Lost Worlds Jonathan Dewald,2007-08-09 Today s interest in social history and private life is often seen as a twentieth century innovation Most often Lucien Febvre and the Annales school in France are credited with making social history a widely accepted way for historians to approach the past In Lost

Worlds historian Jonathan Dewald shows that we need to look back further in time into the nineteenth century when numerous French intellectuals developed many of the key concepts that historians employ today According to Dewald we need to view Febvre and other Annales historians as participants in an ongoing cultural debate over the shape and meanings of French history rather than as inventors of new topics of study He closely examines the work of Charles Augustin Sainte Beuve Hippolyte Taine the antiquarian Alfred Franklin Febvre himself the twentieth century historian Philippe Ari s and several others A final chapter compares specifically French approaches to social history with those of German historians between 1930 and 1970 Through such close readings Dewald looks beyond programmatic statements of historians intentions to reveal how history was actually practiced during these years A bold work of intellectual history Lost Worlds sheds much needed light on how contemporary ideas about the historian s task came into being Understanding this larger context enables us to appreciate the ideological functions performed by historical writing through the twentieth century

Lost Worlds Michael Bywater, 2012-09-20 A funny erudite and fascinating miscellany of things lost large and small from cultures to candies species to sports gear by the acclaimed columnist A C Grayling They go They vanish People Civilizations Languages Philosophies Works of art disappear species are extinguished books are lost Dunwich is drowned Pompeii buried Athena s statue gone from the Parthenon Suetonius s Lives of the Great Whores gone the way of the Roman Empire Whole libraries of knowledge galleries of secrets Gone Little things too Train compartments Snuff galoshes smog Your mother s perfume Michael Bywater argues that we are not defined by what we have but by what we have lost along the way In Lost Worlds he offers a witty eclectic and endlessly fascinating glossary of the missing a cabinet of absent curiosities weaving a web of everything we no longer have
