

'Economic Recessions' vs 'Economic Depressions'

Is there a real difference between a recession and a depression?

A recession is a downward trend in the business cycle, one that is characterized by a decline in production and employment.

This trend lowers household income and spending, which consequently causes many businesses and households to delay making large investments or purchases.

A recession can be limited geographically, like in a single country.

A depression is a major downswing (far more severe than a downward trend) in the business cycle.

A depression is characterized by sharply reduced widespread unemployment, a serious decline of growth in construction, and great reductions in international trade and capital movements.

A depression can have global reach.
