brings this extraordinary era to life American Patriots Gail Lumet Buckley,2002-05-14 A dramatic and moving tribute to the military's unsung heroes American Patriots tells the story of the black servicemen and women who defended American ideals on the battlefield even as they faced racism in the ranks and segregation on the home front Through hundreds of original interviews with veterans of every war since World War I historic accounts and photographs Gail Buckley brings these heroes and their struggles to life We meet Henry O Flipper who withstood silent treatment from his classmates to become the first black graduate of West Point in 1877 And World War II infantry medic Bruce M Wright who crawled through a minefield to shield a fallen soldier during an attack Finally we meet a young soldier in Vietnam Colin Powell who rose through the ranks to become during the Gulf War the first black chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Fourteen years in the making American Patriots is a landmark chronicle of the brave men and women whose courage and determination changed the course of American history What's France got to do with it? Juliana de Nooy,2020-07-30 While only one book length memoir recounting the sojourn of an Australian in France was published in the 1990s well over 40 have been published since 2000 overwhelmingly written by women Although we might expect a focus on travel intercultural adjustment and communication in these texts this is the case only in a minority of accounts More frequently France serves as a backdrop to a project of self renovation in which transplantation to another country is incidental hence the question What's France got to do with it The book delves into what France represents in the various narratives its role in the self transformation and the reasons for the seemingly insatiable demand among readers and publishers for these stories It asks why these memoirs have gained such traction among Australian women at the dawn of the twenty first century and what is at stake in the fascination with France Good Company ,1881 Paris Vistas Helen Davenport Brown Gibbons,1919 Ladies' Home Companion ,1926 Cumulative List of Organizations Described in Section 170 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 ,2000 Jacques Rivette and French New Wave Cinema James R Russo,2023-03-18 This first comprehensive English collection of the interviews of Jacques Rivette 19282016 documents his career through chronology filmography bibliography and image stills A comprehensive introduction places this work in the wider context of twentieth century social change Rivettes films like many of the works of the French New Wave seem to have avoided the aging process entirely remaining as playful fresh and quietly spectacular as the day they were made Indeed his body of work may be the most impressive of the French New Wave Celine and Julie Go Boating 1974 has been recognized as possibly the best film to emerge from the post New Wave era even as Paris Belongs to Us 1961 is one of the best pictures to emerge from the New Wave itself Rivette was hardly the most prolific director however and the length of his films has often counted against him Nonetheless his clinical self reflexive essays in film form reveal him as a cinematic purist whose commitment to the celluloid muse hardly diminished from the heady days of the early 1950s to the end of his career in 2009 Beyond inspiring the New Wave movement and continuing to reflect and reflect on its central tenets Rivettes enduring contribution to the history of film is unquestionably evident in his sensitive treatment of the histories and destinies of women especially through strong roles for actresses During the six decades of his career nonetheless he struck a subtle balance not only between female and male characters but also between political and personal obsession between myth and fiction between theater and cinema in films that in addition to having influenced such contemporary filmmakers as Claire Denis Jim Jarmusch Olivier Assayas and David Lynch continue to redefine the art of cinema around the world

The Strip Stefan Al, 2017-03-10 The transformations of the Strip from the fake Wild West to neon signs twenty stories high to starchitecture and how they mirror America itself The Las Vegas Strip has impersonated the Wild West with saloon doors and wagon wheels it has decked itself out in midcentury modern sleekness It has illuminated itself with twenty story high neon signs then junked them After that came Disney like theme parks featuring castles and pirates followed by replicas of Venetian canals New York skyscrapers and the Eiffel Tower It might be noted that forty two million people visited Las Vegas in 2015 ten million more than visited the real Paris More recently the Strip decided to get classy with casinos designed by famous architects and zillion dollar collections of art Las Vegas became the implosion capital of the world as developers driven by competition got rid of the old to make way for the new offering a non metaphorical definition of creative destruction In The Strip Stefan Al examines the many transformations of the Las Vegas Strip arguing that they mirror transformations in America itself The Strip is not as popularly supposed a display of architectural freaks but representative of architectural trends and a record of social cultural and economic change Al tells two parallel stories He describes the feverish competition of Las Vegas developers to build the snazziest most tourist grabbing casinos and resorts with a cast of characters including the mobster Bugsy Siegel the eccentric billionaire Howard Hughes and the would be political kingmaker Sheldon Adelson And he views the Strip in a larger social context showing that it has not only reflected trends but also magnified them and sometimes even initiated them Generously illustrated with stunning color images throughout The Strip traces the many metamorphoses of a city that offers a vivid projection of the American dream
