Readings in Cross-cultural Methodology Frank W. Moore, 1966 Composite work on cross-cultural methodology includes research methods for sociology, anthropology, and ethnography with outlines for comparisons relative to cultural factors and cultural change. Many references. Cross-cultural analysis. The Routledge Companion to Cross-Cultural Management Nigel Holden, Snezhina Michailova, Susanne Tietze, 2015-04-24 This Routledge Companion provides a timely and authoritative overview of cross-cultural management as an academic domain and field of practice for academics and students. With contributions from over 60 authors from 20 countries, the book is organized into five thematic areas: Review, survey, and critique; Language and languages moving from the periphery to the core; Cross-cultural management research and education; The new international business landscape; Rethinking a multidisciplinary paradigm. Edited by an international team of scholars and featuring contributions from a range of leading cross-cultural management experts, this prestigious volume represents the most comprehensive guide to the development and scope of cross-cultural management as an academic discipline. Readings in Cross-cultural Psychology International Association for Cross-Cultural Psychology, 1974

Dictionary of Concepts in Cultural Anthropology Robert H. Winthrop, 1991-11-18 The field of cultural anthropology describes and interprets the thought and behavior of contemporary and near-contemporary societies. Inherently pluralistic, it offers a framework in which the distinctive perspectives of each cultural world can be appreciated. Robert Winthrop's dictionary describes the major concepts that have shaped the discipline both historically and theoretically. It sets modern anthropology in its proper context within the broader intellectual tradition. Eighty entries review the key concepts: culture, race, nature, symbolism, adaptation, the primitive, etc., that have established the fundamental problems and issues guided research and served as the focus for debate in key areas of the discipline. The entries, which range from 2,000 to 6,000 words in length, are both thorough in treatment and contemporary in relevance. Some entries are primarily of historical significance, while others describe recent developments. Each entry contains an annotated bibliography and a guide to additional reading on the subject. While this is not primarily a technical lexicon, many terms have been glossed and explained. Designed to be useful to students of anthropology this dictionary will assist those in other disciplines to find their way through the anthropological labyrinth

The Oxford Handbook of International Business Alan M. Rugman, 2009-01-15 As globalization explodes so has international business scholarship This second edition of the Oxford Handbook of International Business synthesises all the relevant literature of the last 40 years in 28 original chapters by the world's most distinguished scholars. Reflecting the changes and development in the field since the first edition, this new edition has a changed structure; all the chapters have been updated to take account of the latest scholarship and five new chapters freshly written. The Handbook is divided into six major sections providing comprehensive coverage of the following areas: History and Theory of the Multinational Enterprise; The Political and Regulatory Environment; Strategy and International Management; Managing the MNE; Area Studies; Methodological Issues. These state-of-the-art literature reviews will be invaluable references for students in business schools, social sciences, law, and area studies.

Comparative Methods in Sociology Ivan Vallier, 2023-11-10. The essays in this volume are intended to help social scientists do better comparative research and thereby to improve our possibilities for creating more satisfactory explanations or theories. These broad aims are advanced throughout the book in several ways: 1 by an identification and assessment of the methodological strategies of exceptionally important comparativists past and present; 2 by an explication and refinement of logics of procedure that are central to many types of comparative research; 3 by a presentation of new research models that link or bridge heretofore separate lines of comparative inquiry; and 4 by the definition of methodological criteria by which theories and conceptual frameworks can be more fruitfully related to and qualified by comparative studies. Specific problems such as comparability, causal inference, conceptualization, measurement, and sampling are addressed in various sections of particular essays.

From the Preface. This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program, which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice, reach, and impact. Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893, Voices Revived makes high-quality, peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print-on-demand technology. This title was originally published in 1971.

Three Styles in the Study of Kinship J.A. Barnes, 2013-11-05. The study of kinship is a fundamental part of the study and the practice of social anthropology. This volume examines the work of three distinguished anthropologists that bear on kinship and determines what theoretical models are implicit in their writings and assesses to what extent their claims have been validated. The anthropologists studied are from France, the UK, and USA: Claude Lévi-Strauss, Meyer Fortes, and G.P. Murdock. First published in 1971.

Multicultural Perspectives in Customer Behaviour Maria Piacentini, Charles Cui, 2013-09-13. With globalisation taking centre stage in the business world and multiculturalism affecting markets and societies, there is a need to understand the ways that customers respond to the changing marketplace from international and multicultural perspectives. This book is timely in addressing important themes raised in the most recent marketing literature, such as global consumer culture and the impact of Western culture on consumer behaviour in other countries; consumer acculturation processes and the impact on identity conflicts and the strategies people use to manage them; globalisation vs. localised strategies and the interaction of local and global influences on customer behaviour; climate change and global warming; the impact on consumer behaviour and the implications for social responsibility and cross-cultural customer research, including important methodological questions around the application of sociological group level measures to psychological individual level phenomenon in marketing contexts The papers in this edition address those themes reporting on studies from a range of countries including Germany Greece China and Austria and a number of cultural groups in the UK These papers draw on quantitative and qualitative methodologies reflecting the full range of methods employed in contemporary consumer research This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Marketing Management

Resources in Education, 1978 Understanding Geographical and Environmental Education Michael C. Williams, 1995-12-07 These papers aim to provide a substantial review of the literature pertaining to a comprehensive range of traditional and contemporary research paradigms and research methods The book is designed as a reference work for novice researchers in the fields of geographical and environmental education

Research in Education, 1974 Encyclopedia of Social and Cultural Anthropology Alan Barnard, Jonathan Spencer, 1996 Providing a guide to the ideas arguments and history of the discipline this volume discusses human social and cultural life in all its diversity and difference Theory ethnography and history are combined in over 230 entries on topics

Comparative Methods in the Social Sciences Neil J. Smelser, 2013-02-28 Even after teaching generations of social scientists Neil Smelser's classic book remains the most definitive statement of methodological issues for all comparative scholars and in political science anthropology sociology economics and psychology Such issues are timeless and therefore Smelser's lucid analysis remains timely and relevant Smelser posits a methodological continuity between the comparative studies of past masters and the more recent flow of contemporary comparative work To that end he takes a pragmatic critical look at the classic studies of Alexis de Tocqueville Emile Durkheim and Max Weber His analyses respect the historical specifics and contexts of their work but at the same time raise general issues such as cross unit comparability empirical representation of theoretical concepts and measures and historical causality The book also deals with the ongoing flows of comparative study in the social sciences which while methodologically more self conscious than past work nevertheless face a common set of issues including causation and classification The book's unique clarity makes it particularly useful for working scholars as well as students fighting their way through the methodological thickets of comparative studies
