Modern Iraq Stacy E. Holden, 2012-07-08 Previously published histories and primary source collections on the Iraqi experience tend to be topically focused or dedicated to presenting a top down approach By contrast Stacy Holden's A Documentary History of Modern Iraq gives voice to ordinary Iraqis clarifying the experience of the Shiites Sunnis Kurds Jews and women over the past century Through varied documents ranging from short stories to treaties political speeches to memoirs and newspaper articles to book excerpts the work synthesizes previously marginalized perspectives of minorities and women with the voices of the political elite to provide an integrated picture of political change from the Ottoman Empire in 1903 to the end of the second Bush administration in 2008 Covering a broad range of topics this bottom up approach allows readers to fully immerse themselves in the lives of everyday Iraqis as they navigate regime shifts from the British to the Hashemite monarchy the political upheaval of the Persian Gulf wars and beyond Brief introductions to each excerpt provide context and suggest questions for classroom discussion This collection offers raw history untainted and unfiltered by modern political framework and thought representing a refreshing new approach to the study of Iraq New York, 2004

Saudi Aramco World, 2004 The Art Bulletin, 2005 Includes section Notes and reviews Children's TV and Digital Media in the Arab World Naomi Sakr, Jeanette Steemers, 2017-03-30 Who analyses children's screen content and media use in Arab countries and with what results Children defined internationally as under 18s account for some 40 per cent of Arab populations and the proportion of under fives is correspondingly large Yet studies of children's media and child audiences in the region are as scarce as truly popular locally produced media content aimed at children At the very time when conflict and uncertainty in key Arab countries have made local development and diversification of children's media more remote it has become more urgent to gain a better understanding of how the next generation's identities and worldviews are formed This interdisciplinary book is the first in English to probe both the state of Arab screen media for children and the practices of Arabic speaking children in producing as well as consuming screen content It responds to the gap in research by bringing together a holistic investigation of institutions and leading players children's media experiences and some iconic media texts With children's media increasingly linked to merchandising which favours US based global players and globalizing forces this volume provides a timely insight into tensions between differing concepts of childhood and desirable media messages Book Review Index ,2006 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation The British
