Rise And Growth Of The Colonial Port Cities In Asia:

The Rise and Growth of the Colonial Port Cities in Asia Dilip K. Basu, 1985 This volume which grew out of a conference of the same name held in 1976 in Santa Cruz fills an important niche in the literature on Asian urbanism Its three major themes are the nature of relationships between city and hinterland the role and character of mercantile elites and urban morphology Co published by arrangement with the Center for South and Southeast Asia Studies University of California Berkeley The Rise and Growth of the Colonial Port Cities in Asia Dilip K. Basu, 1979 of the Colonial Port Cities in Asia Dilip K. Basu, 1985 Trade and Society in the Straits of Melaka Nordin Hussin, 2007 This study compares Melaka and Penang in the context of overall trends policy geographical position nature and direction of trade and morphology and sociology and how these factors were influenced by trade and policies Conclusions are drawn concerning where and how Melaka and Penang fit in the urban traditions of Southeast Asia and the significance of the fact that the period under study coincided with the shift from the height of the Age of Commerce towards a period of The Rise and Growth of the Colonial Port Cities in Asia /Dilip K. Portuguese Colonial Cities in the Early Modern World Liam Matthew Brockey, 2016-12-05 Portuguese Colonial Cities in the Early Modern World is a collection of essays on the cities of the Portuguese empire written by the leading scholars in the field The volume like the empire it analyzes has a global scope and a chronological span of three centuries The contributions focus on the social political and economic aspects of city life in settlements as far apart as Rio de Janeiro Mozambique Island and Nagasaki Despite the seeming and real disparities between the colonial cities located in South America Africa and Asia this volume demonstrates that they possessed a range of commonalities Beyond their shared language these cities had similar social religious and political institutions that shaped their identities In many cases the civic bodies analyzed in these essays such as the city councils or the Miseric rdias charitable brotherhoods no less than the convents and houses of Catholic religious orders contributed more to making these cities Portuguese than their allegiance to the crown in Lisbon Rather than dividing the globe into Atlantic and Indian Ocean spheres Portuguese Colonial Cities in the Early Modern World takes the novel approach of bringing together analyses of the social history of these cities in order to stress their shared aspects as well as to suggest paths for fruitful comparisons By encouraging further scholarship in this rich yet understudied subject this collection will not only further comparisons between cities found within the Portuguese empire but also raise important issues that will be of interest to historians of other European empires as well as urban historians generally Port Cities and Intruders Michael N. Pearson, 2002-10-14 Selected by Choice Magazine as an Outstanding Academic Title In Port Cities and Intruders historian Michael Pearson explores the role of port cities and their orientation relations between the coast and the interior the place of the coast in the world economy and the impact of the

Portuguese in the early modern period The Rise and Growth of the Colonial Port Cities in Asia Colonial Port Cities in Asia Dilip K. Basu, 1979 Historical Archaeology of Early Modern Colonialism in Asia-Pacific Maria Cruz Berrocal, Cheng-hwa Tsang, 2017-12-28 The essential source for scholarly reassessment of the Asia Pacific region s diverse and significant archaeology and history James P Delgado coauthor of The Maritime Landscape of the Isthmus of Panama Underpins a nuanced picture of Asia Pacific that shows how the activities of the Chinese and Japanese in East Asia the spread of Islam from South Asia and the efforts of the Iberians and especially the Spanish from southern Europe ushered in a world of complex interaction and rapid and often profound change in local regional and wider cultural patterns Ian Lilley editor of Archaeology of Oceania Australia and the Pacific Islands The history of Asia Pacific since 1500 has traditionally been told with Europe as the main player ushering in a globalized capitalist world But these volumes help decentralize that global history revealing that preexisting trade networks and local authorities influenced the region before and long after Europeans arrived In the volume The Southwest Pacific and Oceanian Regions case studies from Alofi Vanuatu the Marianas Hawaii Guam and Taiwan compare the development of colonialism across different islands Contributors discuss human settlement before the arrival of Dutch French British and Spanish explorers tracing major exchange routes that were active as early as the tenth century They highlight rarely examined sixteenth and seventeenth century encounters between indigenous populations and Europeans and draw attention to how cross cultural interaction impacted the local peoples of Oceania The volume The Asia Pacific Region looks at colonialism in the Philippines China Japan and Vietnam emphasizing the robust trans regional networks that existed before European contact Southeast Asia had long been influenced by Buddhist Hindu and Muslim traders in ways that helped build the region s ethnic and political divisions Essays show the complexity and significance of maritime trade during European colonization by investigating galleon wrecks in Manila Japan's porcelain exports and Spanish coins discovered off China s coast Packed with archaeological and historical evidence from both land and underwater sites impressive in geographical scope and featuring perspectives of scholars from many different countries and traditions these volumes illuminate the often