rhetoric multimodality English as a lingua franca and ethnography Studying English Literature Tory Young, 2008-05-22 Studying English Literature is a unique guide for undergraduates beginning to study the discipline of literature and those who are thinking of doing so Unlike books that provide a survey of literary history or non subject specific manuals that offer rigid guidelines on how to write essays Studying English Literature invites students to engage with the subject's history and theory whilst at the same time offering information about reading researching and writing about literature within the context of a university The book is practical yet not patronizing for example whilst the discussion of plagiarism provides clear guidelines on how not to commit this offence it also considers the difficulties students experience finding their own voice when writing and provokes reflection on the value of originality and the concepts of adaptation appropriation and intertextuality in literature Above all the book prizes the idea of argument rather than insisting upon formulaic essay plans and gives many ways of finding something to say as you read and when you write in chapters on Reading Argument Essays Sentences and References Exam Secrets in Literature-in-English: What JAMB, WAEC and NECO Want from Candidates Mazi Basil Nwokorie, Exam Secrets in Literature in English What JAMB WAEC NECO and NABTEB Want from candidates is specifically crafted for students and candidates who are preparing to take the examinations in Literature in English as administered by esteemed bodies such as Joint Admission And Matriculation Board JAMB West African Examination Council WAEC National Examination Council NECO and other similar institutions across Nigeria and Anglophonic West Africa With clear guidance and focused insights it equips candidates with the knowledge and strategies needed to succeed in these examinations confidently Children's Literature Barbara Stoodt, 1996 Reading, Writing, and Bookish Circles in the Ancient Mediterranean Jonathan D.H. Norton, Garrick Allen, Lindsey A. Askin, 2022-06-30 By integrating conversations across disciplines especially focusing on classical studies and Jewish and Christian studies this volume addresses several imbalances in scholarship on reading and textual activity in the ancient Mediterranean Contributors intentionally place Jewish Christian Roman Greek and other reading circles back into their encompassing historical context avoiding subdivisions along modern subject lines divisions still bearing marks of cultural and ideological interests In their examination contributors avoid dwelling upon traditional methodological debates over orality vs literacy and social classifications of literacy instead turning their attention to the social historical groups of people circles and networks strata and class scribal culture material culture epigraphic and papyrological evidence functions and types of literacy and the social relationships that all of these entail Overall the volume contributes to an emerging and important interdisciplinary collaboration between specialists in ancient literacy encouraging future discussion between two currently divided fields A Classification of Secondary School Courses, 1982 School Training for the Home Duties of Women Great Britain.
