Nature Into Art Designing With Our Plane:

Colour in Art, Design & Nature C. A. Brebbia, C. Greated, M. W. Collins, 2011 This book is ambitiously interdisciplinary and may be divided into four main sections defined in terms of the authors themselves Firstly there are two contributions by biologists Secondly the largest section is by practising artists Thirdly there are two engineering based contributions Finally two contributions address some of the historical proponents of colour theory and art These eleven works in full colour form a striking contribution to the commonwealth of colour studies and to a possible unification of Snow's two cultures Colour and interdisciplinarity go hand in hand This so often involves the authors leaving the comfort zone of their original speciality and striving for excellence in another The personal story of Franziska Schenk is but one good example It seems that our perceptions of aesthetics and beauty must be very flexible indeed as to find absolute opposites equally fascinating If so it goes to show how wonderful are the construction and operation of the human brain Does psychology win in the end Does colour lead to a single culture

Michelangelo's Design Principles, Particularly in Relation to Those of Raphael Erwin Panofsky, 2020-06-23 Abstract The discovery of the actual manuscript was featured on the front pages of the major German newspapers and reported throughout the world It consists of 334 pages typewritten with extensive handwritten amendments notes and edits According to Gerda Panofsky her husband had continued to expand and edit the manuscript until 1922 and was preparing it for publication when he had to leave it behind In this study Panofsky provides a detailed analysis of Michelangelo's artistic style comparing Michelangelo directly with Raphael and then later taking a larger historical view This text offers important new information about the evolution of Panofsky's scholarship as well as on the state of research on Michelangelo and the High Renaissance during a period of transition for the discipline in which formal readings of artworks began to take precedence over artists' biographies
