News Media Civil War And Humanitarian Action:

The News Media, Civil War, and Humanitarian Action Larry Minear, Colin Scott, Thomas George Weiss, 1996 This brief volume looks at institutional interactions between the news media both print and electronic on the one hand and government policymakers and humanitarian agencies on the other Case studies from Liberia northern Iraq Somalia the former Yugoslavia Haiti and Rwanda distill some of the experiences gained from calamities that have elicited widely varying coverage and responses Acknowledging that the three sets of actors have differing agendas limitations and constituencies the book nevertheless identifies a common interest in improving the quality of interactions for the benefit of victims from About the book Global Migrants, Global Refugees Aristide R. Zolberg, Peter M. Benda, 2001-06-01 In recent years several influential commentators have stated or strongly implied that the advanced industrial democracies are today being overwhelmed by a host of problems including rapid population growth the breakup of multi ethnic states environmental degradation and increasing economic differentials between the developing and developed worlds for which no effective solutions are at hand The migration inducing potential of these post Cold War developments has been a particular source of concern This volume provides a counter catastrophic view of developments and a more sober and balanced assessment of the challenges the United States and other industrial democracies face in the sphere of international migration than that offered in recent years The first part is devoted to a diagnosis of the problem revaluation of the notion of a migration crisis by examining the likely consequences of population growth environmental degradation and political conflict in the developing and post communist worlds Special attention is also given to the manifestations of these forces in the western hemisphere where they may have direct consequences for immigration to the United States In the second part the implications for U S policy are considered ranging from promotion of democracy and development of strategies for minimizing international migrations and refugee flows to the intricacies of humanitarian relief and intervention when preventive measures prove ineffective The Oxford

Handbook of International Organizations Jacob Katz Cogan, Ian Hurd, Ian Johnstone, 2016 This text provides an authoritative account of the law and politics of international organisations Looking at the role function and history of organisations it offers a wide ranging and thorough analysis of the area Television News and Human Rights in the US & UK Shawna M. Brandle, 2015-12-22 Does the CNN Effect exist Political communications scholars have debated the influence of television news coverage on international affairs since television news began especially in relation to the coverage of massive human rights violations These debates have only intensified in the last 20 years as new technologies have changed the nature of news and the news cycle But despite frequent assertion little research into the CNN Effect or whether television coverage of human rights violations causes state action exists Bridging across the disciplines of human right studies comparative politics and communication studies in a way that has not been done this book looks at television news coverage of human rights in the US and UK to answer the question of whether the CNN Effect actually exists

Examining the human rights content in television news in the US and UK yields insights to what television news producers and policy makers consider to be human rights and what if anything audiences can learn about human rights from watching television news After reviewing 20 years of footage using three different types of content analyses of American television news broadcasts and two different types of British news broadcasts and comparing those results with human rights rankings and print news coverage of human rights Shawns M Brandle concludes that despite rhetoric from both countries in support of human rights there is not enough coverage of human rights in either country to argue that television media can spur state action on human rights issues More simply the violations will not be televised A welcome and timely book presenting an important examination of human rights coverage on television news Media, Wars and Politics Ekaterina

Balabanova,2017-11-30 The interaction between media and foreign policy is a critical dimension of the so called age of new military humanitarianism The media is now more effective in gathering and distributing information all over the world and media coverage of humanitarian wars allows for information and images to reach a wide audience with great immediacy and realism For policy making the 24 7 news cycle means high levels of exposure to fast breaking international stories receiving global attention and producing a powerful do something effect This topical book widens the debate beyond US media and policy making by considering the case of Western and Eastern European media and policy processes It tests the wider application of existing theoretical approaches and provides useful comparisons allowing the reader to draw conclusions on the media policy relationship It is an excellent resource for all those interested in political communication European politics and media studies The Media and International Security Stephen Badsey,2013-09-13 A collection of the papers from the 1995 Sandhurst conference presented by leading members of the armed forces the media and academia The conference marked a major advance in British thinking on this very topical and fast moving subject bringing together authorities from various fields in a multidisciplinary investigation which has been and will be of great interest to a wide variety of specialist readers The Media and the Rwanda Genocide Allan Thompson,2007-01-20 Explores the role of the media in the

