Maffei, 2019-02-07 Reading Graphic Design in Cultural Context explains key ways of understanding and interpreting the graphic designs we see all around us in advertising branding packaging and fashion It situates these designs in their cultural and social contexts Drawing examples from a range of design genres leading design historians Grace Lees Maffei and Nicolas P Maffei explain theories of semiotics postmodernism and globalisation and consider issues and debates within visual communication theory such as legibility the relationship of word and image gender and identity and the impact of digital forms on design Their discussion takes in well known brands like Alessi Nike Unilever and Tate and everyday designed things including slogan t shirts car advertising ebooks corporate logos posters and music packaging

Human Abilities in Cultural Context S. H. Irvine, John W. Berry, 1988-09-30 Originally published in 1988 Human Abilities in Cultural Context constituted a major development in conceptualising and studying human abilities It formed a unique reference frame This study offers a re evaluation of ability theory by the editors S H Irvine and J W Berry and strong individual statements by H J Eysenck Arthur R Jensen Joseph R Royce and Robert J Sternberg who represent markedly different approaches to the measurement of intelligence It also focuses on contexts in which the limits of assessment by psychological tests are defined in minority native groups in North America in migrants to Britain in lower caste enclaves in India among African minorities and among Australian Aborigines Written by long term residents of the regions in question these chapters presented a wealth of fresh data in relation to Western formulations of theory and practice

Communicating Ethnic and Cultural Identity Mary Fong, Rueyling Chuang, 2004 This intercultural communication text reader brings together the many dimensions of ethnic and cultural identity and shows how they are communicated in everyday life Introducing and applying key concepts theories and approaches from empirical to ethnographic a wide variety of essays look at the experiences of African Americans Asians Asian Americans Latino as and Native Americans as well as many cultural groups The authors also explore issues such as gender race class spirituality alternative lifestyles and inter and intra ethnic identity Sites of analysis range from movies and photo albums to beauty salons and Deadhead concerts Visit our website for sample chapters

Indigenous Cognition: Functioning in Cultural Context J.W. Berry, S.H Irvine, E.G. Hunt, 2012-12-06 Cognitive psychology has established itself as one of the major branches of the discipline with much to its credit in such areas as decision making information processing memory and learning Similarly the assessment of cognitive abilities has become one of the hallmarks of the practice of psychology in the school in the factory and in the clinic In recent years these two branches have begun to interact and the two approaches have begun mutually to engage each other A third trend that of cross cultural cognitive psychology has been informed both by experimental cognitive sciences and by the practice of ability assessment see for example Berry and Dasen 1974 Cole and Scribner 1974 However the reverse has not been true the cognitive processes and abilities of much of the world s peoples studied by cross cultural psychologists have not been introduced to psychologists working in these two Western traditions see Irvine and Berry 1987 This volume attempts to begin this introduction by asking the question What is known about the cognitive functions of other peoples that could enable extant psychology to become more comprehensive to attain a universal cognitive psychology Who are these other peoples and by extension what then is indigenous cognition The first question is rather easy to answer but the second is more difficult
