Textures of Light Cathryn Vasseleu, 2002-01-31
Textures of Light draws on the work of Luce Irigaray Maurice Merleau Ponty and Emmanuel Levinas to present an outstanding and ground breaking study of the vital importance of light in Western thought Since Plato's allegory of the cave light and the role of sight have been accorded a unique position in Western thought They have stood as a metaphor for truth and objectivity and the very axis of modern rationalism More recently however this status has come under significant criticism from continental and feminist thought which has stressed the privileging of subjectivity and masculinity in such a metaphor

Orogenies of Light Richard Leviton, 2019-10-29
ONE DAY IN 2084 EARTH'S ORIGINAL MOUNTAINS SUDDENLY REAPPEARED ON THE PLANET AS 85 000 DOMED CANOPIES OF LIGHT FROM THE STARS The story of this return is told by Blaise a well informed but mysterious figure who claims to be an engineer 134 years old and part of an ancient team that first designed the planet It's a chronicle of his last field assignment a unique career retrospective and a firsthand account of the momentous return of the domes These are giant half spheres of Light that originally helped create the biosphere and were the Earth's first mountains They generated the Earth's sacred sites and the mythic homes of the gods and linked them all in a global pattern of Light The domes arrived all at once and started to reorganize the global landscape It was their fourth visit and it would be several perilous years as the planet adjusts to it Blaise and his team of geomancers travel across the Earth and time to deal with the unprecedented perturbations set in motion by this celestial rescue of the planet Problems are rife the revolt of Pan and the Nature Spirits the continuing dark interference by humanity's ghostly forebears the resurgence of Babylon and its imperious agenda and the planet's dangerous drift towards becoming flattened like a hockey puck But the opportunities are fabulous too as the planet enters an era of unceasing Light and beatific conditions The return of the domes lays bare the true history of the Earth how it diminished from perfection the benign superintendents of this bold experiment and who its earliest inhabitants were and the massive problems they created which still affect us today It is a genuinely apocalyptic moment as the Earth reveals its original bright pattern of energy and consciousness and starts at last to fulfill its destiny Locating Europe Rodolphe Gasché,2021-06-01 Is the idea of Europe outdated The concept of European unity the animating spirit of the European Union seems increasingly fragile in the face of far right populist movements In Locating Europe Rodolphe Gasch attempts to answer the question of how to think about Europe Is it a figure a concept or an idea Is there anything still compelling and urgent about the idea of Europe By looking at phenomenologist and postphenomenological thinkers in the second half of the 20th century Gasch reveals that Europe is more than just one geographical and cultural entity The idea of Europe is based on common foundations a distinctive conception of reason of self criticism of responsibility freedom equality human rights and democracy and it is these foundations that are under threat In Locating Europe A Figure a Concept an Idea Gasch engages the philosophy of Hans Georg Gadamer Karl Jaspers Karl L with and others focuses on the most significant philosophical representations of Europe and explores the potential and especially the limits of the notion of Europe The Eschatology of the Restoration of All Things Mike Parsons,2023-05-17

Light from Light Judith L. Corey, 2016-12-01 Cosmology and theology share a long held relationship with one another explaining as they do the constitution of the world and the interaction of forces The author explores the history of this relationship from ancient pre scientific and theological explanations through to contemporary science and philosophy In this history a particular problem is highlighted by the author the prevalence of dualism from Aristotelian philosophy to modern mechanistic conceptions many of these accounts presume a sharp absolute dichotomy between matter and spirit and the material world and the divine Increasingly dualistic conceptions are called into question by contemporary science theology and philosophy The author argues that a particular trajectory stemming from Greek Heraclitian and Platonic philosophy to non orthodox and early Christian theologies provides a fruitful resource for contemporary discussions This is the Logos theology and its attendant language of light The author brings this tradition into dialogue with contemporary science and theology to construct an integrative account Costas Papadopoulos, Holley Moyes, 2021-12-09 Light has a fundamental role to play in our perception of the world. Natural or artificial lightscapes orchestrate uses and experiences of space and in turn influence how people construct and negotiate their identities from social relationships and attribute meaning to their material practices. Archaeological practice seeks to analyse the material culture of past societies by examining the interaction between people, things and spaces. As light is a crucial factor that mediates these relationships, understanding its principles and addressing illumination's impact on sensory experience and perception should be a fundamental pursuit in archaeology. However, in archaeological reasoning, studies of lightscapes have remained largely neglected and understudied. This volume provides a comprehensive and accessible consideration of light in archaeology and beyond by including dedicated and fully illustrated chapters covering diverse aspects of illumination in different spatial and temporal contexts from prehistory to the present. Written by leading international scholars, it interrogates the qualities and affordances of light in different contexts and in material environments, explores its manipulation and problematises its elusive properties. The result is a synthesis of invaluable insights into sensory experience and perception, demonstrating illumination's vital impact on social, cultural and artistic contexts.

Light and Life. A Collection of New Hymns and Tunes for Sunday-schools, Prayer Meetings, Praise Meetings, and Revival Meetings

The Oxford Handbook of Johannine Studies Judith M. Lieu, Martinus C. de Boer, 2018-07-19 The contribution of the Johannine literature to the development of Christian theology and particularly to Christology is uncontested, although careful distinction between the implications of its language, especially that of sonship in a first-century Jewish context and in the subsequent theological controversies of the early Church, has been particularly important if not always easily sustained. Recent study has shaken off the weight of subsequent Christian appropriation of Johannine language which has sometimes made readers immune to the ambiguities and challenging tensions in its thought. The Oxford Handbook of Johannine Studies begins with chapters concentrating on discussions of the background and context of the Johannine literature, leading to the different ways of reading the text and thence to the primary theological themes within them, before concluding with some discussion of the reception of the Johannine literature in the early church. Inevitably, given their different genres and levels of complexity, some chapters pay most if not all attention to the Gospel, whereas others are more able to give a more substantial place to the letters. All the contributors have themselves made significant contributions to their topic. They have sought to give a balanced introduction to the relevant scholarship and debate, but they have also been able to present the issues from their own perspective. The Handbook will help those less familiar with the Johannine literature to get a sense of the major areas of debate and why the field continues to be one of vibrant and exciting study, and that those who are already part of the conversation will find new insights to enliven their own on going engagement with these writings
