offers novel suggestions on how evaluations can be used to improve democratic policymaking Realist Evaluation: An Emerging Theory in Support of Practice Gary T. Henry, George Julnes, Melvin M. Mark, 1998-06-29 Why is another theory of evaluation needed The paradigm wars have left a void in their wake A new theory firmly grounded in a credible philosophy of science is needed to guide practice The aim of this volume is to provide a new theory that captures the sensemaking contributions from post positivism and the sensitivity to values from constructivist traditions The theory presented here is not a slap dash synthesis of the competing paradigms it is a new approach Some of the contributions of the realist theory of evaluation are 1 providing a basis for principled discovery as we oscillate between explanations and data 2 using explanation as a means for extrapolating findings from one evaluation to other settings 3 viewing all methods both quantitative and qualitative as aids to sensemaking that have strengths and flaws 4 connecting evaluation practice with the ultimate goal of most program evaluation social betterment and 5 balancing the focus of the evaluation between sensemaking and value inquiry This is the 78th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Evaluation Towards equitable health systems for universal health coverage (UHC) in sub-saharan africa John E. Ataguba, Juliet Nabyonga-Orem, Eugenia Amporfu, 2023-06-23 The SAGE Handbook of Evaluation Ian Shaw, Ian Graham Ronald Shaw, Jennifer C Greene, Melvin M Mark, 2006-07-27 In this comprehensive handbook an examination of the complexities of contemporary evaluation contributes to the ongoing dialogue that arises in professional efforts to evaluate people related programs policies and practices The SAGE Handbook of Evaluation is a unique and authoritative resource consisting of 25 chapters covering a range of evaluation theories and techniques in a single accessible volume With contributions from world leading figures in their fields overseen by an eminent international editorial board this handbook is an extensive and user friendly resource Evaluation Roots Marvin C. Alkin, 2012-04-12 Evaluation Roots A Wider Perspective of Theorists Views and Influences Second Edition provides an updated examination of current evaluation theories and traces their evolution Marvin C Alkin shows how theories build upon theories and how the theories are related to each other The way in which these evaluation roots grew to form a tree helps to provide a better understanding of evaluation theory In addition to the editor s overview the book contains essays by leading evaluation theorists In these pieces the evaluators comment on their own development and give their views of their placement upon the tree All royalties from sales of this book are donated to support the AEA Research on Evaluation Student Award Evaluation in Action Jody L. Fitzpatrick, Christina Christie, Melvin M. Mark, 2009 An innovative approach to program evaluation that takes readers behind the scenes of real evaluations and the decisions the evaluators made An Introduction to Evaluation Chris Fox, Robert Grimm, Rute Caldeira, 2016-10-18 Both practical and theoretical in approach this book is the perfect companion for student researchers and policy makers alike It provides actionable advice for planning and implementing evaluations while also instilling an ability to assess the evaluations of others and consider the ways in which evaluation evidence could influence policy and practice Drawing upon a wide range of examples from policy areas like education criminal justice and health and social care this book showcases how evaluation is an interdisciplinary research practice with a spectrum of applications Each chapter contains philosophical underpinnings and applied knowledge as well as examples from published evaluations Specific topics include how to Choose an approach to evaluation Plan design and conduct evaluations Approach evaluations using theories of change Differentiate between process impact and economic evaluations Understand the role of quantitative and qualitative methods in data collection Use systematic reviews and other tools to assess and disseminate evaluation findings From getting started in the field to turning evidence into policy this book will guide you through every step of the evaluation process

Mind the Gap Jos Vaessen, Frans L. Leeuw, 2011-12-31 Over the past twenty to thirty years evaluation has become increasingly important to the field of public policy The number of people involved and specializing in evaluation has also increased markedly Evidence of this trend can be found in the International Atlas of Evaluation the establishment of new journals and evaluation societies and the increase in systems of evaluation Increasingly the main reference point has become an assessment of the merit and value of interventions as such rather than the evaluator's disciplinary background This growing importance of evaluation as an activity has also led to an increasing demand for the type of competencies evaluators should have Evaluation began as a niche area within the social and behavioral sciences It subsequently became linked to policy research and analysis and has more recently become transdisciplinary This volume demonstrates an association between the evaluation tradition in a particular country or policy field and the nature of the relationship between social and behavioral science research and evaluative practice This book seeks to offer comprehensive data which lead to conclusions about patterns that transcend the gap between evaluation and the social scientific disciplines Mind the Gap has a twofold aim The first is to highlight and characterize the gap between evaluation practices and debates and the substantive knowledge debates within the social and behavioral sciences The second is to show why this gap is problematic for the practice of evaluation while at the same time illustrating possible ways to build bridges The book is centered on the value of producing useful evaluations grounded in social science theory and research

Evaluation Theory, Models, and Applications Daniel L. Stufflebeam, Anthony J. Shinkfield, 2007-04-06 Evaluation Theory Models and Applications is designed for evaluators and students who need to develop a commanding knowledge of the evaluation field its history theory and standards models and approaches procedures and inclusion of personnel as well as program evaluation This important book shows how to choose from a growing array of program evaluation approaches In one comprehensive resource the authors have compiled vital information from the evaluation literature and draw on a wide range of practical experiences Using this book evaluators will be able to identify analyze and judge 26 evaluation approaches The authors also show how to discriminate between legitimate and illicit approaches based on application of the Joint Committee Program Evaluation Standards

Nurturing Praxis, 2008-01-01 Nurturing Praxis offers a distinctive view of collaborative and action research in educational settings in four Nordic countries Sweden Norway Finland and Iceland Educational action research in Nordic countries is interpreted as being informed by the traditions of Bildung and folk enlightenment and thereby emphasizing the importance of collaboration discussion and dialogue in knowledge creation It explores the professional development of teachers especially through school university partnerships in which university researchers collaborate with teachers in a variety of educational settings in order to bring about change in and better understanding of practice It presents case studies of professional development in the context educational reform and change originating from both inside and outside schools and tackled with or enhanced by collaborative and action research By analysing the cases in the light of the Nordic traditions of Bildung and folk enlightenment the authors have been able to identify a number of key features of professional development enhanced by collaborative and action research These features are drawn together in the last chapter in a comprehensive framework for Nurturing Praxis

Evaluation for the Real World Colin Palfrey, Paul Thomas, Ceri Phillips, 2012-06-13 Evaluation research findings should be a key element of the policy making process yet in reality they are often disregarded This valuable book examines the development of evaluation and its impact on public policy by analysing evaluation frameworks and criteria which are available when evaluating public policies and services It further examines the nature of evidence and its use and non use by decision makers and assesses the work of influential academics in the USA and UK in the context of evaluation and policy making The book emphasises the real world of decision makers in the public sector and recognises how political demands and economic pressures can affect the decisions of those who commission evaluation research while providing recommendations for policymakers on adopting a different approach to evaluation This is essential reading for under graduate and post graduate students of policy analysis and public sector management and those who are involved in the planning and evaluation of public policies and services
