A Selection in Modern Spelling. Edited with an Introduction, Notes, and Glossary by Norman Davis* Norman DAVIS (M.B.E., M.A.),PASTON LETTERS.,1963 The Paston Letters Paston,1978 Paston Letters and Papers Norman Davis,1963 Medieval Women's Writing Diane Watt,2007-10-22 Medieval Women's Writing is a major new contribution to our understanding of women's writing in England 1100 1500 The most comprehensive account to date it includes writings in Latin and French as well as English and works for as well as by women Marie de France Clemence of Barking Julian of Norwich Margery Kempe and the Paston women are discussed alongside the Old English lives of women saints The Life of Christina of Markyate the St Albans Psalter and the legends of women saints by Osbern Bokenham Medieval Women's Writing addresses these key questions Who were the first women authors in the English canon What do we mean by women's writing in the Middle Ages What do we mean by authorship How can studying medieval writing contribute to our understanding of women's literary history Diane Watt argues that female patrons audiences readers and even subjects contributed to the production of texts and their meanings whether written by men or women Only an understanding of textual production as collaborative enables us to grasp fully women's engagement with literary culture This radical rethinking of early women's literary history has major implications for all scholars working on medieval literature on ideas of authorship and on women's writing in later periods The book will become standard reading for all students of these debates The Paston Women Diane Watt, 2004 The Paston letters viewed in the context of medieval women's writing and medieval letter writing The Paston letters form one of only two surviving collections of fifteenth century correspondence in their case especially rich in letters from the women of the family Clandestine love affairs secret marriages violent family rows bickering with neighbours battles and sieges threats of murder and kidnapping fears of plague these are just some of the topics discussed in the letters of the Paston women Diane Watt's introduction seeks to place these letters in the context of medieval women's writing and medieval letter writing Her interpretive essay reconstructs the lives of these women by examining what the letters reveal about women's literacy and education life in the medieval household religion and piety health and medicine and love marriage family relationships and female friendships in the middle ages Professor Diane Watt is Head of the School of English and Languages University of Surrey Contemporary Irish Poetry and the Canon Kenneth Keating, 2017-03-27 This book makes an important intervention into debates about influence and contemporary Irish poetry Supported throughout by incisive reflections upon allusion word choice and formal structure Keating brings to the discussion a range of new and lesser known voices which decisively complicate and illuminate its pronounced concerns with inheritance history and the Irish poetic canon Steven Matthews Professor of English Literature University of Reading UK and author of Irish Poetry Politics History Negotiation and Yeats As Precursor This book is about the way that contemporary Irish poetry is dominated and shaped by criticism It argues that critical practices tend to construct reductive singular and static understandings of poetic texts identities careers and maps of the development of modern Irish poetry This study challenges the attempt present within such criticism to arrest stabilize and diffuse the threat multiple alternative histories and understandings of texts would pose to the formation of any singular pyramidal canon Offered here are detailed close readings of the recent work of some of the most established and high profile Irish poets such as Paul Muldoon and Medbh McGuckian along with emerging poets to foreground an alternative critical methodology which undermines the traditional canonical pursuit of singular meaning and definition through embracing the troubling indeterminacy and multiplicity to be found within contemporary Irish poetry The Gest of Robyn Hode: A Critical and Textual Commentary Robert B. Waltz, The Gest is the earliest major writing about Robin Hood although it tells a tale very different from that found in most modern retellings This version attempts to produce a more accurate text of the long lost original it also provides a modernized parallel To this is added an extensive historical introduction line by line commentary vocabulary study and a selection of other texts which clarify the context of the Gest Dedicated to Patricia Rosenberg Romantic Women Writers Reviewed, Part III Ann R Hawkins, 2022-08-08 This multi volume reset collection will address a significant shortfall in scholarly work offering contemporary reviews of the work of Romantic women writers to a wider audience Family and Kinship in England, 1450-1800 Will Coster, 2015-10-23 While historians have made the history of family life a key area of scholarly study the diversity of methods sources areas of interest and conclusions this has produced have made it one of the most difficult for readers to approach Family Kinship in England 1450 1800 guides the reader through the changing relationships that made up the nature of family life It gives a clear introduction to many of the intriguing areas of interest that this field of history has opened up including childhood youth marriage sexuality and death The book provides An understanding of how the family has developed from the late medieval period to the beginnings of industrialisation A synthesis of the varied work of other historians which helps to understand the often disjointed or contradictory research into this area A glossary of technical terms used by historians to describe the family in the past Contemporary documents and illustrations allowing readers to familiarise themselves with the business of understanding people in the past Written in an engaging and accessible manner Family Kinship in England 1450 1800 stimulates interest in a fascinating topic and allows readers to pursue their own interests in the history of family life in the past

'A Great Effusion of Blood'? Mark D. Meyerson, Daniel Thiery, Oren Falk, 2015-03-27 A great effusion of blood was a phrase used frequently throughout medieval Europe as shorthand to describe the effects of immoderate interpersonal violence Yet the ambiguity of this phrase poses numerous problems for modern readers and scholars in interpreting violence in medieval society and culture and its effect on medieval people Understanding medieval violence is made even more complex by the multiplicity of views that need to be reconciled those of modern scholars regarding the psychology and comportment of medieval people those of the medieval persons themselves as perpetrators or victims of violence those of medieval writers describing the acts and those of medieval readers the audience for these accounts Using historical records artistic representation and theoretical articulation the contributors to this volume attempt to bring together these views and fashion a comprehensive understanding of medieval conceptions of violence Exploring the issue from both historical and literary perspectives the contributors examine violence in a broad variety of genres places and times such as the Late Antique lives of the martyrs Islamic historiography Anglo Saxon poetry and Norse sagas canon law and chronicles English and Scottish ballads the criminal records of fifteenth century Spain and more Taken together the essays offer fresh ways of analysing medieval violence and its representations and bring us closer to an understanding of how it was experienced by the people who lived it

