Work in a Metro Anuradha Kalhan, 2017-12-06 This volume is about why work changed to become more precarious around the turn of the century This happened not just in the developed world but also inside sectors that were demarcated as organized and modern within developing countries like India In these sectors unlike the greater part of the Indian economy insecure jobs were uncommon before winds of change made them normal This shift had occurred before the great global financial crisis of 2008 Between 2005-8 a survey based on over thousand structured interviews with workers in offices factories shops and establishments below the supervisory rank in Mumbai was undertaken This is the innovative segment of the book which tries to measure and quantify some of these changes and their associations It is designed to investigate the central proposition of the Insecurity Hypothesis IH which is that the economic risk of increased and global competition was being progressively passed on from the employer to the employee This was happening through shortened job tenure erratic remuneration variable work contingent employment and institutional changes that remove or reduce protection bargaining power of employees in the work place everywhere The corollary is that widespread and unremitting work and income related insecurity is an expedient competitive strategy but a damaging socio economic phenomenon Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka India's New Economic Policy Waqar Ahmed, Amitabh Kundu, Richard Peet, 2010-10-04 Conventional interpretations of the New Economic Policy introduced in India in 1991 see this program of economic liberalization as transforming the Indian economy and leading to a substantial increase in the rate of India's economic growth But in a country like India growth is not enough Who benefits from the new growth regime and can it significantly improve the conditions of livelihood for India's 800 million people with incomes below 2 00 a day This edited volume looks at international policy regimes and their national adoption under strategic conditions of economic crisis and coercion and within longer term structural changes in the power calculus of global capitalism The contributors examine long term growth tendencies poverty and employment rates at the national level regional level and local levels in India the main growth centers the areas and people left out the advantages and deficiencies of the existing policy regime and alternative economic policies for India Bringing together the leading figures in the discussion on India's economic policy this volume is the authoritative critical study of India's New Economic Policy Urban Renewal in India Pablo Holwitt, 2020-03-20 This book interrogates contemporary processes of neoliberal urban renewal in the Global South by studying the model of chawl redevelopment in Mumbai India The model of chawl redevelopment is used to address questions surrounding contemporary urban renewal Focusing on attempts to redevelop Mumbai's central middle class neighbourhoods popularly known as Girgaum into a modern downtown of a global metropolis the author sheds light on the impact this development model has on the everyday lives of people inhabiting transformed urban environments He examines from an ethnographic perspective apparently contradictory intentions of planners investors residents activists and politicians A combination of detailed and vivid ethnographic accounts and incisive theoretical arguments the book shows that the highly contested and controversial approach of chawl redevelopment serves as an example of the manifold ideological tendencies in India today and how they combine clash and continuously shape each other in surprising and unpredictable ways Offering new insights in the topics of class dynamics in the era of globalization and neoliberalism urban gating sense studies and urban politics in South Asia this book will be of interest to academics working on South Asian Studies Anthropology Sociology as well as Urban and Global Studies The Power of Place Mark W. Frazier,2019-05-16 Frazier s comparative study of popular protest in twentieth century Shanghai and Mumbai highlights recurring debates over migration and citizenship Genres of Modernity Dirk Wiemann,2008-01-01 Genres of Modernity maps the conjunctures of critical theory and literary production in contemporary India The volume situates a sample of representative novels in the discursive environment of the ongoing critical debate on modernity in India and offers for the first time a rigorous attempt to hold together the stimulating impulses of postcolonial theory subaltern studies and the boom of Indian fiction in English In opposition to the entrenched narrative of modernity as a single universally valid formation originating in the West the theoretical and literary texts under discussion engage in a shared project of refiguring the present as a site of heterogeneous genres of modernity The book traces these figurative efforts with particular attention to the treatment of two privileged metonymies of modernity the issues of time and home in Indian fiction Combining close readings of literary texts from Salman Rushdie to Kiran Nagarkar with a wide range of philosophical sociological and historiographic reflections Genres of Modernity is of interest not only for students of postcolonial literatures but for academics in the fields of Cultural Studies at large The City in South Asia James Heitzman,2008-03-31 With case studies in each chapter focusing on specific cities and including maps and photographs this book is a comprehensive survey of urbanization in South Asia during the last 5000 years Biocapital Kaushik Sunder Rajan,2006-04-24 An ethnography about the work of genome scientists entrepreneurs and policy makers in biotech drug development in the United States and India Forging Environmentalism Joanne R Bauer,2015-01-28 Drawing on an unusually rich empirical base this timely and compelling book examines how environmental values are constructed and legitimized