

THE REAL WORLD OF THE IMPRESSIONISTS

Paintings and Photographs 1848-1918

An impressionist painting of a vast field filled with red flowers, possibly poppies, in the foreground. In the middle ground, two figures are visible: a person wearing a yellow hat and a dark coat, and another person in a light-colored hat. A blue umbrella is open near the figure in the dark coat. The background features a line of dark trees and a small building with a red roof under a sky with soft, white clouds. The overall style is characteristic of Impressionism, with visible brushstrokes and a focus on light and color.

The Jurisprudence of Style Justin Desautels-Stein, 2018-02-22 In the contemporary domain of American legal thought there is a dominant way in which lawyers and judges craft their argumentative practice More colloquially this is a dominant conception of what it means to think like a lawyer Despite the widespread popularity of this conception it is rarely described in detail or given a name Justin Desautels Stein tells the story of how and why this happened and why it matters Drawing upon and updating the work of Harvard Law School's first generation of critical legal studies Desautels Stein develops what he calls a jurisprudence of style In doing so he uncovers the intellectual alliance first emerging at the end of the nineteenth century and maturing in the last third of the twentieth century between American pragmatism and liberal legal thought Applying the tools of legal structuralism and phenomenology to real world cases in areas of contemporary legal debate this book develops a practice oriented understanding of legal thought