A History of the Church through its Buildings Allan Doig, 2020-12-10 The History of the Church through its Buildings takes the reader to meet people who lived through momentous religious changes in the very spaces where the story of the Church took shape Buildings are about people the people who conceived designed financed and used them Their stories become embedded in the very fabric itself and as the fabric is changed through time in response to changing use relationships and beliefs the architecture becomes the standing history of passing waves of humanity This process takes on special significance in churches where the arrangement of the space places members of the community in relationship with one another for the performance of the church's rites and ceremonies Moreover architectural forms and building materials can be used to establish relationships with other buildings in other places and other times Coordinated systems of signs symbols and images proclaim beliefs and doctrine and in a wider sense carry extended narratives of the people and their faith Looking at the history of the church through its buildings allows us to establish a tangible connection to the lives of the people involved in some of the key moments and movements that shaped that history and perhaps even a degree of intimacy with them Standing in the same place where the worshippers of the past preached and taught or in a space they built as a memorial touching the stone they placed or marking their final resting place holding a keepsake they treasured or seeing a relic they venerated probably comes as close to a shared experience with these people as it is possible to come Perhaps for a fleeting moment at such times their faces may come more clearly into focus Generations of Feeling Barbara H.

Rosenwein,2016 An exploration of emotional life in the West considering the varieties transformations and constants of human emotions over eleven centuries Women's Roles in the Middle Ages Sandy Bardsley,2007-06-30 Information about women in this truly fascinating period from 500 to 1500 is in great demand and has been a challenge for historians to uncover Bardsley has mined a wide range of primary sources from noblewomen s writing court rolls chivalric literature laws and legal documents to archeology and artwork This fresh survey provides readers with an excellent understanding of how women high and low fared in terms of religion work family law culture and politics and public life Even though medieval women were divided by social class religion age marital status place and period they were all subject to an overarching patriarchal structure and sometimes could transcend their inferior status Numerous examples of these exceptional women and their words are included Chapter 1 examines religion focusing on women s roles in the early Christian church the lives of nuns and other professional religious women such as anchoresses and Beguines the participation of Christian laywomen and the experiences of Jewish and Islamic women in Western Europe The second chapter examines women s work looking in turn at the kinds of work performed by peasant women townswomen and noblewomen Women s roles within the family form the subject of the third chapter This chapter follows women throughout the typical lifecycle from girl to widow examining the expectations and experiences of women at each stage Chapter 4 Women and the Law focuses on the ways in which laws both restricted and protected women It also considers the crimes with which women were most often charged and surveys laws regarding marriage and widowhood Women s roles in creative arts form the basis of the fifth chapter Women and Culture This chapter examines women s roles as artists authors composers and patrons as well as investigating the ways in which women were represented in works produced by men Finally chapter 6 discusses women s experiences in politics and public life While women as a group were typically banned from holding positions of public authority some found ways to get around this stricture while others were able to exercise power behind the scenes The final chapter thus encapsulates a major theme of this book the interplay between broader patriarchal forces that limited women s status and autonomy and the role of individuals who were able to overcome or circumvent such forces Medieval women were as a group subordinate to their husbands and fathers but certain women under certain circumstances evaded subordination

Teaching with the Records of Early English Drama Elza C. Tiner, 2006-01-01 Since the appearance of the first volume in 1979 the Records of Early English Drama REED series has made available an accurate and useable transcription of all surviving documentary evidence of dramatic ceremonial and minstrel activity in Great Britain up to the closing of the theatres in 1642 Although they are immensely valuable to scholars the REED volumes sometimes prove difficult for students to use without considerable assistance With this book Elza Tiner aims to make the records accessible for classroom use The contributors to the volume describe the various ways in which students can learn from working with these documents Divided into five sections the volume illustrates how specific disciplines can use the Records to provide resources for students including ways to teach the historical documents of early English drama training students in acting and producing historical contexts for the interpretation of literature as well as the study of local history women's studies and historical linguistics As a practical and much needed companion to the REED volumes Teaching with the Records of Early English Drama will prove invaluable to both students and teachers of Medieval English Drama

The Cambridge Companion to Medieval Women's Writing Carolyn Dinshaw, David Wallace, 2003-05-22 The Cambridge Companion to Medieval Women's Writing seeks to recover the lives and particular experiences of medieval women by concentrating on various kinds of texts the texts they wrote themselves as well as texts that attempted to shape limit or expand their lives The first section investigates the roles traditionally assigned to medieval women as virgins widows and wives it also considers female childhood and relations between women The second section explores social spaces including textuality itself for every surviving medieval manuscript bespeaks collaborative effort It considers women as authors as anchoresses dead to the world and as preachers and teachers in the world staking claims to authority without entering a pulpit The final section considers the lives and writings of remarkable women including Marie de France Heloise Joan of Arc Julian of Norwich Margery Kempe and female lyricists and romancers whose names are lost but whose texts survive Fashion and Fetishism David Kunzle, 2006-08-24 Presenting the history of corsetry and body sculpture this edition shows how the relationship between fashion and sex is closely bound up with sexual self expression It demonstrates how the use of the corset rejected the role of the passive maternal woman so that in Victorian times it was seen as a scandalous threat to the social order
