Pagans and Christians in Late Antique Rome Michele Renee Salzman, Marianne Sághy, Rita Lizzi Testa, 2016 This book sheds new light on the religious and consequently social changes taking place in late antique Rome The essays in this volume argue that the once dominant notion of pagan-Christian religious conflict cannot fully explain the texts and artifacts as well as the social religious and political realities of late antique Rome Together the essays demonstrate that the fourth century city was a more fluid vibrant and complex place than was previously thought Competition between diverse groups in Roman society be it pagans with Christians Christians with Christians or pagans with pagans did create tensions and hostility but it also allowed for coexistence and reduced the likelihood of overt violent physical conflict Competition and coexistence along with conflict emerge as still central paradigms for those who seek to understand the transformations of Rome from the age of Constantine through the early fifth century The European Countryside during the Migration Period Irene Bavuso, Angelo Castrorao Barba, 2023-12-31 Research on late antique and early medieval migrations has long acknowledged the importance of interdisciplinarity The field is constantly nourished by new archaeological discoveries that allow for increasingly refined pictures of socio economic development Yet the perspectives adopted by historians and archaeologists are frequently different and so are their conclusions Diverging views exist in respect to varying geographical areas and scholarly traditions too This volume brings together history and archaeology to address the impact of the inflow and outflow of migrations on the rural landscape the creation of new settlement patterns and the role of migrations and mobility in transforming society and economy Such themes are often investigated under a regional or macro regional viewpoint resulting in too fragmented an understanding of a widespread phenomenon Spanning Eastern and Western Europe the book takes steps toward an integrated picture of territories normally investigated as separate entities and critically establishes grounds for new comparisons and models on late antique and early medieval transformations Field Methods and Post-Excavation Techniques in Late Antique Archaeology

, 2016-04-26 Archaeologists working on late antique sites have not spent enough time thinking about methodology Their focus has been on recovering and cataloguing evidence or on the study of specific historical problems Digging has often been more important than publishing which has rarely extended beyond the basic summaries found in preliminary reports The re emergence of clearance excavation fuelled by the demands of tourism has further reduced the value of urban excavations in the East Mediterranean Here late antique levels have suffered in the hunt for photogenic early imperial architecture This volume attempts to address this situation by offering a critique of present practice and a series of exemplars alongside discussion articles on field technique and post excavation analysis The articles ranges from urban survey to the study of finds The book also considers if we need to develop specific field methods appropriate to the study of late antiquity Contributors are John Bintliff Jeremy Evans Axel Gering Stefan Groh Yoshiki Hori Nikolaos D Karydis Veli K se Luke Lavan Zsolt Magyar Philip Mills John Pearce Steve Roskams Helga Sedlmayer Ellen Swift Itamar Taxel Douglas Underwood Lutgarde Vandeput and Joe Williams Philological and Historical Commentary on Ammianus Marcellinus XXX Jan den Boeft, Jan Willem Drijvers, Daniël den Hengst, Hans C. Teitler, 2015-09-01 The first part of Book 30 of Ammianus Marcellinus Res Gestae is devoted to the military and diplomatic struggle for Armenia between Valens emperor of the East and king Sapor II of Persia The Romans successfully defend their position until they are forced to deal with the Goths who threaten to cross the Danube border The second half of Book 30 is dominated by Valentinian I emperor of the West Ammianus presents a kaleidoscopic picture of this emperor alternating between admiration for his military qualities and devotion to his duty and bitter criticism

Managing, Using, and Interpreting Hadrian's Wall as World Heritage Peter G. Stone, David Brough, 2013-11-13 Hadrian's Wall was inscribed as a World Heritage Site WHS in 1987 and with the German Limes became one of the first two parts of the transnational Frontiers of the Roman Empire FRE WHS in 2005 The World Heritage Site of Hadrian's Wall is unusual although not unique among World Heritage sites in its scale and linear nature stretching from Ravenglass on the west coast of England to Newcastle upon Tyne on the east coast over 150 miles Along its length it passes through two major urban centres and a variety of rural landscapes and its remains vary from substantial upstanding architectural features to invisible below ground archaeology Traditionally many of the constituent parts of Hadrian's Wall forts etc have been managed as separate entities by different State and private organisations These and other issues make it an extremely complex WHS to manage This book not only chronicles the past management of the Wall but also looks towards the future as more countries aspire to have their Roman frontiers added to the FRE The experience gained over the last two decades illustrates developments in the management of large scale complex heritage sites that will be of value as a detailed case study to those involved in and affected by heritage management as well as academics and students Many of the issues raised will find resonance in those faced by many other large World heritage sites
