Naturally Chinese Ruth Rodale Spira,1974 Naturally Chinese Ruth Rodale Spira,1978-03 China to Chinatown J.A.G. Roberts,2002 China to Chinatown tells the story of one of the most notable examples of the globalization of food the spread of Chinese recipes ingredients and cooking styles to the Western world Beginning with the accounts of Marco Polo and Franciscan missionaries J A G Roberts describes how Westerners first impressions of Chinese food were decidedly mixed with many regarding Chinese eating habits as repugnant Chinese food was brought back to the West merely as a curiosity The Western encounter with a wider variety of Chinese cuisine dates from the first half of the 20th century when Chinese food spread to the West with emigrant communities The author shows how Chinese cooking has come to be regarded by some as among the world s most sophisticated cuisines and yet is harshly criticized by others for example on the grounds that its preparation involves cruelty to animals Roberts discusses the extent to which Chinese food as a facet of Chinese culture overseas has remained differentiated and questions whether its ethnic identity is dissolving Written in a lively style the book will appeal to food historians and specialists in Chinese culture as well as to readers interested in Chinese cuisine

Healthy Yet Amazingly Delicious Chinese Recipes Ted Alling, Why Chinese respect their food that much Cooking is a very important part of living in China It is even connected with its philosophy and medicine In China the art of cooking is even equalized with the theatre music or even literature Chinese people believe that eating is not just a need but also a satisfaction which brings health and harmony peace of mind and long life Chinese cuisine is one of the oldest in the world too therefore one of the most popular It dates a thousand of years ago by the time of first emperors What could be found on a plate was then considered to be influential on the health and well being the clearness of the mind and the harmony of the spirit of every individual This has continued to this day For the Chinese food is not just a daily ritual but is associated with every pleasant moment of life They go so far that they consider a nation that cannot distinguish tastes cannot cook or have their own kitchen to be one that has no culture at all According to them civilization is strictly related to food The Publishers Weekly ,1972 Publisher's Monthly ,1990 The Long & the Short of Chinese Cooking James Rollband,1976