misunderstood nature of early colonialism in Asia Pacific Histories of City and State in the Persian Gulf Nelida Fuccaro, 2009-09-03 In this path breaking and multi layered account of one of the least explored societies in the Middle East Nelida Fuccaro examines the political and social life of the Gulf city and its coastline as exemplified by Manama in Bahrain Written as an ethnography of space politics and community it addresses the changing relationship between urban development politics and society before and after the discovery of oil By using a variety of local sources and oral histories Fuccaro questions the role played by the British Empire and oil in state making Instead she draws attention to urban residents elites and institutions as active participants in state and nation building She also examines how the city has continued to provide a source of political social and sectarian identity since the early nineteenth century challenging the view that the advent of oil and modernity represented a radical break in the urban past of the region

Cities of the Global South Reader Faranak Miraftab, Neema Kudva, 2014-10-10 The Cities of the Global South Reader adopts a fresh and critical approach to the fi eld of urbanization in the developing world. The Reader incorporates both early and emerging debates about the diverse trajectories of urbanization processes in the context of the restructured global alignments in the last three decades Emphasizing the historical legacies of colonialism the Reader recognizes the entanglement of conditions and concepts often understood in binary relations first third worlds wealth poverty development underdevelopment and inclusion exclusion By asking whose city whose development the Reader rigorously highlights the fractures along lines of class race gender and other socially and spatially constructed hierarchies in global South cities The Reader's thematic structure where editorial introductions accompany selected texts examines the issues and concerns that urban dwellers planners and policy makers face in the contemporary world. These include the urban economy housing basic services infrastructure the role of non state civil society based actors planned interventions and contestations the role of diaspora capital the looming problem of adapting to climate change and the increasing spectre of violence in a post 9 11 transnational world The Cities of the Global South Reader pulls together a diverse set of readings from scholars across the world some of which have been written specially for the volume to provide an essential resource for a broad interdisciplinary readership at undergraduate and postgraduate levels in urban geography urban sociology and urban planning as well as disciplines related to international and development studies Editorial commentaries that introduce the central issues for each theme summarize the state of the field and outline an associated bibliography They will be of particular value for lecturers students and researchers making the Cities of the Global South Reader a key text for those interested in understanding contemporary urbanization processes Gateways Of Asia Frank Broeze, 2013-10-28 First Published in 1997 The dynamic role of port cities has been a major element in the thrust of modern port city literature since In the process interactions between history and other disciplines above all geography economics and town planning resulted in a growing number of collaborative volumes Indicative of the broad front multi disciplinary approach and challenging agenda of this wave of port town and port city studies is the collective and diverse nature of the themes and authorship of each of these works That very diversity of disciplines nationalities and perspectives is also one of the main pillars supporting Gateways of Asia It is not a repetition or summary of the introduction and first chapter of Brides of the Sea but the publication of this volume in many ways a sequel to that work does provide the opportunity of clarifying a few points and elaborating on some issues raised after its publication Port Geography and Hinterland Development Dynamics Mina Akhavan, 2020-09-25 This book illustrates and discusses the main characteristics of port city development dynamics with a focus on the fast growing city states of the Middle East which are emerging as key players in logistics and the global supply chain Maritime ports and the cities hosting them have long fascinated scholars geographers economists architects urban planners sociologists etc as they become centres of exchange where different social and urban environments meet at the intersection between land and sea

Given that the current body of literature on the topic is biased mainly concerning the Western world and East Asian region with mono disciplinary tendencies this book outlines a theoretical basis from a wide range of literature linking port city studies globalization theories and logistics and adopts a multidisciplinary perspective. The main target audience of the book includes scholars and graduate students in urban studies spatial planning urban and regional economics logistics geography and transport geography with an interest in studying port geography and the port city interface port infrastructure development and port hinterland dynamics it will also benefit policymakers and urban planners whose work involves these In Asian Waters Eric Tagliacozzo, 2024-10-29 A sweeping account of how the sea routes of Asia have transformed a vast expanse of the globe over the past five hundred years powerfully shaping the modern world In the centuries leading up to our own the volume of traffic across Asian sea routes an area stretching from East Africa and the Middle East to Japan grew dramatically eventually making them the busiest in the world The result was a massive circulation of