Rwandan genocide within the country and beyond Emergency Policy Allan McConnell,2017-03-02 This volume of leading scholarly articles addresses the international dynamics of emergency policy and practice In a world of increasing technological economic and political interdependency it is no longer feasible for states to ignore the pervasive influence of globalisation The crises wrought by industrial disasters catastrophic weather events pandemics financial implosion and cyber intrusion now transcend and challenge national interests with increasing frequency The case studies collected here explore these global dimensions of crisis and the state through the lenses of planning and prevention acute responses recovery and reconstruction and learning about crisis This collection is essential reading for academics policy officials and practitioners with an interest in emergency management risk management and issues of national global security In original introductory and concluding chapters to the volume Legrand and McConnell provide a critical perspective on the challenges that globalisation presents to policymakers under crisis conditions and signposts some of the emerging challenges to the state and international community The military-humanitarian complex in Afghanistan Eric James, Tim Jacoby, 2016-09-10 Violent conflict brings together two seemingly disparate groups humanitarians and soldiers This mixes and convolutes agendas blurring lines that are often perceived to be sacrosanct Delving deeply into the history and reasons of why these two groups work in close proximity this study provide a unique insight into the history ethical dilemmas and policy conundrums when aid workers operate close to the military Using Afghanistan as a case study analytical rigour deep primary research and field knowledge are combined in an exceptional contribution to this important area This book gives scholars and practitioners alike a nuanced perspective on the challenges faced by aid workers military personnel and decision makers alike in countries affected by violent conflicts hosting foreign military interventions and receiving international aid Killer Images Joram ten Brink, Joshua Oppenheimer, 2013-01-08 Cinema has long shaped not only how mass violence is perceived but also how it is performed Today when media coverage is central to the execution of terror campaigns and news anchormen serve as embedded journalists a critical understanding of how the moving image is implicated in the imaginations and actions of perpetrators and survivors of violence is all the more urgent If the cinematic image and mass violence are among the defining features of modernity the former is significantly implicated in the latter and the nature of this implication is the book s central focus This book brings together a range of newly commissioned essays and interviews from the world s leading academics and documentary filmmakers including Ben Anderson Errol Morris Harun Farocki Rithy Phan Avi Mograbi Brian Winston and Michael Chanan Contributors explore such topics as the tension between remembrance and performance the function of moving images in the execution of political violence and nonfiction filmmaking methods that facilitate communities of survivors to respond to recover and redeem a history that sought to physically and symbolically annihilate them The Responsibility to Protect International Commission on Intervention and State Sovereignty, International Development Research Centre (Canada), 2001 Responsibility to Protect Research bibliography background Supplementary volume to the Report of the International Commission on Intervention and State Sovereignty Global Politics Abraham Ben-Zvi, Aharon Klieman, 2016-01-20 The essays in this volume discuss and assess the philosophies and writings of Professor David Vital They aim to develop his work within modern diplomacy issues relating to modern Jewish history and within the State of Israel and its conduct of foreign relations Cyber-Diplomacy Evan H. Potter, 2002-09-12 Mass communications and advances in communications technology pose fundamental challenges to the traditional conduct of diplomacy by reducing hierarchy promoting transparency crowding out secrecy mobilizing global social movements and increasing the importance of public diplomacy in international relations But the primary source of change the force that acts as a common denominator and accelerates other changes is communications and information technology CIT Where nations were once connected through foreign ministries and traders they are now linked to millions of individuals by fibre optics satellite wireless and cable in a complex network without central control These trends have resulted in considerable speculation about the future of diplomacy Contributors include Andrew F Cooper University of Waterloo Ronald J Deibert University of Toronto Eytan Gilboa Holon Institute of Technology and Bar Ilan University Israel Steven Livingston George Washington University Evan H Potter University of Ottawa Gordon Smith University of Victoria Peter J Smith Athabasca University Elizabeth Smythe Concordia University College of Alberta and Allen Sutherland Government of Canada Ethics & International Affairs Joel H. Rosenthal, 1999 This collection of some of the best contemporary scholarship in ethics and international affairs explores the connection between moral traditions and decision making during and after the Cold War Each author relates the timeless insights of philosophy and our collective historical experience to the hard choices of our own age This volume should be of special interest to those working and teaching in international relations diplomatic history foreign policy applied ethics and related fields Shooting the Messenger Paul Moorcraft, 2011-10-31 Wars have dominated politics since history began In the modern era most of what the media reports on foreign conflicts comes from a small band of war correspondents As the furore over the Iraq Afghan and now the Libyan wars demonstrates Western governments and militaries often collude to keep their voters in the dark about the causes and the conduct of wars waged in their name In this entertaining and unspun account of modern war reporting the authors ask whether the media itself drives democracies to war Or does it serve to constrain evil ignorant and messianic leaders Are the heirs of William Howard Russell the first modern war reporter watchdogs or lapdogs In the age of Wikileaks and corrupt media empires what is the political impact of war correspondents Are they the heroes or harlots of their profession The Media and Human Rights Ekaterina Balabanova, 2014-09-25 In recent years there has been an explosion in the usage and visibility of the language of human rights but what does this mean for the role of the media For evolving ideas about human rights And for the prospect of shared cosmopolitan values Ekaterina Balabanova argues that in order to answer these questions there needs to be a deconstruction of monolithic ways of thinking about the media and human rights incorporating the spectrum of political arguments and worldviews that underpin both Ten case studies are presented which illustrate many of the problems and challenges associated with the relationship between the media and human rights The examples range from cases of humanitarian intervention to analysis of global human rights campaigning on refugee issues from immigration and asylum to genocide freedom of speech and torture Anchored in an appreciation of the political conflicts and compromises at the heart of international human rights agreements The Media and Human Rights is an invaluable resource for students studying media and human rights international politics security studies and political communication Nationalism and Ethnic Conflict, revised edition Michael E. Brown, Owen R. Cote, Jr., Sean M. Lynn-Jones, Steven E. Miller, 2001-09-14 Understanding the roots and causes of ethnic animosity analyses of recent events in Bosnia Kosovo Rwanda Somalia and the former Soviet Union Most recent wars have been complex and bloody internal conflicts driven to a significant degree by nationalism and ethnic animosity Since the end of the Cold War dozens of wars in

