Nature A Changing Picture:

Changing Images of Pictorial Space William V. Dunning, 1991-03-01 No artist critic or art historian disputes the importance of recording how and why our conceptions and methods of depicting pictorial space have changed from ancient to modern times and yet no previous book has provided a comprehensive history centered around these changing images of pictorial space and the ways in which their evolution reflects ideological changes in society Dunning traces the two thousand year evolution of the conception and the depiction of space in European primarily Italian and French and American painting Unraveling one illusory image after another into their particular elements he explains the development of new styles and images in painting as a continuous rearrangement of these basic elements Following this progression through the Greco Roman period the Italian Renaissance impressionism and the end of modern art the author concludes with today's postmodern concentration on linguistic aspects in painting a change from the former emphasis on space and illusion Changing Images of Pictorial Space with over forty illustrations will be of interest to a wide audience from art historians painters and art educators to general readers who wish to understand more about one of the central organizing principles in all schools and periods of art

Visions of Nature Riyan J. G. van den Born, W. T. de Groot, Rob H. J. Lenders, 2006 Visions of nature are the ideas that people hold of what nature is and how we should relate to it These visions are important for the design of democratically grounded landscape and nature policies These contributions were presented at an expert meeting at Radboud University June 2001

Meditation from Buddhist, Hindu, and Taoist Perspectives Robert Altobello, 2009 Engages readers with its original philosophical and pragmatic analysis of traditional Asian religions philosophy meditation practice and the supreme spiritual ideals associated with the Hindu Buddhist and Taoist traditions The text boldly bridges the theory practice distinction A central underpinning rests on the assumption that meditation practice without theory is groundless and that theory without practice is useless Identifies and analyzes common elements found across traditions in which the practice of meditation plays a central role in human development and readers will find a wealth of detailed reflection on the relationship between spiritual growth and meditation practice from the Hindu Buddhist and Taoist perspectives From publisher description

Gaps in Nature Ellen Spolsky, 1993-01-01 This book is a study of the relation between cognitive linguistics and literary theory Theory of literary interpretation is reinterpreted in terms of current debate in cognitive science While research in the humanities and social sciences is reasonably concerned with charting the power of culture to structure and constrain Spolsky suggests that it is worthwhile to investigate the role of biological materialism as co legislator of human life and understanding The inevitable slippage we have come to acknowledge between words and the world has at least an analogue and presumably also a source in the workings of the human brain The Magic of Digital Nature Photography Rob Sheppard,2006 For anyone who has tried to capture a blazing sunset or catch the stark and simple beauty of bare tree limbs in winter this manual will prove irresistible Rather than providing ideas of what to photograph Sheppard presents invaluable insider techniques and insights use a histogram to get the ideal exposure or white balance to create atmospheric images Find out how to shoot crisp close ups or awe inspiring panoramic shots and how to enhance pictures by using filters such as grads and polarizers See how computer and image editing software can turn ordinary images into extraordinary photos Each section lists 10 Quick Tips for handling common outdoor photography challenges The Nature of Time Ulrich Meyer,2013-07-25 This book presents a modal account that emphasizes the similarities between times and the possible worlds in modal logic instead of a spatial account of time that treats instants like positions in space Religion, Reason and Nature in Early Modern Europe R. Crocker,2013-03-14 From a variety of perspectives the essays presented here explore the profound interdependence of natural philosophy and rational religion in the long seventeenth century that begins with the burning of Bruno in 1600 and ends with the Enlightenment in the early Eighteenth century From the writings of Grotius on natural law and natural religion and the speculative libertin novels of Cyrano de Bergerac to the better known works of Descartes Malebranche Cudworth Leibniz Boyle Spinoza Newton and Locke an increasing emphasis was placed on the rational relationship between religious doctrine natural law and a personal divine providence While evidence for this intrinsic relationship was to be located in different places in the ideas already present in the mind in the observations and experiments of the natural philosophers and even in the history present experience and prophesied future of mankind the result enabled and shaped the broader intellectual and scientific discourses of the Enlightenment Symmetry As A Developmental Principle In Nature And Art Werner Hahn,1998-10-16 Looking beyond the boundaries of various disciplines the author demonstrates that symmetry is a fascinating phenomenon which provides endless stimulation and challenges He explains that it is possible to readapt art to the sciences and vice versa by means of an evolutionary concept of symmetry Many pictorial examples are included to enable the reader to fully understand the issues discussed Based on the artistic evidence that the author has collected he proposes that the new ars evolutoria can function as an example for the sciences The book is divided into three distinct parts each one focusing on a special issue In Part I the phenomenon of symmetry including its discovery and meaning is reviewed The author looks closely at how Vitruvius Polyclitus Democritus Plato Aristotle Plotinus Augustine Alberti Leonardo da Vinci and Durer viewed symmetry This is followed by an explanation on how the concept of symmetry developed The author further discusses symmetry as it appears in art and science as well as in the modern age Later he expounds the view of symmetry as an evolutionary concept which can lead to a new unity of science In Part II he covers the points of contact between the form developing process in nature and art He deals with biological questions in particular evolution The collection of new and precise data on perception and knowledge with regard to the postulated reality of symmetry leads to further development of the evolutionary theory of symmetry in Part III The author traces the enormous treasure of observations made in nature and culture back to a few underlying structural principles He demonstrates symmetry as a far reaching leading structuring causal element of evolution as the idea lying behind nature and culture Numerous controllable reproducible double mirror experiments on a new stereoscopic vision verify a symmetrization theory of perception Trinitroluene Poisoning--its Nature, Diagnosis, and Prevention Carl Voegtlin, 1920
