Operations Without Pain The Practice And Science Of Anaesthesia In Victorian Britain:

Operations Without Pain: The Practice and Science of Anaesthesia in Victorian Britain S. Snow, 2005-12-16 The introduction of anaesthesia to Victorian Britain marked a defining moment between modern medicine and earlier practices This book uses new information from John Snow's casebooks and London hospital archives to revise many of the existing historical assumptions about the early history of surgical anaesthesia By examining complex patterns of innovation reversals debate and geographical difference Stephanie Snow shows how anaesthesia became established as a routine part of British medicine

Emotions and Surgery in Britain, 1793-1912 Michael Brown, 2022-10-20 An innovative analytical account of the changing place of emotions in British surgery in the long nineteenth century

Pain J. Moscoso, 2012-09-10 Halfway between history and philosophy this book deals with the historical forms that have permitted the understanding of human suffering from the Renaissance to the present Representation sympathy imitation coherence and narrativity are but a few of the rhetorical recourses that men and women have employed in order to feel our pain

British Women Surgeons and their Patients, 1860-1918 Claire Brock, 2017-02-23 A rich new examination of the cultural social and self representation of the woman surgeon in Britain from 1860 to 1918 This title is also available as Open Access

The Cancer Problem Agnes Arnold-Forster, 2022-01-19 The Cancer Problem offers the first medical cultural and social history of cancer in nineteenth century Britain It begins by looking at a community of doctors and patients who lived and worked in the streets surrounding the Middlesex Hospital in London It follows in their footsteps as they walked the labyrinthine lanes and passages that branched off Tottenham Court Road then through seven chapters its focus expands to successively include the rivers lakes and forests of England the mountains poverty and hunger of the four nations of the British Isles the reluctant and resistant inhabitants of the British Empire and the networks of scientists and doctors spread across Europe and North America The Cancer Problem Malignancy in Nineteenth Century Britain argues that it was in the nineteenth century that cancer acquired the unique emotional symbolic and politicized status it maintains today Through an interrogation of the construction deployment and emotional consequences of the disease's incurability this book reframes our conceptualization of the relationship between medicine and modern life and reshapes our understanding of chronic and incurable maladies both past and present

Deliver Me from Pain Jacqueline H. Wolf, 2012-04-01 Despite today's historically low maternal and infant mortality rates in the United States labor continues to evoke fear among American women Rather than embrace the natural childbirth methods promoted in the 1970s most women welcome epidural anesthesia and even Cesarean deliveries In Deliver Me from Pain Jacqueline H Wolf asks how a treatment such as obstetric anesthesia even when it historically posed serious risk to mothers and newborns paradoxically came to assuage women's anxiety about birth Each chapter begins with the story of a birth dramatically illustrating the unique practices of the era being examined Deliver Me from Pain covers the development and use of anesthesia from ether and chloroform in the mid nineteenth century to amnesiacs barbiturates narcotics opioids tranquilizers saddle blocks spinals and gas during the mid twentieth century to epidural anesthesia today Labor pain is not merely a physiological response but a phenomenon that mothers and physicians perceive through a historical social and cultural lens Wolf examines these influences and argues that medical and lay views of labor pain and the concomitant acceptance of obstetric anesthesia have had a ripple effect creating the conditions for acceptance of other often unnecessary and sometimes risky obstetric treatments forceps the chemical induction and augmentation of labor episiotomy electronic fetal monitoring and Cesarean section As American women make decisions about anesthesia today Deliver Me from Pain offers them insight into how women made this choice in the past and why each generation of mothers has made dramatically different decisions

The History of the Brain and Mind Sciences Stephen T. Casper, Delia Gavrus, 2017 This history explores the exceptionally complex scientific and medical techniques and practices that have allowed practitioners to claim expertise in the brain and mind sciences over the past two centuries Based on meticulous historical research essays in this volume reveal the richness of the history of the brain and mind sciences and show that this history cannot be reduced to an uncomplicated narrative of progressive discovery Rather the volume contributors collectively contend that it is in the seemingly obscure peripheral and marginal stories of the past that the medicine and science of the brain and the mind took shape

