Passmore,2016-03-21 Being a parent can be tough and there are times when you just don't have all the answers For parents who find themselves faced with a seemingly endless spiral of conflict poor behaviour and ineffective discipline this is the evidence based parenting program they've been waiting for Divided into 12 sessions it first focuses on developing a strong relationship between parent and child Once a firm foundation of parenting strategies has been developed the program then moves onto effective discipline The discipline program is designed so that it is self sustaining and allows the parent to step back from what is often an emotionally charged situation and instead use predetermined consequences It also emphasises teaching children ownership of their behaviour The beauty of this program is that the principles can be used in each of the child's environments at home at school with grandparents etc while it has also been designed so that any parent can use it as well as those with children who have been diagnosed with behavioural disorders such as ADHD Oppositional Defiance Disorder or explosive and non compliant behaviour It's a commonsense practical guide to getting your kids back on track and creating a happier home

Report American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions,1877 The Economic Psychology of Everyday Life Paul Webley,Carole Burgoyne,Stephen Lea,Brian Young,2002-01-04 From childhood through to adulthood retirement and finally death The Economic Psychology of Everyday Life uniquely explores the economic problems all individuals have to solve across the course of their lives Webley Burgoyne Lea and Young begin by introducing the concept of economic behaviour and its study They then examine the main economic issues faced at each life stage including the impact of advertising on children buying a first house and setting up home changing family roles and gender linked inequality redundancy and unemployment coping on a pension obituaries wills and inheritance Finally they draw together the commonalties of economic problems across the lifespan discuss generational and cultural changes in economic behaviour and examine the significance of other non economic constraints upon individuals The Economic Psychology of Everyday Life provides a much needed comprehensive and accessible guide to economic psychology which will be of great interest to researchers and students

Understanding Children as Consumers David Marshall,2010-04-19 What drives children as consumers How do advertising campaigns and branding effect children and young people How do children themselves understand and evaluate these influences Whether fashion toys food branding money from TV adverts and the supermarket aisle to the internet and peer trends there is a growing presence of marketing forces directed at and influencing children and young people How should these forces be understood and what means of research or dialogue is required to assess them With critical insight the contributors to this collection take up the evaluation of the child as an active consumer and offer a valuable rethinking of the discussions and literature on the subject Features 14 original chapters from leading researchers in the field Each chapter contains vignettes or case examples to reinforce learning Contains consideration of future research directions in each of the topics that the chapters cover This book will be relevant reading for postgraduates and advanced undergraduates with an interest in children as consumers consumer behaviour and on marketing courses in general as well
