Nurturing the Older Brain and Mind Pamela M. Greenwood, Raja Parasuraman, 2012-01-27 Two noted researchers explain scientific evidence that shows why certain experiential and lifestyle factors may promote and maintain cognitive vitality in older adults Although our physical abilities clearly decline as we age cognitive decline in healthy old age is neither universal nor inevitable In Nurturing the Older Brain Pamela Greenwood and Raja Parasuraman show that scientific research does not support the popular notion of the inexorable and progressive effects of cognitive aging in all older adults They report that many adults maintain a high level of cognitive function into old age and that certain experiential and lifestyle factors including education exercise diet and opportunities for new learning contribute to the preservation of cognitive abilities Many popular accounts draw similar conclusions and give similar lifestyle advice but lack supporting scientific evidence Greenwood and Parasuraman offer a comprehensive review of research on cognitive and brain aging They show that even the aged brain remains capable of plasticity the ability to adapt to and benefit from experience and they summarize evidence that brain plasticity is heightened by certain types of cognitive training by aerobic exercise and by certain diets

They also report on the somewhat controversial use of estrogen and cognition enhancing drugs on environmental adaptations including virtual assistants that help older adults age in place and on genetic factors in cognitive aging The past twenty years of research points to ways that older adults can lead rich and cognitively vital lives As millions of baby boomers head toward old age Greenwood and Parasuraman's accessible book could not be more timely Thy Neighbor Norah Vincent, 2013-07-30 Norah Vincent's first two books the New York Times bestseller Self Made Man and Voluntary Madness were masterworks of immersion journalism Now Vincent unleashes her considerable talents in a spellbinding novel that's as provocative and absorbing as her acclaimed nonfiction Since his parents' violent deaths thirteen years ago Nick Walsh has been living alone in his childhood home drinking, drugging and debauching himself into oblivion Deranged by his relentless sorrow he begins spying on his neighbors via hidden cameras and microphones As he observes all the strange, sad and terrifying things that people do when they think no one is watching Nick begins to unravel the shocking truth about how and why his parents died Korea: Land of the 38th Parallel Frank Gosfield, Bernhardt J.