within the policy process It trains the spotlight on four environmentally significant countries China Japan India and the United States representing a wide diversity of cultural social economic and political characteristics Through a combination of case studies and comparative analysis the contributors illuminate cultural assumptions standards and analytic techniques that shape environmental actions and policies around the world Forging Environmentalism provides valuable direction regarding what can be done to secure public support for environmental policies Incorporating expert legal economic philosophical sociological and political perspective points the way toward the possibilities for a convergence of environmental norms and values across diverse cultures Sweatshop Regimes in the Indian Garment Industry Alessandra Mezzadri,2017 Analyses the politics of production and labour control characterizing the Indian readymade garment industry since its entry into the global arena The Making of an Indian Metropolis Prashant Kidambi,2016-12-05 This book explores the social history of colonial Bombay in the late Victorian and Edwardian eras a pivotal time in its emergence as a modern metropolis Drawing together strands that hitherto have been treated in a piecemeal fashion and based on a variety of archival sources the book offers a systematic analytical account of historical change in a premier colonial city In particular it considers the ways in which the turbulent changes unleashed by European modernity were negotiated appropriated or resisted by the colonised in one of the major cities of the Indian Ocean region A series of crises in the 1890s triggered far reaching changes in the relationship between state and society in Bombay The city's colonial rulers responded to the upheavals of this decade by adopting a more interventionist approach to urban governance The book shows how these new strategies and mechanisms of rule ensnared colonial authorities in contradictions that they were unable to resolve easily and rendered their relationship with local society increasingly fractious The study also explores important developments within an emergent Indian civil society It charts the density and diversity of the city's expanding associational culture and shows how educated Indians embraced a new ethic of social service that sought to improve and uplift the urban poor In conclusion the book reflects on the historical legacy of these developments for urban society and politics in postcolonial Bombay This wide ranging work will be essential reading for specialists in British imperial history postcolonial studies and urban social history It will also be of interest to all those concerned with the comparative history of governance and public culture in the modern city

Globalization in the Asian Region Gloria Davies,Chris Nyland,2004-04-28 For anyone seeking a diverse range of perspectives on globalisation in the Asia Pacific region this collection of highly readable essays is a good place to start Focusing on individual countries the chapters examine the specific modalities of global integration and the responses of different sections of society in each country The authors address questions of major importance for democratic societies such as the connection between globalisation and the rise of religious extremism whether globalisation is in reality a new form of imperial preference who the winners and losers are These are complemented by three short case studies dealing with Indonesia's unrealised potential foreign investment in China and patterns in the movement of people between Hong Kong and the mainland The essays provide a rich source of thought provoking analysis of the complex cultural and political responses arising from both opportunities provided by globalisation and its more negative impacts Melanie Beresford Macquarie University Australia Globalization in the Asian Region draws confident ragged lines across disciplines themes and the conventional boundaries of scholarship The range of material in the anthology is astounding The diversity and admixture of political positions and approaches is confronting Contemporary Asia is thus mapped without overgeneralizing a homogenous whole Paul James RMIT University Australia This collection of thoughtful essays provides a reliable picture of the dynamic and often ironic operation of globalization in Asia today and challenges individuals to believe that as communities we have a choice in how we respond and contribute to globalization The editors highlight the multifaceted nature of globalization and bring to the fore its supraterritoriality A dozen detailed studies make good on these claims from analyses of American militancy since 9 11 terrorism and poverty to case studies on Malaysia Indonesia India Australia New Zealand Japan and China These essays make clear the interactive nature of globalization as various economic cultural and political forces pour into Asian societies while the impact of their responses from exports to currency fluctuations to migration flows to transnational religious movements in turn reshape the selfsame globalization process Timothy Cheek University of British Columbia Canada Bringing together contributors from both the university sector and business centered research institutions this comprehensive volume offers diverse perspectives on the impacts and consequences of globalization in different parts of the Asian region Each chapter offers a substantial account of globalization within a particular nation state or area in the region Different understandings underpin the chapters Some contributors perceive globalization as progress in the form of economically driven processes that have made nations mutually dependent in unprecedented and complex ways Others emphasize the uneven outcomes of globalization as well as the stakes for economic growth and social order in the global climate of deepening political and religious divisions since September 2001 General and specialist readers alike will gain an appreciation of the myriad emphases placed on globalization within different nations and from various vantage points The book showcases diverse styles of discourse and serves to greatly broaden the scope of what can be discussed under the rubric of globalization within a single volume