Bosnia Kosovo Rwanda Somalia the former Soviet Union and elsewhere have killed or displaced millions of people Understanding and controlling these wars has become one of the most important and frustrating tasks for scholars and political leaders This revised and expanded edition of Nationalism and Ethnic Conflict contains essays from some of the world's leading analysts of nationalism ethnic conflict and internal war The essays from the first edition have been updated and supplemented by analyses of recent conflicts and new research on the resolution of ethnic and civil wars The first part of the book addresses the roots of nationalistic and ethnic wars focusing in particular on the former Yugoslavia The second part assesses options for international action including the use of force and the deployment of peacekeeping troops The third part examines political challenges that often complicate attempts to prevent or end internal conflicts including refugee flows and the special difficulties of resolving civil wars

Making Australian Foreign Policy on Israel-Palestine Eulalia Han, Halim Rane, 2013-02-01 Based on extensive research of Australian media coverage public opinion interest groups as well as in depth interviews with current and former diplomats and politicians this book provides a unique insight into the policy making process in regards to one of the world's most enduring and volatile dilemmas Making Australian Foreign Policy on Israel Palestine is a must read for anyone concerned about how social forces influence policy making and the impact this has on Australia's response to world affairs Islamic Studies Series Volume 13 British Media and the Rwandan Genocide John

Nathaniel Clarke, 2017-09-14 Throughout the 1990s humanitarian interventionism sat at a crossroads where ideas about rights and duties within and beyond borders collided with an international reality of civil conflict where the most basic human rights were violated in the most brutal manner This growing awareness of humanitarian crises has been enabled by a more globalized media which increasingly shapes public perceptions of distant crises public opinion and political decision making Clarke examines the extent to which the public discourse and particular concepts including those of an ethical and legal nature influenced British newspaper coverage of the 1994 crisis in Rwanda and in turn the extent to which that coverage influenced the British Parliament's response to the crisis Through his development and application of a broader methodological approach that combines both quantitative and qualitative analyses the book offers a fuller understanding of the relationship between media coverage parliamentary debate and policy formulation and the central role that the globalized media plays in this process Integrating ethics law and empirical analysis of the media to obtain a more cohesive understanding of the chemistry of the media public policy nexus this work will be of interest to graduates and scholars in a range of areas including Genocide Studies the Responsibility to Protect the Media Politics and International Relations