Blessed Days of Anaesthesia Stephanie J. Snow, 2009 Among the great discoveries of the nineteenth century few offer a more fascinating insight into Victorian society than the new science of anaesthesia This vivid and engaging history reveals how the worlds of Victorian medics moralists and clergymen were plunged into turmoil and debate by the discovery and introduction of anaesthetic medicine

Tissue Culture in Science and Society D. Wilson, 2011-07-28 This book charts the social and cultural history of the scientific technique known as tissue culture It shows how tissue culture was a regular public presence in twentieth century Britain and argues that history can contribute to current debates surrounding research on human and animal tissue

The Story of Pain Joanna Bourke, 2014 The story of pain and suffering since the eighteenth century Prize winning historian Joanna Bourke charts how our understanding of pain and how to cope with it has changed completely over the last three centuries

Chloroformist Christine Ball, 2021-08-03 Operating with bare hands dressed in his street clothes he had taken those first steps that every training surgeon must take gripping the handle of a scalpel and making the first irrevocable cut into live human flesh For the surgeon training in the early 1840s these first surgical milestones were performed on a person who would recoil in terror and horror flinch pull away shake and scream and scream and scream Until 1846 surgery was performed without anaesthesia extraordinary operations carried out on conscious terrified patients Surgeons of that era were bold and courageous and saved many lives but anaesthesia changed everything With an unconscious patient the surgeon could take his time Surgery became slower more careful and more delicate And as anaesthesia removed the pain of surgery the medical world gave more attention to surgical infection heralding in the use of antiseptics and eventually aseptic surgery By 1881 the operating theatre was unrecognisable

Much has been written about surgery in the nineteenth century but little has been said about the development of the relationship between surgeon and anaesthetist For anaesthesia to mature and allow further advances in surgery a professional relationship had to develop between surgeons and anaesthetists Joseph Clover arguably did more than any other anaesthetist to develop that relationship In The Chloroformist Christine Ball tells the captivating story of an innovative hard working and deeply humane pioneer of modern patient care

Worboys,2013-11-11 This book is open access under a CC BY license The narrative of 20th century medicine is the conquering of acute infectious diseases and the rise in chronic degenerative diseases The history of fungal infections does not fit this picture This book charts the path of fungal infections from the mid 19th century to the dawn of the 21st century

Mental Hygiene and Psychiatry in Modern Britain J. Toms,2013-05-07 Through an examination that uses previously unavailable archives and little used primary literature this book places the twentieth century mental hygiene movement within the broad sweep of modern British psychiatry offering its own reinterpretation of important elements of this history

Women's Bodies and Medical Science L. Bryder,2017-10-20 An analysis of a scandal involving a doctor accused of allowing a number of women to develop cervical cancer from carcinoma in situ as part of an experiment he had been conducting since the 1960s into conservative treatment of the disease to more broadly explore dramatic changes in medical history in the second half of the twentieth century

Pain Rob Boddice,2017 What is pain Has the experience of pain always been the same How is pain related to the emotions to culture and to pleasure What happens to us when we feel pain How does pain work in the body and in the brain In this Very Short Introduction Rob Boddice explores the history culture and medical science of pain Charting the shifting meanings of pain across time and place he focuses on how the experience and treatment of pain have changed He describes historical hierarchies of pain experience that related pain to social class and race and the privileging of human states of pain over that of other animals From the pain concepts of classical antiquity to expressions of pain in contemporary art and modern medical approaches to the understanding treatment and management of pain Boddice weaves a multifaceted account of this central human experience Ranging from neuroscientific innovations in experimental medicine to the constructionist arguments of social scientists pain is shown to resist a timeless definition Pain is physical and emotional of body and mind and is always experienced subjectively and contextually ABOUT THE SERIES The Very Short Introductions series from Oxford University Press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area These pocket sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly Our expert authors combine facts analysis perspective new ideas and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable

