Nature And Destiny Of Man Vol I Human Nature:

The Nature and Destiny of Man Reinhold Niebuhr, 1996-01-01 Thought to be Niebuhr's most significant work as well as one of the few great 20th century works of theology by an American writer considers human nature from a Christian perspective

Nature and Destiny of Man Reinhold Niebuhr, 2018-09-21 2018 Reprint of 1941 Edition Full facsimile of the original edition not reproduced with Optical Recognition software Volume One Human Nature A collection of theological lectures delivered by Niebuhr in 1939 The Nature and Destiny of Man tackles the Christian concept of human nature the powerlessness of man and Christianity's impact on human history Delivered just before the outbreak of World War II these lectures were so influential that Cold War containment policies and aspects of realpolitik can be traced back to them Especially recommended for those interested in ontology

Human Nature and the Discipline of Economics Patricia Donohue-White, 2002-01-01 Foundations of Economic Personalism is a series of three book length monographs each closely examining a significant dimension of the Center for Economic Personalism's unique synthesis of Christian personalism and free economic market theory In the aftermath of the momentous geo political and economic changes of the late 1980s a small group of Christian social ethicists began to converse with free market economists over the morality of market activity This interdisciplinary exchange eventually led to the founding of a new academic subdiscipline under the rubric of economic personalism These scholars attempt to integrate economic theory history and methodology with Christian personalism's stress upon human dignity humane social structures and social justice This second volume in the series surveys the anthropological foundations to the disciplines of economics and moral theology The first part of the book presents an overview of the German French and Polish branches of personalist thought Particular attention is given to theological anthropology especially as it is developed by such thinkers as Emmanuel Mounier Max Scheler Gabriel Marcel Karol Wojtyla and Emil Brunner Part two surveys models of human nature that have been espoused by various schools of free market thought including mainstream neoclassical economics In conclusion the authors demonstrate how an expanded understanding of human nature can augment the ability of economic science to model and predict human behavior Is

Love Your Enemies Lisa Sowle Cahill, 1994 The author examines the theological bases of just war theory and pacifism especially in the light of the concept of God as that motif illuminates Christian discipleship Differences between the theory of just war and the practice of pacifism are highlighted in the overview of the history of Christian thought on the subject and the inclusiveness of the ideal of the kingdom for pacifism is emphasized

Augustinian and Ecclesial Christian Ethics D. Stephen Long, 2018-08-15 What is the relationship between the command to love one's enemies and the use of violence and or other coercive political means This work examines this question by comparing and contrasting two important contemporary approaches to Christian ethics neoAugustinian and the ecclesial or neoAnabaptist It traces the complicated conversation that has taken place since John Howard Yoder took on Reinhold Niebuhr's interpretation of the Anabaptists in the 1940's It consists of three parts The first part traces the development of the Augustinian Niebuhrian approach to ethics from Niebuhr through those who have advanced his work including Paul Ramsey Timothy Jackson Charles Mathewes Eric Gregory and Jennifer Herdt It also examines the Augustinian ethics of Oliver O'Donovan John Milbank and Nicholas Wolterstorff Along with tracing the Augustinian approach and its trajectories through agapism theology and the interpretation of Augustine it identifies fifteen criticisms that this approach brings against the neoAnabaptists The second part traces the origin of the ecclesial or neoAnabaptist approach and then examines its relationship to and criticism of agapism what theological doctrines are central and its interpretation of Augustine Its purpose is primarily constructive by explaining the role that ecclesiology Christology and eschatology have among the neoAnabaptists The third part addresses the criticisms levied by Augustinians against the neoAnabaptists by drawing on the constructive theology in the second part It intends to show where the Augustinian critics are correct where they have missed key theological teachings and where they misrepresent It also assesses the summons to the nationalist project the Augustinians put to the neoAnabaptists If this work is successful this third part will not be defensive It will instead illumine the reasons for the criticisms and suggest means by which the conversation that began between Yoder and Niebuhr can continue and possibly bear fruit for theological ethics in both its ecclesial and nationalist projects for generations to come

The Realist Case for Global Reform William E. Scheuerman, 2011-04-11 Far from seeing international reform as well meaning but potentially irresponsible Progressive Realists like E.H. Carr John Herz Hans J. Morgenthau and Reinhold Niebuhr developed forward looking ideas which offer an indispensable corrective to many presently influential views about global politics Progressive Realism Scheuerman argues offers a compelling and provocative vision of radical global change which when properly interpreted can help buttress current efforts to address the most pressing international issues

A Journey Through Christian Theology William P. Anderson, A non threatening entrance into texts from the Apostolic Fathers to Mary Daly

The Poetics of Grace: Christian Ethics as Theodicy Jeph Holloway, 2013-04-09 What is God doing about a world marked by conflict and division What about a world in which our technologies promise great good but also threaten our existence What is God doing in a world where the demands for accumulation and acquisition create division and despair Can Christians hope to be of positive influence in a world that does not always support reflect or even understand Christian commitments Christian ethics often raises such questions as these and the possible answers vary widely Paul's Letter to the Ephesians is a tremendous resource for exploring a faithful response to perhaps the toughest question of all what is God doing about evil The role of Christian ethics is to take seriously the challenge that whatever God is doing God calls us to participate in a distinctive task that embraces our own commitments and labors within the divine purpose Ephesians says that God has taken the initiative to pursue that purpose and remarkably offers that we ourselves are part of the answer to the question what is God doing about evil Reinhold Niebuhr's Paradox Daniel Malotky, 2012-01-01 We are caught between tendencies toward moral paralysis and postures of violence with their intellectual birthing grounds reflected even among those who consciously seek to avoid them Reinhold Niebuhr's paradoxical conception of the self and his defense of traditional Christian convictions in this light opens the door to a deeper understanding of the problem as well as its potential solution