people commodities religion culture technology and ideas In this book Eric Tagliacozzo chronicles how the seas and oceans of Asia have shaped the history of the largest continent for the past half millennium leaving an indelible mark on the modern world in the process Paying special attention to migration trade the environment and cities In Asian Waters examines the long history of contact between China and East Africa the spread of Hinduism and Buddhism across the Bay of Bengal and the intertwined histories of Islam and Christianity in the Philippines The book illustrates how India became central to the spice trade how the Indian Ocean became a British lake between the seventeenth and nineteenth centuries and how lighthouses and sea mapping played important roles in imperialism The volume ends by asking what may happen if China comes to rule the waves of Asia as Britain once did A novel account showing how Asian history can be seen as a whole when seen from the water In Asian Waters presents a voyage into a past that is still alive in the present The Route to European Hegemony Ruby Maloni, 2021-04-18 The advent of the Europeans was crucial in transforming the contours of Maritime Asia The commercial situation in the Indian Ocean was impacted in many ways over the longue duree from the sixteenth to the eighteenth centuries To offset the adverse balance of trade and to maximize profits the Europeans imposed their own coercive and monopolistic systems along the existing trade routes Systematic exploitation of economic opportunities in Asia by Europeans began with the coming of the Portuguese followed by other European maritime powers It culminated with Britannia ruling the Asian waters with warships and a strong merchant marine A study of the operational and ideological motivations that propelled the European powers activities in the Indian Ocean can help to construct a coherent interpretation of the foundations of empire that were being laid at first insidiously and later aggressively This book analyses the mechanism and implications of Europe's sustained engagement in Intra Asian trade which is as an essential context to the establishment of colonial empires Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka Reframing Singapore Derek Thiam Soon Heng, Syed Muhd. the past two decades Singapore has advanced rapidly towards becoming a both a global city state and a key nodal point in the international economic sphere These developments have caused us to reassess how we understand this changing nation including its history population and geography as well as its transregional and transnational experiences with the external world This collection spans several disciplines in the humanities and social sciences and draws on various theoretical approaches and methodologies in order to produce a more refined understanding of Singapore and to reconceptialize the challenges faced by the country and its peoples Doing Global History Roland Wenzlhuemer, 2019-10-31 The field of Global History has experienced an unprecedented boom in the last two decades and carved itself deeply into the practice of historical research Despite this its conceptual foundations have rarely been explored This introduction to what Global History is brings together theory and practice with 6 key concepts delivered through 6 accessible case studies Re evaluating the central concerns and key approaches in the field it offers an up to date discussion of the foundations of Global History its quiding questions and principal methods at work Doing Global History offers students valuable insights into the ways general concepts can be used and applied when doing historical research The 6 concepts connections actors structures space time and transit and their accompanying examples will not only help readers to get a solid grasp of what global history means but will stimulate further engagement in the field Wenzlhuemer successfully shows that global history is best considered as a perspective not a theory or paradigm and guides the reader through ways it can be used in practice to draw new and exciting conclusions Tailored for classroom and student use this book will be invaluable to advanced undergraduates and postgraduates of Global History Portuguese, Dutch and Chinese in Maritime Asia, c.1585 - 1800 George Bryan Souza, 2024-10-28 This collection of 13 essays deals with a range of topics concerning Portuguese Dutch and Chinese merchants commodities and commerce in maritime Asia in the early modern period from c 1585 1800 They are based on exhaustive research and careful analysis of diverse sets of archival materials found around the globe Written by a leading authority on global maritime economic history and the history of European Expansion each individual essay addresses a topic of fundamental importance to those interested in knowing more about what merchants did with which resources and under what conditions and how they did it what were the commodities that were incorporated into local regional intra regional and global economies and what was the role and function of early modern maritime trade and commerce in economic development in general and especially in Asia in the early modern era from c 1585 1800 A number of them in particular relate the individual or collective merchant experience to specific European Portuguese and Dutch imperial projects and their contestation amongst themselves and their indigenous neighbours over portions of the period Collectively they form an exposition of a utilitarian view of human activity under a wide ranging different set of circumstances and conditions but with similar patterns of behaviors and responses that are largely independent from ethnic racial or religious stereotyping The work therefore should raise new issues and avenues of research concerning these agents and objects in European Expansion
