Power Inferno Requiem Pour Les Twin Towe:

German Cinema - Terror and Trauma Thomas Elsaesser, 2013-10-30 In German Cinema Terror and Trauma Since 1945 Thomas Elsaesser reevaluates the meaning of the Holocaust for postwar German films and culture while offering a reconsideration of trauma theory today Elsaesser argues that Germany's attempts at mastering the past can be seen as both a failure and an achievement making it appropriate to speak of an ongoing guilt management that includes not only Germany but Europe as a whole In a series of case studies which consider the work of Konrad Wolf Alexander Kluge Rainer Werner Fassbinder Herbert Achterbusch and Harun Farocki as well as films made in the new century Elsaesser tracks the different ways the Holocaust is present in German cinema from the 1950s onwards even when it is absent or referenced in oblique and hyperbolic ways Its most emphatically absent presence might turn out to be the compulsive afterlife of the Red Army Faction whose acts of terror in the 1970s were a response to as well as a reminder of Nazism's hold on the national imaginary Since the end of the Cold War and 9 11 the terms of the debate around terror and trauma have shifted also in Germany where generational memory now distributes the roles of historical agency and accountability differently Against the background of universalized victimhood a cinema of commemoration has if anything confirmed the violence that the past continues to exert on the present in the form of missed encounters retroactive incidents unintended slippages and uncanny parallels which Elsaesser reviving the full meaning of Freud's Fehlleistung calls the parapractic performativity of cultural memory

The Ideology of Tyranny G. Preparata, 2007-09-14 The book ascribes the late state of paralysis affecting dissent in America to the adoption of a peculiar gospel of divisiveness which was promoted in the Eighties by importing from France the theories of philosopher Michel Foucault

Terror and Modernity Donatella Di Cesare, 2019-06-10 We are inclined to see terrorist attacks as an aberration a violent incursion into our lives that bears no intrinsic relation to the fundamental features of modern societies But does this view misconstrue the relationship between terror and modernity In this book philosopher Donatella Di Cesare takes a historical approach and argues that terror is not a new phenomenon but rather one that has always been a key part of modernity At its most basic level terrorism is about the struggle for power and sovereignty The growing concentration of power in the hands of the state which is a constitutive feature of modern societies sows the seeds of terrorism which is deployed as a weapon by those who are exposed to the violence of the state and feel that they have no other recourse As Di Cesare illustrates her argument with examples ranging from the Red Brigades and 9 11 to jihadism and ISIS her sophisticated analysis will appeal to anyone who wishes to understand contemporary terrorism more deeply as well as to students and scholars of philosophy and political theory

Jean Baudrillard Brian Gogan, 2017-10-18 Jean Baudrillard has been studied as sociologist philosopher cultural theorist political commentator and photographer Brian Gogan establishes him as a rhetorician demonstrating how the histories traditions and practices of rhetoric prove central to his use of language In addition to Baudrillard's standard works Gogan examines many of the scholar's lesser known writings that have never been analyzed by rhetoricians and this more comprehensive approach presents fresh perspectives on Baudrillard's work as a whole. Gogan examines both the theorist and his rhetoric combining these two lines of inquiry in ways that allow for provocative insights. Part one of the book explains Baudrillard's theory as compatible with the histories and traditions of rhetoric, outlining his novel understanding of rhetorical invention as involving thought, discourse, and perception. Part two evaluates Baudrillard's work in terms of a perception of him as an aphorist, an illusionist, an ignoramus, and an ironist. A biographical sketch and a critical review of the literature on Baudrillard and rhetoric round out the study. This book makes the French theorist's complex concepts understandable and relates them to the work of important thinkers, providing a thorough and accessible introduction to Baudrillard's ideas.

Muslims in the Enlarged Europe Brigitte Marechal, Stefano Allievi, Felice Dassetto, Jørgen Nielsen, 2003-09-01. This volume describes the main characteristics of contemporary European Islam. Following an outline of the historical background and some statistics related to the presence of Islam in Europe, the process of growth, the development of Islam is analysed through religious instruction in educational systems, organisational structures, and the forms of political participation by Muslims. In addition to a description of the relationship between European states and Islam in judicial terms, the different types of the inclusion/integration of Islam in European society is studied by looking at the media, the relations between religions, economic and international dimensions, and the manner in which views have changed following the events of September 11. Based on extensive bibliographical research, field studies, and specific contributions of scholars, this book provides a rare and useful overall review for a wide public. Muslims in the Enlarged Europe has been selected by Choice as Outstanding Academic Title 2005.
