Parris, 2012-12-06 PROFESSOR SIR KENNETH L STUART Pain control has become one of medicine s most rapidly growing disciplines and I welcome the opportunity to write this foreword to a book that I am sure will make its own unique contribution to advancing this discipline My pleasure in writing it is heightened by my pride in the fact that its editor was at one time an undergraduate student of mine at the University of the West Indies in Jamaica One of the uncertainties teachers always face is that they can never predict how their charges will turn out This uncertainty has been happily resolved Dr Parris professional career has been marked by the same dedication and commitment that characterized his undergraduate days and that clearly has been brought to the preparation of this scholarly and practical work Pain relief has been until recently a comparatively neglected field Its neglect was determined not so much by lack of professional awareness of its importance but mainly because so little could be done about it in the past

Physical Illness and Depression in Older Adults Gail M. Williamson, David R. Shaffer, Patricia A. Parmelee, 2006-05-11 Aging is inevitable A psychological recession is not As I go about my daily life I read and hear about the sometimes scary things that are happening to other people As the saying goes bad news sells newspapers But I usually can take some solace in reasoning that this bad stuff assuredly will not occur in my life After reading this book however one message has gotten through I cannot dismiss those older people described in the various chapters as being dissimilar to me After all old person is a term that can be applied to me in a few more years On this point I once heard the following rhetorical question applied to the prejudice actions of the TV character Archie Bunker What would he say about those Puerto Ricans if on his next birthday he knew that he would become a Puerto Rican As to aging we best pay close attention because we soon will be those elders This is why the alarming facts of this book that our elders often are experiencing elevated levels of physical illnesses and depression grabbed me by the proverbial throat
