Routledge Handbook of Foreign Policy Analysis

Methods Patrick A Mello,Falk Ostermann,2022-12-26 The disintegration and questioning of global governance structures and a re orientation toward national politics combined with the spread of technological innovations such as big data social media and phenomena like fake news populism or questions of global health policies make it necessary for the introduction of new methods of inquiry and the adaptation of established methods in Foreign Policy Analysis FPA This accessible handbook offers concise chapters from expert international contributors covering a diverse range of new and established FPA methods Embracing methodological pluralism and a belief in the value of an open discussion about methods assumptions and diverging positions it provides new state of the art research approaches as well as introductions to a range of established methods Each chapter follows the same approach introducing the method and its development discussing strengths requirements limitations and potential pitfalls while illustrating the method s application using examples from empirical research Embracing methodological pluralism and problem oriented research that engages with real world questions the authors examine quantitative and qualitative traditions rationalist and interpretivist perspectives as well as different substantive backgrounds The book will be of interest to a wide range of scholars and students in global politics foreign policy and methods related classes across the social sciences Chapters 4 25 and 32 of this book are available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4 0 license

Plan Prediction Ray Wyatt,2016-11-19 This book develops an innovative system in the form of an app that harnesses the power of the internet to predict which sorts of people will prefer which policy in ANY planning situation It chronicles the accumulated research wisdom behind the system s reasoning along with several less successful approaches to policy making that have been found wanting in the past including the myth usually peddled by strategic planners that it is possible to find a best plan which optimally satisfies everybody The book lays out an entirely new kind of Planning Support System PSS It will facilitate decision making that is far more community sensitive than previously and it will drastically improve the performance of anyone who needs to plan within socially sensitive contexts which is all of us A standout feature of the system is its commitment to scientific rigour as shown by its predicted plan scores always being graphically presented within error margins so that true statistical significance is instantly observable Moreover the probabilities that its predictions are correct are always shown a refreshing change from most if not all other Decision Support Systems DSS that simply expect users to accept their outputs on faith alone

East

Asia, Peacekeeping Operations, and Humanitarian Assistance and Disaster Relief Catherine Jones, Garren Mulloy, 2021-11-29 Focusing on East Asia this collection explores the paradox of functional regional cooperation in the areas of humanitarian assistance disaster relief and UN Peacekeeping operations in a context of increasing regional tensions and threats East Asia comprising the states of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations and China Japan the Republic of Korea and the Democratic People's Republic of Korea is facing a range of human traditional climate and ideational threats In addressing some of these threats particularly those arising from climate induced disasters this region has been able to develop some ad hoc cooperative practices that according to functional logics of regional integration could lead to longer term sustained coordinated responses and even regional partnerships Similarly the region is increasingly contributing to UN peacekeeping operations where these states also cooperate in the context of an UN led mission Yet despite the potential for these interactions to lead to greater regional integration and coordinated action in responding to a range of security threats these interactions are increasingly taking place in a context of animosity both between regional powers and with extra regional powers This edited collection explores these functional interactions and posits conclusions about the potential for longer term sustained coordinated action These papers engage with a range of theoretical approaches in explaining the patterns of relations that are present in the region in relation to humanitarian assistance disaster relief and UN peacekeeping operations The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Australian Journal of International Affairs
