Means of Exchange Dagfinn Skre,2008-12-31 This second volume based on the excavations of the Viking town Kaupang 2000 2003 presents find types used in economic transactions coins hacksilver ingots weights and balances Changes in type and volume of economic transactions at Kaupang and in Scandinavia are discussed and the economic mentality of Viking crafts and tradesmen is explored Earlier the study of Viking silver currency was based mainly on hoards containing coins and hacksilver In this volume the combined study of the find types mentioned as well as the sophisticated chronology of settlements finds from sites like Kaupang gives a completely new insight into economy and exchange In the early 9th century silver and goods seem to have come to Kaupang mainly from the Carolingian world Silver weighed with locally produced lead weights was used as currency on a limited scale The old e unit was easily convertible to Carolingian units After the mid 9th century this early system was altered The increased availability of silver caused by the import of Islamic coins as well as the introduction in most of Scandinavia in the 860s 870s of standardized weights of probable Islamic origin paved the way from then on for an increasing use of silver as payment These studies demonstrate that sites like Kaupang led the way in economic development in Scandinavia The urban environment promoted an economic mentality which contributed significantly to the fundamental transformation of Scandinavian culture and society which culminated in the region's integration in Christian Europe in the High Middle Ages

Cameron A. Petrie, 2020-12-28 From 1985 to 2001 the collaborative research initiative known as the Bannu Archaeological Project conducted archaeological explorations and excavations in the Bannu region in what was then the North West Frontier Province NWFP of Pakistan now Khyber Pakhtunkhwa This Project involves scholars from the Pakistan Heritage Society the British Museum the Institute of Archaeology UCL Bryn Mawr College and the University of Cambridge This is the third in a series of volumes that present the final reports of the exploration and excavations carried out by the Bannu Archaeological Project This volume presents the first synthesis of the archaeology of the historic periods in the Bannu region spanning the period when the first large scale empires expanded to the borders of South Asia up until the arrival of Islam in the subcontinent at the end of the first and beginning of the second millennium BC The Bannu region provides specific insight into early imperialism in South Asia as throughout this protracted period it was able to maintain a distinctive regional identity in the face of recurring phases of imperial expansion and integration The Numismatic Chronicle, 2005 The rules of the Numismatic Society of London bound with New Ser v 1 Index of Conference Proceedings British Library. Document Supply Centre, 1997 American Journal of Archaeology, 1917 Archaeology and Religion in Early Northwest India Daniel Michon, 2015-08-12 This book explores the ways in which past cultures have been used to shape colonial and postcolonial cultural identities It provides a theoretical framework to understand these processes and offers illustrative case studies in which the agency of ancient peoples rather than the desires of antiquarians and archaeologists is brought to the fore Potamikon: Sinews of Acheloi Nicholas J. Molinari, Nicola Sisci, 2016-07-10 This book Potamikon presents an investigation into the origin and identity of the man faced bull as well as a catalogue of coins Bibliotheca Celtica, 1970

The Molyvoti, Thrace, Archaeological Project 1 Nathan T. Arrington, Thomas F. Tartaron, Marina Tasaklaki, Domna Terzopoulou, 2024-08-15 This publication is the first of four volumes that will present the final results of the 2013 2015 seasons of MTAP a Greek American synergasia project This first volume presents the history and finds from the archaeological site often referred to as Ancient Stryme which ancient sources identified as an emporion trading post and polis settled by Thasians The volume provides a new chronology for the site including its 4th century BCE reoccupation after destruction possibly associated with Philip of Macedon and traces diachronic change through the Early Byzantine period A significant discovery is a complete Classical house at the site one of the few from Aegean Thrace which features informative architecture and domestic assemblages Intensive urban survey clarifies the city's 4th century walls and harbors and expands our understanding of the scale and function of coastal settlements In the surrounding chora the area's first geomorphological study evaluates landscape use and the changing coastline Contributions from over 20 authors discuss the excavation survey geomorphology and finds from MTAP shedding new light on Greek Thracian interaction settlement trade and the environment from prehistory through the Early Byzantine period in an understudied region of the Aegean Roman and Medieval Exeter and their Hinterlands Stephen Rippon, Neil Holbrook, 2021-03-23 This first volume presenting research carried out through the Exeter A Place in Time project provides a synthesis of the development of Exeter within its local regional national and international hinterlands Exeter began life in c AD 55 as one of the most important legionary bases within early Roman Britain and for two brief periods in the early and late 60s AD Exeter was a critical centre of Roman power within the new province When the legion moved to Wales the fortress was converted into the civitas capital for the Dumnonii Its development as a town was however relatively slow reflecting the gradual pace at which the region as a whole adapted to being part of the Roman world The only evidence we have for occupation within Exeter between the 5th and 8th centuries is for a church in what was later to become the Cathedral Close In the late 9th century however Exeter became a defended burh and this was followed by the revival of urban life Exeter s wealth was in part derived from its central role in the south west s tin industry and by the late 10th century Exeter was the fifth most productive mint in England Exeter s importance continued to grow as it became an episcopal and royal centre and excavations within Exeter have revealed important material culture assemblages that reflect its role as an international port

The Archaeology of Seafaring in Ancient South Asia Himanshu Prabha Ray, 2003-08-14 Prior to European expansion communities of the Indian subcontinent had a strong maritime orientation In this new archaeological study Himanshu Prabha Ray explores seafaring activity religious travel and political economy in this ancient period By using archaeological data from the Red Sea to the Indonesian archipelago she reveals how the early history of peninsular South Asia is interconnected with that of its Asian and Mediterranean partners in the Indian Ocean Region The book departs from traditional studies focusing on the communities maritime history rather than agrarian expansion and the emergence of the state Rather than being a prime mover in social economic and religious change the state is viewed as just one participant in a complex interplay of social actors including merchants guilds boat builders sailors pilgrims religious clergy and craft producers A study that will be welcomed by students of Archaeology and Ancient History particularly those interested in South Asian Studies

Archaeological Chemistry A Mark Pollard, Carl Heron, 2015-11-09 The application of chemistry within archaeology is an important and fascinating area It allows the archaeologist to answer such questions as what is this artefact made of where did it come from and how has it been changed through burial in the ground providing pointers to the earliest history of mankind Archaeological Chemistry begins with a brief description of the goals and history of archaeological science and the place of chemistry within it It sets out the most widely used analytical techniques in archaeology and compares them in the light of relevant applications The book includes an analysis of several specific archaeological investigations in which chemistry has been employed in tracing the origins of or in preserving artefacts The choice of these investigations conforms to themes based on analytical techniques and includes chapters on obsidian ceramics glass metals and resins Finally it suggests a future role for chemical and biochemical applications in archaeology Archaeological Chemistry enables scientists to tackle the fundamental issues of chemical change in the archaeological materials in order to advance the study of the past It will prove an essential companion to students in archaeological science and chemistry field and museum archaeologists and all those involved in conserving human artefacts Roman Coins from India Paula J Turner, 2016-06-16 This book is a detailed collation of the recorded finds of Roman coins on Indian soil divided into Republican Julio Claudian and post Julio Claudian coins It also includes chapters on the historical significance of the scarcity of Roman finds the absence of base metal issues in the early empire the predominance of early imperial denarii and the difference in composition between the Julio Claudian gold and silver hoards There is considerable discussion on slashed gold coins and defaced silver coins and on imitation Roman coins found in India Three exhaustive appendices include a catalogue of finds of Roman coins found in India the present location of Roman coins found in India and Roman coins in the Madras Central Government Museum Copublished with the Royal Numismatic Society Library Catalog of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.).
