Rites Of Winter:

Coming Down from Above Lee Irwin, 2014-10-20 For longer than five centuries Native Americans have struggled to adapt to colonialism missionization and government control policies This first comprehensive survey of prophetic movements in Native North America tells how religious leaders blended indigenous beliefs with Christianity's prophetic traditions to respond to those challenges Lee Irwin gathers a scattered literature to provide a single volume overview that depicts American Indians creative synthesis of their own religious beliefs and practices with a variety of Christian theological ideas and moral teachings He traces continuities in the prophetic tradition from eighteenth century Delaware prophets to Western dream dance visionaries showing that Native American prophecy was not merely borrowed from Christianity but emerged from an interweaving of Christian and ancient North American teachings integral to Native religions From the highly assimilated ideas of the Puget Sound Shakers to such resistance movements as that of the Shawnee Prophet Irwin tells how the integration of non Native beliefs with prophetic teachings gave rise to diverse ethnotheologies with unique features He surveys the beliefs and practices of the nation to which each prophet belonged then describes his or her life and teachings the codification of those teachings and the impact they had on both the community and the history of Native religions Key hard to find primary texts are included in an appendix An introduction to an important strand within the rich tapestry of Native religions Coming Down from Above shows the remarkable responsiveness of those beliefs to historical events It is an unprecedented encyclopedic sourcebook for anyone interested in the roots of Native theology

Cherishing Men from Afar James Louis Hevia, 1995 In the late eighteenth century two expansive Eurasian empires met formally for the first time the Manchu or Qing dynasty of China and the maritime empire of Great Britain The occasion was the mission of Lord Macartney sent by the British crown and sponsored by the East India Company to the court of the Qianlong emperor Cherishing Men from Afar looks at the initial confrontation between these two empires from a historical perspective informed by the insights of contemporary postcolonial criticism and cultural studies The history of this encounter like that of most colonial and imperial encounters has traditionally been told from the Europeans point of view In this book James L Hevia consults Chinese sources many previously untranslated for a broader sense of what Qing court officials understood and considers these documents in light of a sophisticated anthropological understanding of Qing ritual processes and expectations He also reexamines the more familiar British accounts in the context of recent critiques of orientalism and work on the development of the bourgeois subject Hevia's reading of these sources reveals the logics of two discrete imperial formations not so much impaired by the cultural misunderstandings that have historically been attributed to their meeting but animated by differing ideas about constructing relations of sovereignty and power His examination of Chinese and English language scholarly treatments of this event both historical and contemporary sheds new light on the place of the Macartney mission in the dynamics of colonial and imperial encounters Winter Jo Graham, 2020-05-08 This book is a fascinating exploration of one of the four cycles in the ancient Etruscan system known as the saecula Winter is the final cycle
