Murder on the Reservation Ray B. Browne,2004-06-30 In Murder on the Reservation Ray B Browne surveys the work of several of the best known writers of crime fiction involving Indian characters and references virtually every book that qualifies as an Indian related mystery Browne believes that within the genre of crime fiction all people are equal and the increasing role of Indian characters in criminal fiction proves what an important role this genre plays as a powerful democratizing force in American society He endeavors to both analyze and evaluate the individual work of the authors and at the same time provide a commentary on the various attitudes towards race relations in the United States that each author presents Some Indian fiction is intended to right the wrongs the authors feel have been leveled against Indians Other authors use Indian lore and

Indian locales as exotic elements and locations for the entertaining and commercially successful stories they want to write

Restoring North America's Birds Robert Askins, 2002-01-01 This accessible book draws on recent research on bird species and their habitats to explain how basic principles of bird ecology and landscape ecology can help us create scientifically sound plans for protecting and restoring the rich diversity of North American birds This edition includes an afterword that reviews noteworthy literature that has appeared since the first edition was completed in 1999

This new material on such key issues as the importance of preserving large expanses of natural habitat the importance of maintaining early successional habitats and the habitat requirements of neotropical migrants shows how the research on landscape ecology of birds has shaped conservation policy more rapidly than most would have predicted

Praise for the earlier edition This book is first rate very broad in scope and appeal readable and truly integrative in its coverage of landscape ecology and its implications for avian conservation biology It will be of significant interest to researchers and students of conservation biology ornithology and ecology land managers conservation agencies and anyone with an interest in protecting the rich avian diversity of North America
