Enrico Fels,2016-11-03 This book investigates whether a power shift has taken place in the Asia Pacific region since the end of the Cold War By systematically examining the development of power dynamics in Asia Pacific it challenges the notion that a wealthier and militarily more powerful China is automatically turning the regional tides in its favour With a special emphasis on Sino US competition the book explores the alleged linkage between the regional distribution of relevant material and immaterial capabilities national power and the much cited regional power shift The book presents a novel concept for measuring power in international relations by outlining a composite index on aggregated power CIAP that includes 55 variables for 44 regional countries and covers a period of twenty years Moreover it develops a middle power theory that outlines the significance of middle powers in times of major power shifts By addressing political military and economic cooperation via a structured focused comparison and by applying a comparative historical analysis the book analyses in depth the bilateral relations of six regional middle powers to Washington and Beijing