Frederic Leighton KerenRosa Hammerschlag,2017-07-05 Keren Rosa Hammerschlag s Frederic Leighton Death Mortality Resurrection offers a timely reexamination of the art of the late Victorian period s most institutionally powerful artist Frederic Lord Leighton 1830 1896 As President of the Royal Academy from 1878 to 1896

Leighton was committed to the pursuit of beauty in art through the depiction of classical subjects executed according to an academic working method But as this book reveals Leighton's art and discourse were beset by the realisation that academic art would likely die with him Rather than achieving classical perfection Hammerschlag argues Leighton's figures hover in transitional states between realism and idealism flesh and marble life and death as gothic distortions of the classical ideal The author undertakes close readings of key paintings sculptures frescos and drawings in Leighton's oeuvre and situates them in the context of contemporaneous debates about death and resurrection in theology archaeology and medicine The outcome is a pleurably macabre counter biography that reconfigures what it meant to be not just a late Victorian neoclassicist and royal academician but President of the Victorian Royal Academy Anaesthetics of Existence Cressida J. Heyes, 2020-05-08 Experience is a thoroughly political category a social and historical product not authored by any individual At the same time the personal is political and one's own lived experience is an important epistemic resource In Anaesthetics of Existence Cressida J. Heyes reconciles these two positions drawing on examples of things that happen to us but are nonetheless excluded from experience If for Foucault an aesthetics of existence was a project of making one's life a work of art Heyes's anaesthetics of existence describes antiprojects that are tacitly excluded from life but should be brought back in Drawing on critical phenomenology genealogy and feminist theory Heyes shows how and why experience has edges and she analyzes phenomena that press against those edges Essays on sexual violence against unconscious victims the temporality of drug use and childbirth as a limit experience build a politics of experience while showcasing Heyes's much needed new philosophical method The Bureaucracy of Empathy Shira Shmueli, 2023-07-15 The Bureaucracy of Empathy revolves around two central questions What is pain And how do we recognize understand and ameliorate the pain of nonhuman animals Shira Shmueli investigates these ethical issues through a close and careful history of the origins implementation and enforcement of the 1876 Cruelty to Animals Act of Parliament which for the first time imposed legal restrictions on animal experimentation and mandated official supervision of procedures calculated to give pain to animal subjects Exploring how scientists bureaucrats and lawyers wrestled with the problem of animal pain and its perception Shmueli traces in depth and detail how the Act was enforced the medical establishment's initial resistance and then embrace of regulation and the challenges from anti vivisection advocates who deemed it insufficient protection against animal suffering She shows how a bureaucracy of empathy emerged to support and administer the legislation navigating incongruent interpretations of pain This crucial moment in animal law and ethics continues to inform laws regulating the treatment of nonhuman animals in laboratories farms and homes around the world to the present Perceptions of Pregnancy from the Seventeenth to the Twentieth Century Jennifer Evans, Ciara Meehan, 2016-12-31 This multi disciplinary collection brings together work by scholars from Britain America and Canada on the popular personal and institutional histories of pregnancy It follows the process of reproduction from conception and contraception to birth and parenthood The contributors explore several key themes narratives of pregnancy and birth the patient consumer and literary representations of childbearing This book explores how these issues have been constructed represented and experienced in a range of geographical locations from the seventeenth to the twentieth century Crossing the boundary between the pre modern and modern worlds the chapters reveal the continuities similarities and differences in understanding a process that is often in the popular mind set considered to be fundamental and unchanging

Hearts Exposed A. Nathoo, 2009-01-30 This book examines the relationship between medicine and the media in 1960 s Britain when the first wave of heart transplants were as much media as medical events and marked a decisive period in post war history Public trust in their doctors was significantly undermined and medicine was held publicly to account as never before