The Emerging Asian City Vinayak Bharne, 2013 Asian cities create concomitant imagery polarizations of poverty and wealth blurry lines between formality and informality and stark juxtapositions of ancient historic places with shimmering new skylines With Asia's re emergence on the global stage there is an acute focus on its multifarious urban issues and identities What are Asian cities going to become Will they surpass the economic and environmental debacles of the West This collection of twenty four essays surveys the most dominant issues shaping the Asian urban landscape today It offers scholarly reflections and positions on the forces shaping Asian cities and the forces that they in turn are shaping Environmental Issues in India Mahesh Rangarajan, 2009 Contributed articles presented at a workshop convened at Department of History Delhi University in September 2005 Slums Eugenie L. Birch, Shahana Chattaraj, Susan M. Wachter, 2016-03-08 Large numbers of people in urbanizing regions in the developing world live and work in unplanned settlements that grow through incremental processes of squatting and self building Slums How Informal Real Estate Markets Work shows that unauthorized settlements in rapidly growing cities are not divorced from market forces rather they must be understood as complex environments where state policies and market actors still do play a role In this volume contributors examine how the form and function of informal real estate markets are shaped by legal systems governing property rights by national and local policy and by historical and geographic particularities of specific neighborhoods Their essays provide detailed portraits of individuals and community organizations revealing in granular detail the working of informal real estate markets and they review programs that have been implemented in unconventional settlements to provide lessons about the effectiveness and implementation challenges of different approaches Chapters explore the relationships between informality state policies and market forces from a range of disciplinary perspectives and on different scales from an analysis of the relationship between regulations and housing in 600 developing world cities to an ethnographic account of the buying and selling of houses in Rio de Janeiro's favelas. While many of the book's contributors focus on the emerging economies of India and Brazil, the conclusions drawn illustrate dynamics relevant to developing countries throughout the Global South. The diversity of perspectives combines to create a rich understanding of an important, complex and understudied topic. Contributors: Arthur Acolin, Sai Balakrishnan, Eugenie L. Wachter. Dissent and Cultural Resistance in Asia's Cities Melissa Butcher, Selvaraj Velayutham, 2009-03-23

This book documents urban experiences of dissent and emergent resistance against disjunctive global and local capital, technology and labour flows that converge and intersect in some of Asia's fastest growing cities. Rather than constructing occupants of the city as simply passive victims of globalisation or urbanisation, it presents ways in which people are using everyday strategies embedded in cultural practice to challenge dominant socio-economic and political forces impacting on urban space. Taking the city as a site of contestation and a stage where social conflicts are played out, the book highlights the connections between urban power and dissent, the nature and impact of resistance, how the spatiality and built environment of the city generates conflict and conversely how protagonists use the cityscape to stage their everyday and public dissent. The contributors explore the conditions, strategies and outcomes of such dissent and forms of cultural resistance and explore the following themes: the impact of urban development, gentrification and ghettoisation; urban counter-narratives and the re-imagining of city spaces; the role of grassroots activism and social movements; cultural resistance in the creation of neighbourhoods and communities; the impact of gender, class and the politics of identity on forms of dissent; the formation of transgressive spaces. The Gravity of Hope Sreeparna Chattopadhyay, 2024-02-01. The Gravity of Hope is a non-fictional account of women's lives who sometimes endured, often resisted and ultimately coped with marital violence as best as they could in an informal settlement in northeastern Mumbai. It uses anthropological methods and two decades of research-driven insights to analyse the role of gender, marriage, structural violence, family, informal and legal institutions in tackling wife abuse in India. In conclusion, there are many reasons why domestic violence in India continues unabated; the most important is the social norm that views marriage as the primary and often the only path to securing women's financial futures.

Megacity Slums Marie-Caroline Saglio-Yatzimirsky, 2013. This book looks at slums and social exclusion in the four major megacities of India and Brazil and analyzes the interrelationships between urban policies and housing and environmental issues. The challenges posed in Delhi, Mumbai, Rio de Janeiro and São Paulo have spurred public reformers into action through housing rehabilitation and conservation programs. Civil society and the inhabitants of these cities have also begun to get involved. On the other hand, one must wonder whether these challenges were partly created by the deficiencies of these very reformers and civil society, be it their lack of intervention as advocates of government intervention would argue, or the flaws and inadequacies of their actions as supporters of the free market would suggest Are policies alleviating or aggravating social exclusion This book explores these questions and more
