Genocide Norman M. Naimark, 2017 Genocide occurs in every time period and on every continent Using the 1948 U N definition of genocide as its departure point this book examines the main episodes in the history of genocide from the beginning of human history to the present Norman M Naimark lucidly shows that genocide both changes over time depending on the character of major historical periods and remains the same in many of its murderous dynamics He examines cases of genocide as distinct episodes of mass violence but also in historical connection with earlier episodes Unlike much of the literature in genocide studies Naimark argues that genocide can also involve the elimination of targeted social and political groups providing an insightful analysis of communist and anti communist genocide He pays special attention to settler sometimes colonial genocide as a subject of major concern illuminating how deeply the elimination of indigenous peoples especially in Africa South America and North America influenced recent historical developments At the same time the classic cases of genocide in the twentieth Century the Armenian Genocide the Holocaust Rwanda and Bosnia are discussed together with recent episodes in Darfur and Congo

Rewriting American Identity in the Fiction and Memoirs of Isabel Allende B. Craig, 2013-08-20

Moving away from territorially bound narratives toward a more kinetic conceptualization of identity this book represents the first analysis of the politics of American identity within the fiction and memoirs of Isabel Allende Craig offers a radical transformation of societal frameworks through revised notions of place temporality and space

Fins into Limbs Brian K. Hall, 2008-09-15 Long ago fish fins evolved into the limbs of land vertebrates and tetrapods During this transition some elements of the fin were carried over while new features developed Lizard limbs bird wings and human arms and legs are therefore all evolutionary modifications of the original tetrapod limb A comprehensive look at the current state of research on fin and limb evolution and development this volume addresses a wide range of subjects including growth structure maintenance function and regeneration Divided into sections on evolution development and transformations the book begins with a historical introduction to the study of fins and limbs and goes on to consider the evolution of limbs into wings as well as adaptations associated with specialized modes of life such as digging and burrowing Fins into Limbs also discusses occasions when evolution appears to have been reversed in whales for example whose front limbs became flippers when they reverted to the water as well as situations in which limbs are lost such as in snakes With contributions from world renowned researchers Fins into Limbs will be a font for further investigations in the changing field of evolutionary developmental biology

Women Make Horror Alison Peirse, 2020-09-17 Winner of the the 2021 Best Edited Collection Award from BAFTSS Winner of the 2021 British Fantasy Award in Best Non Fiction Finalist for the 2020 Bram Stoker Award for Superior Achievement in Non Fiction Runner Up for Book of the Year in the 19th Annual Rondo Halton Classic Horror Awards But women were never out there making horror films that s why they are not written about you can t include what doesn t exist Women are just not that interested in making horror films This is what you get when you are a woman working in horror whether as a writer academic festival programmer or filmmaker These assumptions are based on decades of flawed scholarly critical and industrial thinking about the genre Women Make Horror sets right these misconceptions Women have always made horror They have always been an audience for the genre and today as this book reveals women academics critics and filmmakers alike remain committed to a film genre that offers almost unlimited opportunities for exploring and deconstructing social and cultural constructions of gender femininity sexuality and the body Women Make Horror explores narrative and experimental cinema short anthology and feature filmmaking and offers case studies of North American Latin American European East Asian and Australian filmmakers films and festivals With this book we can transform how we think about women filmmakers and genre
