Proximity Stolen Arrows:

Alpha Ruins Charles Borkhuis, 2000 Alpha Ruins was written as a collection of poems of sensual abstraction that attempts to advance the perimeters of a post modern critical lyric The project was to create poems that work in the gap between the analytical social and semiotic concerns of contemporary language writing and that of a more dream like mythic existential awareness of the body as an ontological presence in the writing process American Letters & Commentary, 1995 Primary Trouble Leonard Schwartz, Joseph Donahue, Edward Halsey Foster, 1996 Telling it Slant Mark Wallace, Steven Marks, 2002 This collection demonstrates the breadth and openness of the field of avant garde poetry by introducing a wide range of work in poetics theory and criticism from emerging writers Examining the directions innovative poetry has taken since the emergence and success of the Language movement the essays discuss new forms and the reorientation of older forms of poetry in order to embody present and ongoing involvements The essays center around four themes the relation between poetics and contemporary cultural issues new directions for avant garde practices in depth explorations of current poets and their predecessors and innovative approaches to the essay form or individual poetics Diverging from the traditional linear argumentative style of academic criticism many of the essays in this collection instead find critical forms more subtly related to poetry Viewed as a whole the essays return to a number of shared issues namely poetic form and the production of present day poetry While focusing on North American poetry the collection does reference the larger world of contemporary poetics including potential biases and omissions based on race and ethnicity Amazon com
