Congress. House. Committee on Resources. Subcommittee on National Parks, Forests, and Lands,1995

Beyond the Global City Gordon Nelson,2012-05-08 Policies promoting Toronto as a global city and provincial economic engine have been seen as beneficial to the development of all of Ontario yet much of the province has borne significant environmental social economic and political costs as a result of one city s growth Contributors to this volume call for a radical re imagining of public policy at local provincial and federal levels that accounts for Ontario s overlooked regions Beyond the Global City presents a kaleidoscopic view of the province the rich fields and small towns of the southwest the productive agricultural lands of rural Huron County historic Kingston and the Upper St Lawrence the social and cultural diversity of the Ottawa valley the near mythical woodlands and waters of Muskoka and Georgian Bay and the heavily exploited coasts and waters of the Great Lakes to provide a deeper understanding of its various communities In a series of regional studies contributors describe each area s distinctive qualities and challenges and offer recommendations about what is needed to move them forward in a more equitable and sustainable way Two initial historical chapters lay the framework for the regional discussions while cross cutting and integrated chapters analyze the state of natural and cultural heritage and current development theory provincially offering guidance for the future Place and Politics in Modern Italy John A.

Agnew,2002-10 How do the places where people live help structure and restructure their sociopolitical identities and interests John A Agnew presents a theoretical model that addresses the relation of place to politics and applies it to a series of case studies set in modern Italy The Politics of Planting Shaul Ephraim Cohen,1993-06 On the open landscape of Israel and the West Bank where pine and cypress forests grow alongside olive groves tree planting has become symbolic of conflicting claims to the land Palestinians cultivate olive groves as a vital agricultural resource while the Israeli government has made restoration of mixed growth forests a national priority Although both sides plant for a variety of purposes both have used tree planting to assert their presence on and claim to disputed land Shaul Ephraim Cohen has conducted an unprecedented study of planting in the region and the control of land it signifies In The Politics of Planting he provides historical background and examines both the politics behind Israel s afforestation policy its consequences Focusing on the open land surrounding Jerusalem and four Palestinian villages outside the city this study offers a new perspective on the conflict over land use in a region where planting has become a political tool For the valuable data it presents collected from field work previously unpublished documents and interviews and the insight it provides into this political struggle this will be an important book for anyone studying the Israeli Palestinian conflict Isle of Fire Christian A. Kull,2004-07-19 Long considered both best friend and worst enemy to humankind fire is at once creative and destructive On the endangered tropical island of Madagascar these two faces of fire have fueled a century long conflict between rural farmers and island leaders Based on detailed fieldwork in Malagasy villages and a thorough archival investigation Isle of Fire offers a detailed analysis of why Madagascar has always been aflame why it always will be aflame and ultimately as Christian Kull argues why it should remain aflame Handbook of Environmental and Resource Economics Jeroen C. J. M. Van den Bergh, 2002-01-01 This major reference book comprises specially commissioned surveys in environmental and resource economics written by an international team of experts Authoritative yet accessible each entry provides a state of the art summary of key areas that will be invaluable to researchers practitioners and advanced students Calvinists Incorporated Anne Kelly Knowles, 1997-02 Bringing immigrants onstage as central players in the drama of rural capitalist transformation Anne Kelly Knowles traces a community of Welsh immigrants to Jackson and Gallia counties in southern Ohio After reconstructing the gradual process of community building Knowles focuses on the pivotal moment when the immigrants became involved with the industrialization of their new region as workers and investors in Welsh owned charcoal iron companies Setting the southern Ohio Welsh in the context of Welsh immigration as a whole from 1795 to 1850 Knowles explores how these strict Calvinists responded to the moral dilemmas posed by leaving their native land and experiencing economic success in the United States Knowles draws on a wide variety of sources including obituaries and community histories to reconstruct the personal histories of over 1 700 immigrants The resulting account will find appreciative readers not only among historical geographers but also among American economic historians and historians of religion
