The Routledge Handbook of Evolution and Philosophy Richard Joyce, 2017-08-16 In recent years the relation between contemporary academic philosophy and evolutionary theory has become ever more active multifaceted and productive The connection is a bustling two way street In one direction philosophers of biology make significant contributions to theoretical discussions about the nature of evolution such as What is a species What is reproductive fitness Does selection operate primarily on genes and What is an evolutionary function In the other direction a broader group of philosophers appeal to Darwinian selection in an attempt to illuminate traditional philosophical puzzles such as How could a brain state have representational content Are moral judgments justified Why do we enjoy fiction and Are humans invariably selfish In grappling with these questions this interdisciplinary collection includes cutting edge examples from both directions of traffic The thirty contributions written exclusively for this volume are divided into six sections The Nature of Selection Evolution and Information Human Nature Evolution and Mind Evolution and Ethics and Evolution Aesthetics and Art Many of the contributing philosophers and psychologists are international leaders in their fields

Minds and Persons Anthony O'Hear, 2003-08-25 The nature of the mind and of consciousness the reality of freedom the concept of agency and the relation of language to the mental are all basic perennial philosophical issues They are some of the topics pursued in these original essays by leading thinkers in the field of the contemporary philosophy of mind and action The essays are based on the lectures given in The Royal Institute of Philosophy's annual lecture series for 2001 2002
