within African American literature's long and immensely fascinating history. Each piece provides substantial in-depth information much more than a typical encyclopedia entry while remaining accessible and appealing to general and younger readers. Arranged alphabetically, the entries cover such writers as Maya Angelou, James Baldwin, and August Wilson, major works such as Invisible Man, Native Son, and Their Eyes Were Watching God, and a range of cultural topics including the Black Arts Movement, the Harlem Renaissance, and the jazz aesthetic. Written by expert contributors, the essays discuss the enduring significance of these topics in American history and popular culture. Each entry also provides sidebars that highlight interesting information and suggestions for further reading.

The Oxford Encyclopedia of American Literature Jay Parini, 2004. The Encyclopedia of American Literature gathers together 350 essays from over 190 leading scholars on the whole of American literature from European discovery to the present. At the core of the Encyclopedia lie 250 essays on poets, playwrights, essayists, and novelists. Figures such as Whitman, Melville, Faulkner, Frost, and Morrison are discussed in detail, with each examined in the context of his or her times, an assessment of the writer's current reputation, a bibliography of major works, and a list of major critical and biographical works about the writer. Fifty entries on major works such as Moby-Dick, Song of Myself, Walden, The Great Gatsby, The Waste Land, Their Eyes Were Watching God, Death of a Salesman, and Beloved place the work in its historical context and offer a range of possibilities with regard to critical approach. The Encyclopedia also contains essays on literary movements, periods, and themes, pulling together a broad range of information and making connections between them. Each entry has its own primary and annotated secondary bibliography, and a system of cross-references helps readers locate information with ease. The Encyclopedia of American Literature is an outstanding reference source for students studying authors or particular pieces of literature, libraries looking for one comprehensive source, and readers interested in American literature, its authors, and its connection with various areas of study.

A Raisin in the Sun Lorraine Hansberry, 2002-12-31. Among our greatest dramatic works that also makes for great student reading.

Literature and Ethics in High School English Classes Ross Collin, 2024-11-14. This book offers a defence of ethical reading in secondary school English classes at a time when reformers and policy makers are trying to reorganize English language arts around technical skills or politics. Ross Collin shows how students and teachers use literature as a venue for exploring their own and others' ethical ideas and practices and argues that moral inquiry in English class is a distinctly social endeavour. The book draws ideas from English education and moral philosophy. From English education, Collin explores social reading or what Louise Rosenblatt named transaction, looking at texts commonly taught in secondary school English, including Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet and Jacqueline Woodson's Brown Girl Dreaming. From philosophy, he draws on arguments about moral vision and literature developed by Iris Murdoch, Martha Nussbaum, and Nora H. M. I. and develops ideas tacit in English education about reading with moral vision. He concludes by proposing a new theory of moral vision in transactional reading.

Edward

Albee and the Emergence of Difference and Diversity in US and World Theatre David A. Crespy, Les Gray, 2025-09-08

This collection of essays seeks to present articles that examine the early ventures of the 1960s and 1970s in the progressive theatre of identity with a new contemporary view considering the intersection of race gender ethnicity economic class and sexual orientation In 1964 Edward Albee and his producers Richard Barr and Clinton Wilder produced Funnyhouse of a Negro by Adrienne Kennedy and Dutchman by Amiri Baraka then Leroi Jones and by 1968 had produced the seminal gay drama The Boys in the Band by Mart Crowley No other major American playwright of this period including Thornton Wilder Arthur Miller Tennessee Williams or William Inge produced the plays of their junior colleagues with a specific focus on difference and diversity For most scholars these productions and Albee's involvement in them are a somewhat obscure footnote in theatre history But they remain important for their early support of diverse voices Even as Albee's career was skyrocketing he and his producers had begun a producing project that sowed the seeds of diversity equity and inclusion in a decidedly anti racist decolonizing and progressive move that still resonates powerfully today While this book is not a hagiography and does not intend to paint Albee as without his own critical failings in terms of diversity in his own work and that of others this volume of theatre history dramatic literature and performance essays takes a detailed critical approach to Albee's engagement with other initiating plays productions producers theatre companies theatre artists and performances in the United States that pushed the dial toward difference and diversity in the late 1950s through the late 1970s beginning the formations of new theatres of identity across the United States This volume will be of great interest to students and scholars in theatre and performance studies

Ethnic American Literature Emmanuel S.
