum on Adolescence, 1999-12-16 This report constitutes one of the first activities of the Forum on Adolescence a cross cutting activity of the Institute of Medicine and the National Research Council of the National Academies Established under the auspices of the Board on Children Youth and Families the forum's overarching mission is to synthesize analyze and evaluate scientific research on critical national issues that relate to youth and their families as well as to disseminate research and its policy and programmatic implications The goals of the forum are to 1 review and establish the science base on adolescent health and development and make efforts to foster this development 2 identify new directions and support for research in this area approaching research as a resource to be developed cumulatively over time 3 showcase new research programs and policies that have demonstrated promise in improving the health and well being of adolescents 4 convene and foster collaborations among individuals who represent diverse viewpoints and backgrounds with a view to enhancing the quality of leadership in this area and 5 disseminate research on adolescence and its policy implications to a wide array of audiences from the scientific community to the lay public

Adolescent Health Problems Jan Lance Wallander, Lawrence J. Siegel, 1995-08-11 Adolescence a dynamic period of physical and psychological growth presents young people with a variety of developmental challenges that can have a significant impact on health related behaviors Because adolescents exhibit distinct patterns of morbidity and mortality health practitioners are focusing increased attention on their unique health care needs ADOLESCENT HEALTH PROBLEMS BEHAVIORAL PERSPECTIVES edited by Jan L Wallander and Lawrence J Siegel presents the work of leading researchers who investigate the connections between health and behavior in both healthy and chronically ill adolescents Sponsored by the Society of Pediatric Psychology as part of the series Advances in Pediatric Psychology this ground breaking volume brings the literature of the field up to date providing vital theoretical and clinical findings with broad implications for health promotion in adolescence and beyond

Parents, Children, and Adolescents Anne Marie Ambert, 2020-12-18 Parents Children and Adolescents presents an integrative perspective of the parent child relationship within several contexts You can expand your empirical and theoretical knowledge of the parent child relationship and child development through the book's unusually holistic theoretical perspective that integrates three main frameworks: interactional theories on parents, children, and development; contextual ecological models; and behavior genetics. This insightful book's empirical scope is broader than that of most books in that it considers the parent child relationship throughout the life course as well as within a great variety of contexts including interactions with sibling and peers at school, in their neighborhoods, and with professionals. You'll gain immeasurable knowledge about parents' child rearing styles and how they are affected by environmental variables, the interaction between parents and children, and between their personalities. Behavior genetics is one of the explanatory frameworks for the role of genetics and environment in negative child outcomes: emotional problems, conduct disorders, and delinquency; poverty and other stressors affecting parents and children; problematic, abusive, emotionally disturbed, alcoholic parents; siblings and peers as contexts for the parent child dyad; the effect of the school system on the family; with a focus on minority families; family structure; divorce; remarriage; and families headed by never married mothers, adolescent mothers, and their own mothers; the psychogenetic limitations on parental influence; and cultural roadblocks to parental moral authority. Complete with an Instructor's Manual, Parents, Children, and Adolescents is ideal for advanced undergraduate and graduate classes in family studies and human development, sociology of the family, interdisciplinary developmental psychology, and social work classes that need a thorough perspective on the parent child relationship. Professionals and scholars in these fields seeking an interdisciplinary framework as well as research suggestions and incisive critiques of traditional perspectives will also find this innovative book a valuable addition to their reading lists.

Juvenile Crime and Justice
 William J. Chambliss, 2011-05-03 The authors of the 20 chapters in Juvenile Crime and Justice address various hotly debated topics along three loosely connected themes: prevention, prosecution, and corrections. Each author presents arguments both in favor of and opposed to various treatments, programs, and punishments, examining issues such as youth curfews, juveniles in adult courts, legal representation for juveniles, juvenile boot camps, group homes, out of home placement, and more. The chapters included cover the leading arguments pertaining to key topics in this field and point out where more research needs to be done, which at present includes many of the most controversial issues in juvenile justice policy. The Series The five brief issues based books in SAGE Reference's Key Issues in Crime Punishment Series offer examinations of controversial programs, practices, problems, or issues from varied perspectives. Volumes correspond to the five central subfields in the Criminal Justice curriculum: Crime, Criminal Behavior, Policing, The Courts, Corrections, and Juvenile Justice. Each volume consists of approximately 20 chapters offering succinct pro/con examinations, and Recommended Readings conclude each chapter, highlighting different approaches to or perspectives on the issue at hand. As a set, these volumes provide perfect reference support for students writing position papers in undergraduate courses spanning the Criminal Justice curriculum. Each title is approximately 350 pages in length.
